BAKEWELL - MAAS RITES PERFORMED SATURDAY NIGHT

The Evangelical Church of Farmington was the scene of a candle-light wedding on Saturday evening, April 19, when Olive Bakewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bakewell of Plymouth, became the bride of Herman Edwin Maas, son of Mrs. Emma Maas of Farmington.

Rev. Carl Schultz performed the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock before an altar decorated with palms and candelabra, and two large bouquets of white snapdragons and tulips.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and marquisette, made with a tight bodice and marquisette yoke, with long sleeves coming to a point over her hands. The full skirt of satin was fashioned with an overskirt of marquisette, which fell into a medium train. She wore a finger tip veil and carried white carnations and snapdragons, showered with satin ribbon.

Her maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dobrzt, of Port Huron, wore a floor length gown of pastel pink jersey, made with a tight bodice of corse, round neck line and cap sleeves. Long pink gloves, a shawl bouquet of pink carnations and white baby lily, and a band of baby pink carnations, completed her costume.

Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Blair, a classmate of the bride at Harper Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1945, and Miss Doris Maas, of Farmington, a sister of the groom. Miss Blair wore a dress of aqua silk jersey, with a gathered bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white baby lily, and a band of pink carnations. Miss Maas wore a gown of blue net over tulle, with long blue lace mitts. She also carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Best man was Robert Russell of Farmington, and sealing the guests were Lewis Maas, brother of the groom, Elton Bakewell, brother of the bride, Barney Sisson, brother-in-law of the groom, and Harry Rowland, an uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Ruth Hick Edmund played a 15-minute prelude of organ music. Miss Peggy Mathews, a student nurse at Harper Hospital, sang "Because" at the beginning of the ceremony, and closed with "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony a reception for two hundred guests was held in the church parlors.

Deodorize Refrigerator
A teaspoonful of dry mustard, added to soapy water, will deodorize porcelain enameled refrigerator interiors.

At the Exchange Club meeting on Wednesday, April 30, Clint Wilber presented James Welch, A.A.A. Old Traveler. He spoke to the Club from his background of having travelled one and a half million miles in the United States.

He pointed out many of the unforgettable people and places that he has discovered in the out of the way places of our country.

The men of the Club enjoyed his talk very much, and hope to have him with them again soon.

Lee Haldsted is in charge of the program for the meeting next week, and Rev. Fred Fisher will be the speaker.

Obituaries

James Champagne Sr.
Mr. James John Champagne Sr., of 21519 Jefferson Avenue, Farmington, passed away at the Postbit Hospital on Friday, April 25, at 4:30 a.m., following an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Champagne was born in Detroit on January 22, 1885, but for the past seventeen years the family have made their home in Farmington Township.

He is survived by his wife, Martha, and two sons, James Jr. and Edward, and one granddaughter, Donna Marie. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Lillian Moutard, Mrs. Julia Plecha and Mrs. Mily Deloeder, all of Detroit, and five brothers, Joseph, Charles and Wilbert of Detroit, Edward of Farmington and Arthur of Battle Creek. Funeral services were held from the Spencer J. Heeneey Funeral Home on Monday afternoon, April 28, at two o'clock, with burial in Grand Lawn Cemetery. Rev. A. Stanley Stone of the First Methodist Church officiated.

Camilla Estella Bunge
Mrs. Camilla E. Bunge died suddenly April 29 at her residence, 23452 Sans Souci. She was born March 8, 1903, at Coffeen, Illinois.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the Spencer J. Heeneey Funeral Home, with Rev. A. Stanley Stone of the Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be made at Grand Lawn Cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Bunge are her husband, Ralph G., a daughter, Phyllis Jean, and a son, Donald. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Anna Morley, and two sisters, Mrs. Orson Douglas and Mrs. Leslie Barkley, both of Detroit.

Robert Neal
Robert Neal, who had resided on Independence Avenue for the past 26 years, was found dead in his home last Monday. He was born September 22, 1889, in Ontario, Canada.

Mr. Neal is survived by one brother, from Florida, and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services were held at 3:15 Saturday from the Heeneey Funeral Home, with interment at Grand Lawn Cemetery. Rev. A. Stanley Stone officiated.

Golden Rule Circle
To Meet For Luncheon

The Golden Rule Circle of the Methodist Church will meet next Thursday afternoon, at one o'clock, for a pot luck luncheon and meeting. Members are urged to be present. The meeting will be held at the church.

Control Thick Batter
To control and properly direct the flow of thick batter such as for waffles and muffins, pour from a pitcher with a well greased spout.

LOCAL STUDENTS JUDGED HIGH IN COMPETITION

Two members of the Farmington High School Music Department, Charles Gronlund, 9th grader, and June Toth, 11th grader, participated in the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Association Festival in Ann Arbor on Friday, April 18.

The results of their work as soloists reached here by mail this week, and it was learned that Charles received a Superior rating in the Junior High Division, and June received an Excellent rating in the Senior High Division. Both ratings are considered to be outstanding as the judges rank all solo contents against a very high standard. Charles was especially commended for his stage appearance and attitude, while June was rated highly on her technique and command of the piano.

Results in the official festivals are as follows: I, Superior; II, Excellent; III, Good; IV, Fair and V, Poor.

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Farmington attended the Spring Conference of the 11th District last Wednesday evening at Rotunda Inn. Clubs represented at the meeting, besides Farmington, included Ferndale, Holly, Lapeer, Pontiac, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield and West Bloomfield.

Main speakers for the evening were Frank J. Dittus, Lt. Governor of Division No. 11, and Max Hamilton, Governor.

Next week the local club will observe Ladies Night, and the entire group will journey to the Trenton Plant of Detroit Edison Company, for dinner and the meeting.
