Adage Runs True To Form

The saying "If wishes were horses, beggars would ride" might apply to the fact that the long awaited bus for the Noble School District will be here early in December. The New International will provide comfortable riding for a maximum of 69 passengers.

Mrs. Marvin Addie and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Block, were midweek visitors in Detroit.

THE BLUE AND WHITESTUDENT GROUP PASSES COURT CONSTITUTION

So that students may participate in certain disciplinary measures in the school the Student Council is organizing a student court. A committee consisting of Mario Hunt, Callie Martindale, Alice Miller and Walter Martindale has worked out a constitution for it.

The judge would be the vice president of the Student Council and a recorder would be appointed by him. Student Council members would act as policemen. Members of the jury, who must maintain a "C" average, would be apportioned as follows: three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, two freshmen, one eighth and one seventh grader. The term for the jury would be one semester. Sessions of the court would take place every two weeks after school hours. Council representatives have reported to the classes on this constitution and discussed it with them. Following Council approval of suggested changes, the entire student body will vote on it through government, history and English classes. In order to be passed, a two-thirds vote is necessary.

Pin Kings Lead Falcon League

The Farmington boys' bowling league, meeting for the seventh time this year, found the Pin Kings and Lucky Strikers battling for first place. By winning four points, the Pin Kings jumped to a comfortable seven-point lead. High single game for the night was Joe Lapinski's 290.

Sponsored by the Farmington school under the supervision of Mr. Tarmo Maattala, the league was formed to provide athletic activity for boys not out for other sports. Officers of the league are Ira Carley, president; Jim Byrne, secretary; and Leonard Desmalk, treasurer.

Inter-Lakes Council To Hold Jamboree

Keego Harbor was the host for the annual meeting of the Inter-Lakes Council, an inter-school student council made up of Northville, Keego Harbor, Milford, Walled Lake and Farmington for the purpose of promoting better relations among the schools. They made plans for this council last year.

At this, the second meeting of the year, the council planned to hold an Inter-Lakes Jamboree on February 22, 1948. Since Farmington has the largest gymnasium, the Jamboree will be held with an orchestra and refreshments.

Because Holly is a prospective member of the 1948-49 sports league, they will attend the next meeting of the council, which is at Northville.

Shop Projects Are Completed

In the advanced shop classes the boys have been working on projects such as the Lost and Found Box, now placed in the Principal's office. Alvin Lind, Bill Long and O'Connor are responsible for this piece of work. Lawrence Scott and LaVerne Wadenstorer have made a book rack for a room in the new building. To make it blend with the color scheme, the fellows painted it to match the walls. Orders for more racks are on hand.

Under Mr. Snell's direction Tom Quisenberry, Lawrence Scott, Tom O'Keefe, Don Layland, Bob Lueder, Junior Nichols, and Pat Farrell worked on Senior Play scenery for several weeks.

Working now in wood and at times in metal, Mr. Snell hopes to be able to secure machines for practical lessons in operations.

Senior Gift Fund Is Being Utilized

The $237 left to the school is being put to use.

As the traditional gift of the graduating class, last year's departing seniors presented the school with a fund of $237, to be used in the discretion of the faculty for any purpose they thought would benefit the school.

The faculty has chosen to use this fund to buy a noleuse type writer for use by the staffs of various student publications and by the teachers themselves.

After this is done, the remaining money will be used to buy literary readings and educational records in Spanish, and other similar types of records for classroom work.

Three Representatives Attend Press Meet

Among the delegates from 143 metropolitan high schools who attended the 12th Annual Wayne University Press Conference at the Rackham Memorial Building on Thursday, December 4, were Peggy Labadie, assistant editor of the Blue and White, and two regular reporters, Mary Pagenkopf and June Toth.

Following registration for the all-day sessions, the Wayne University Band opened the program with a concert of marches, overtures, and seasonal music.

Immediately afterwards, a panel discussion analyzing "The High School Press as Held" by education advisors and students from Detroit schools made up the forum.

Guest speaker at the noon luncheon was John Manning, manager of the Detroit Times.

From there the group trooped up to the auditorium for a movie on magazine publication.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to discussion meetings of yearbooks and newspapers and in viewing slides.

At 5 p.m. a reception was held at Webster Hall, where delegates gathered for refreshments and friendly chatter.

HERE AND THERE WITH ALUMNI OF F.H.S.

Beginning today, the alumni grapevine will be plucked of its fruits, five being presented in this space weekly. Well, here goes.

We understand that Wheeler got in on the United Nations Conference at Lake Success, New York. He is now a freshman at Osgood College, near Philadelphia.

Burke Martin sure travels around! He is at present a corporal in the Army Air Force, training at Chanute Field, Illinois. He is now bucking for a spot on the staff of their field paper "Wings".

We hear that Elliot Tyler, now a corporal in the Marines at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, made the Division 10 basketball team. And that ain't hay... because so far they have won all of their games by large margins.

All Farmingtonites living at Stockwell Hall, U. of M., are working together on the "Stockwell Ticker", the dormitory paper; Marguerite Wedo, apparently editor; (she didn't make that clear in her last letter); Marge Fisher, typist; Nancy Robertson, stapler; and Janet Robertson, reporter.

While home for Thanksgiving, Bill Chocketta, after admiring the beautiful snow, decided to get in a little winter sports, joined a ski club, and is buying himself a complete ski outfit. There is only one catch, though - he's never been on a pair of skis in his life. Must be that life's getting dull, since he has had to store his speedboat away for the winter.

Debating Squad Is Deep In Activity

Resolved: That the Federal Government should require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic American industries. That statement has been the basis for much earnest discussion for members of the Debate Club.

In the first league debate, at Clarensville, Homer Cartee and Fran Hough upheld the measure, winning the judge's decision. Betty Prior and Marilyn Jones defended the affirmative side, but missed being victors by a narrow margin.

The second league debate, with the Lincoln-Van Dyke debaters, was held last Tuesday at Farmington High. Mary Weaver and Homer Cartee as the negative team, and Marilyn Jones and Betty Prior as the affirmative team lost to Patricia Kinch, Delores Jones, Jenny Ray and Violetta Vick.

Awards Given Senior Girls

For displaying remarkable speed, four Senior girls received Gregg Awards in Shorthand II. They are: Elsie Brakke, Louise Brown, Romanya Stanek and Marge T.D.G.

Bake Sale To Bring Pennies For Annual

The seniors are sponsoring a bake sale to help finance the annual Yearbook. This project is to be held on December 20, at the Grimes Cleaners, starting at 9 a.m. and running as long as the bake goods last.

The committee in charge of the sale consists of Phyllis Bunge and Doris Greshkowsky. They have been soliciting among the seniors, urging them to bring whatever they possibly can.

Cookies, cakes, etc., are to be made at home by the seniors, or if that is impossible, they may bring ingredients to the school, where cookies will be made in the cafeteria by any senior girls interested.
