

MRS. ELLA KACY HONORED FOR HOSPITAL WORK

Mrs. Ella Kacy, hospital chairman of the Auxiliary of Farmington Post 4033, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been placed on the Department Honor Roll for her outstanding hospital work. This announcement was made by Mrs. Isabelle Menke, home chairman of hospitals for the V.F.W. Auxiliary. Mrs. Kacy is a very busy person, but she is never too busy to visit and share some happiness with our deserving servicemen in our local hospitals. She has treated her quota, as hospital chairman, for this past year. Mrs. Kacy is the Junior Past President of the V.F.W. Auxiliary here in Farmington.

WASHINGTON DIGEST . . .

(Continued from Page Two) portant matter of how to fish for a lower cost of living, which is what I am really supposed to be talking about. Ever do surt fishing for blues? Great stuff. You stand out there on the shore, with the waves breaking around you, and cast. The last time I tried it, I went right down into the undertow. Well, you use a pretty stout rod for that ordinarily, but a gentleman who has a story in the forthcoming issue of Field and Stream is going to tell a regular Ripley. He was sur-fishing here at Ocean City, Md., and neither he nor the rest of the group was getting much. So he shifted to a light casting rod and line, and pulled them in three to one.

Well, back to my filets—we ought to eat more fish. The department of agriculture and the fish and wildlife service of the department of the interior are trying to do something about it. As you know, there is a federally-subsidized school lunch program which provides a fund for food for school children.

The departments are sending folks out to show the school cooks how to prepare fish, and they are doing a very sensible thing: They are trying to get the schools to teach the pupils something about the fish they are eating—their life habits and general characteristics.

You know, out in the Midwest where I was brought up nobody knew much about fish. When they bought fish, they just bought fish. They didn't know the difference between a bluegill and a yellowfish. Along the Great Lakes where I lived later, we knew more. Whitefish were good. So are whittings, an ocean fish, no relation.

Another thing that the department of agriculture is trying to do through its home economics branch is to teach people how to cook fish. Most people think all fish ought to be fried. They don't know how good a sautéed or baked fish is. The French can cook fish with sauce so that it is a delicacy. The fish and wildlife people are doing a similar job.

Meat is going up. We have a lot of commercial fishermen whose living depends on how well you like fish, and how well the fish bite or get netted. You can benefit and so can they, if you learn to appreciate this kind of healthy, nourishing, and if properly prepared, delicious food.

I'll be glad to help you: National Fisheries Institute, an association which is interested in all phases of the fishing industry—its members include everybody from the fisherman to the dealer has a pamphlet entitled "Fish and Shellfish Cookery", which I'll be glad to send you

The members of the Parents Club met at the home of Mrs. William Leach of Eight Mile Road for their monthly meeting of March.

Mrs. Sam Pink, chairman of our district, with the help of Mrs. DeVill and Mrs. Ryall, are busy engaged in the Red Cross Roll Call. Mrs. Pink would welcome more volunteers to assist in the annual drive. Please call Farmington 1259 if you will help.

Mrs. Emma Abbott, mother of Mrs. Harry Christmas of Independence, was honored by Mrs. Samuel Pink on Tuesday, when Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Canfield, Mrs. Ryall and Mrs. Harley Speller met for luncheon and a social afternoon at the Pink home on Independence. Mrs. Abbott, who has been making her home with the Harry Bradleys of here since December, is sailing back to England on March 16. Mrs. Abbott's home and all her belongings were destroyed in the Blitz.

The Clarenceville group of the Wayne County Home Economic Extension Service will meet at the home of Mrs. Pierce Van Camp on Brookside on March 17, 1948, for a (fill-in) lesson and exchange of neoliterat ideas, particularly in relation to hemstitching, among the members.

The First Aid Group of Scouts of CL 2 has been asked by Detroit Headquarters, American Red Cross to put on their disaster demonstration at a gathering of Scouts Scouts and parents at Van Buren Hall.

This group is being continually asked to show their talents away from home, even as far as next October when they again go before the Detroit Board of The American Red Cross, but as yet they have never been asked to give a demonstration at home.

The Edgewood Mothers Club met if you'll write me, care of this newspaper.

Although valentine sales this year hit a record high, the marriage rate which usually follows the rate of purchases of heart-and-flowers missives has fallen off, say greeting card publishers. Youth is becoming wise and not so glibly fooled. In other words, this year, they take a new look before they take the old leap.

Now you can get a heat-free bulb that glows through ivory or brown switches that saves fumbling in the dark. Now if they'll get illuminated chairs for the stumblers until they can get to the switches.

Clothespins soaked in soapsuds and dried out thoroughly without rinsing will never freeze, says the Hagerstown Almanack. I wonder if that treatment would work on fingers that use the clothespins.

Microscopic traces of arsenic lurking in food can be detected by a new laboratory technique according to American Chemical society. It takes a microscope to find the food in some of the portions served by the restaurants today.

wasn't able to line up games with schools in this district because of the fact that we have no gymnasium, and the schools wish to play only with those who can guarantee return games.

This family's Don of the basketball team, arose Sunday morning saying, "Boy, we sure trounced Northville in that dream I had last night." These young boys have dream basketball. Mrs. Height of Dresden planned and executed a little reception, with refreshments, at the high school for Coach Samuels and his team after the games on Saturday evening. Several of the ladies helped, and it was very much appreciated.

Mrs. Edgerton's troop of Intermediate Scouts entertained their mothers on Wednesday after their Court of Awards, and presentation of their new flag by Mrs. Falkner of the Edgewood Mothers Club.

Mrs. M. J. Belser entertained the group of faculty wives who met socially twice each month during the winter season. Harry Stolker of Michigan State was home for the week end and attended Saturday's game.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh How to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swanson's neighbor, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life... and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement. Some folks might have tried to stop him, but not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip... figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town bustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent some one from getting what he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!
