AWARDS GIVEN TO GROUP ATTAINING HIGH ATTENDANCE

Twenty seven members of Salem Sunday School who have completed perfect attendance records for five years of fifty Sundays each year were awarded attendance recognition pins by Rev. Carl H. Schultz in the Church Worship Service. Twenty two per cent of the enrollment of the School received perfect attendance awards which is one of the best records in Michigan Sunday Schools of less than 100.

Those receiving the awards are George Barrows, Betty Esch, Velma and Vera Esch, Emma, Louise, Sally and Mrs. Leo Giddens, Shirley Kahrl, Nancy and Sally Lutz, Hilda and Margaret Maas, Werner Mackl, Jon and Steven Schultz, Shirley and Kenneth Way, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Way, James Yuhl, Richard, Lee and Ernest Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Tyler. Those receiving Four Year perfect attendance awards are Vera Diech, Re-Ann Little and Margery Morris.

Trucks Spread Out

Automobile trucks move 98 per cent of all farm products from farms. Philadelphia gets 88 per cent of all its live poultry by truck. Forty-nine large cities get all their milk by truck. Chicago gets 57 per cent of its butter by truck. Trucks carry 58 per cent of all the beef in America. There are 514 military trucks on our highways and the annual gross revenue of the industry is two billion dollars.

HATS

Our hat is off to the Cadillac (Michigan) Evening News, which some time back ran this: "Liquor interests for some time have approached the Evening News with the request that they be permitted to buy considerable advertising space..." For over thirty years we have refused to accept one cent's worth of liquor, beer or wine money... In Ypsilanti, Coldwater and other, thousands of dollars of such money has been offered us. In publishing a family newspaper, we feel our obligation to the youth of the community. We will not personally suggest that a boy or girl take a drink, and neither will we through our advertising or news columns urge them to drink any liquor or have any part in encouraging the establishment of public houses on saloons on Cadillac's main street, where their influence could be felt on our youth. Other newspapers, please copy — if you have the courage!

Our hat is NOT off to the Milwaukee stores who in May advertised "Mother's Day special: Straight Bourbon whiskey at the bargain price of $3.58 a fifth." — From the Christian Herald. Paid for by local chapter of the W.C.T.U. — Adv.

PHILADELPHIA FOR DEMS IN 1948 MEETING

WASHINGTON, D. C. — SOUNDPHOTO — The Democratic National Committee chose Philadelphia as the party's 1948 convention city. The Quaker City became the unanimous choice for the 1948 convention when its representatives produced a $200,000 check and backers of San Francisco for the convention city decided not to present their offer. L. to R.: Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia, Pa.; Sen. Francis J. Myers, (D) of Pa.; Chairman Albert M. Greenfield of Philadelphia Citizens Committee; and Sen. J. Howard McGrath, (D) of R. I. Those who elected National Democratic Chairman succeeding Postmaster General Robert Hannegan.

MEADOWBROOK CLUB CELEBRATES FESTIVE OCCASION

Meadowbrook Country Club ended its 1947 social season last Saturday evening, November 1, with the club's annual Halloween party.

Yellow and black decorations of pumpkins and witches and cornstalks and autumn leaves transformed the club into the festivity, which was scheduled as a masquerade party with costumeing optional. Droll dress, plus gay music, dinner and dancing, combined to make the event a perfect Halloween festivity. Attending from Farmington were Mr. and Mrs. Con L. Metz, who were in threesome with LeRoy Peters. James C. Montgomery, of Northville, newly-elected president of Meadowbrook, chose an offbeat costume dress suit as his costume and Mrs. Montgomery wore a gypsy dress and carried a tambourine.

The Montgomerys were in a group with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hader, Jr., the C. L. Abney, the James Fletchers, the J. J. Lucals and the Perry Gasniers.

A Northville foursome included Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Couss and Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison, while with Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr. were the Paul Beards and the Donald Brays, of Northville, and the George W. McIntyre and the Elmer Shillingers, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Powers, of Northville, brought their week end house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hobbs, of Port Huron, and the C. P. Dineley, Thurston R. Jahr, in a Prince Albert coat and derby hat, and Mrs. Jahr, in an 1890 costume of wine-colored satin and velvet, were with the Fred Campbells and the Robert Lymans, of Dearborn, and the Walter Lymans, of Pittsburg.

Others noted with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maskell were Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Akroyd, the Robert Overmans, the Clifford Beveridges and Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Hulse.

MRS. McCULLOUGH HONORED AT W.C.T.U. MEETING

The Farmington Woman's Christian Temperance Union met Tuesday, October 23, at the home of Mrs. Anna Heichman on Woodring. Mrs. Katherine Shaw, the new president, called the meeting to order and at this time both she and Mrs. Elsie McCullough, the retiring president, were presented corsages.

Mrs. James Windell led the devotionals. Following the business meeting the Union was entertained by a choral reading, "John W. Jones," given by Gary and Larry Evans.

Miss Wilma Hood of Detroit was guest speaker and brought a splendid message. She talked on "Keys" and later favored the group with a piano solo. These numbers were greatly enjoyed.

Just before the adjournment, Mrs. Margaret Lancaster, in behalf of the members of the Farmington Union, told of their deep appreciation of the twelve years of splendid service given by Mrs. Elsie McCullough, as president of the W.C.T.U., and, voicing the Union, Mrs. Belle Williams presented the retiring president with a beautiful English tea service, adorned with gold leaf. A corresponding vase was sent to Mr. William McCullough, an honorary member of the Union, in appreciation of his many kindnesses.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social half hour followed.

Those who attended the annual 17th District W.C.T.U. Convention held in Cavalry Methodist Church in Redford, October 22, were Mrs. Martha Warner, Mrs. Belle Williams, Mrs. Margaret Barr, Mrs. Minnie Windell, Mrs. Dorothy Williams and Mrs. Elsie McCullough.
