"One Deer" for Archers in 18 Counties

Act No. 326 of the 1947 session of the Legislature, effective October 11, permits archers to take a buck, doe or fawn October 11, permits archers to take a buck, doe or fawn October 11. November 5 this year in Alpena, Benzie, Crawford, Gogebic, Ionia, Iosco, Iron, Leelanu, Lunce, Mackinac, Montoniam, Montomorency, Newaygo, Ontonagon, Oscoda, Roscommon and Schoolcraft counties. Archers have been permitted to take a buck, doe or fawn in Allegan contury since 1911. October 1. November 5 archers may take bucks with threatnest and the state.

Southward extension of the boundary of the territory open to hunting for bucks with firearms opens an additional 3,000 square miles, including areas of crop damage by deer. The regular gun bunting season is November 15-30.

Applications for gun hunting of antierless deer December 1:0 in part of Allegan county are accepted by the conservation department's game division at Lansing through October 5, and 360 will be chosen from among the applicants, by lot. In most northern counties one bear per hunter may be taken during deer season, but in some counties where bear are not protected there is no closed season or bag limit. Conservation officers will advise on local bear hunting regulations.

The physician explained that one of the most helpful things about the 13,250,000 units of plasma collected by the Red Cross during the war was its universality of use. Prior to medical research of the past decade, he pointed out, war casualities needing blood had to be casualties needing ulood had to be Typed, a matching donor had to be found, and only then could the transfusion take place. Under the cooperative working of Army and Navy medical men, private researchers, commercial laboratories and the American Red Cross, plasma was developed, collected, and processed that could be immediately added to any kind of blood type and that could be stored almost indefinitely without spoilage.
