

How Long is Furlong?
The racing term "furlong" (one-eighth of a mile) originally meant "turf-long." The furlong represented the distance which oxen could conveniently plow at a stretch, and over which the plowman could keep a fairly straight line. This measurement was used by the primitive Celtic tribes of Britain, who divided their fields into strips, each a furlong in length, and allotted five strips to each free tribesman.

Big Pile of Eggs
Farm flocks in the nation laid 8,883,000,000 eggs in September. This was three per cent more than in September last year and 21 per cent more than the 1939-40 average. Egg production per layer in September was 10.7 eggs compared with an average of 9.7 eggs.

West Recognized Women
In the West, where the pioneer woman fought against hostile nature and the Indians as valiantly as any man, women first were granted the right to vote. The territory of Wyoming granted women the ballot in 1890, similar rights being granted by the territory of Utah in 1870.

government from the President down.
It provides direct citizen-to-citizen aid which is administered carefully with experienced personnel on the scene—personnel which cuts red tape and is free from many of the rules, regulations and restrictions which a government necessarily must employ. As a matter of fact, when the European recovery plan was first drawn up, it was contemplated that voluntary private aid would supplement it.
As an example of the type of thing Crusade for Children is designed to further: In Europe at present, there are some 50,000 disinheriting points such as schools, child clinics and hospitals serviced by the International Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations.
At schools and child centers, particularly through dried milk, ICEF makes a supplementary contribution to the noon meal, which costs the fund about three and a half cents per child. The entire meal costs the average European child one hundred dollars provides 7,500 hungry, undernourished children one glass of milk each at every meal. But because of limited funds, ICEF is providing only four million of Europe's 30 million hungry children.
Here are some of the sickening facts, carefully collected and checked by United Nations authorities:
Infant mortality in Europe and Asia has jumped from 40 deaths per 1000 live births to as high as 100 deaths per 1000 live births with the United States rate of 38.3 per 1000.
Tuberculosis has doubled in many areas, especially among children. Lack of food has vastly increased such diseases as rickets, scurvy and pellagra.

Physical examinations in one zone (of Europe) showed that boys 14 years of age are three inches shorter than boys of the same age four years ago. This is the direct result of malnutrition.
In some areas half the physicians were killed; teachers, nurses and those trained in child care are lacking.
I have sat in the office of a German physician—one room left livable in a bombed house, windows boarded up to replace the smashed glass, operating room, consultation office, bedroom, living room, all together with an endless line of patients with nothing to pay for the doctor's services which would buy anything for the doctor. That doctor told me that because of the hopeless fate of children, abortions were the rule rather than the exception, with sickness and death as the result.
Not the government, but private, voluntary agencies can alleviate these conditions. One may feel that Europe has brought much of its anguish upon itself, but it is not the children who are to blame.
As Secretary of State Marshall said: "Voluntary aid supplements the general relief which only governments can provide. It affords the things and services, including spiritual comfort, needed by the weakest of the war victims . . ."
Secretary of State Marshall has warned South American countries that there will be no Marshall Plan for them. It appears that they either must go out and obtain private financing or work up a good Communist throat to share in Uncle Sam's largesse.

TIPS FOR DAD
When father lends a hand with baby care, bathing baby is likely to be the assignment he may draw. And a tip or two on making baby comfortable can make this particular chore a pleasant one for papa, and for his Majesty, too. First of all, be sure to arrange your cherub's clean clothes, his special baby lotion, soap, cotton, towels and wash cloth in easy-reach so you can dispose of the bath ritual efficiently. When you remove him from the bath, wrap baby in a big, soft bath towel and pat him completely dry. Then apply special baby lotion thoroughly all over his body. Be sure to give strict attention to all the tiny folds and creases. Lotion will help prevent uncomfortable chafes, because it contains mineral oil and lanolin with an antiseptic ingredient added for extra protection. It will both cleanse and lubricate the skin.
