YOU'RE IT!!

This week we wanna be just a little funny — but mostly serious. Now its like this — the beef market hasn't really dropped, but along about this time every year range fed cattle come onto the market. As a general rule we use this only for our hamburger, but some folks have been going way down Grand River because cheaper beef is advertised. Now there's no sense in doing that when you can git the same thing right here. We'll start cutting our beef right at the horns (they aint even good fer zoop) and cut straight thru to the tail and you can have anything you want for 59c a lb. Now you know that includes steaks, roasts and hamburg. That's somethin', aint it? So much so that we wanna repeat it — steaks — roasts — and hamburg fer 59c a lb. That's not all — we've got a few boxes of pork loins that we put in our locker before the market went out of sight. Dont let anyone kid you that the pork market has dropped cause it aint — but you can git pork loins, rib end this week only (there wont be any left fer next week) for 49c a lb. The loin ends are gonna be 59c a lb. and the center cut chops are 69c a lb. Now the market price on loins wholesale this week at the time we wrote this ad was 73c a lb. Better come early and avoid the rush. Chances are the service wont be too good cause we're short of help — the newlyweds (Jerry and Idale) are on a honeymoon. Just one more thing — you're it — and if you want quality beef we have it for you. Here's a hint — there's still some lockers available. there's still some lockers available.

Honestly — we dunno what to advertise on the grocery side. Its the same old stuff all the time — even unto the help — so its just like "old home week" when you come in real often like. It's kind-da fun, tho — we like to know you and have you know us. It's Nels and Carl on the meat counter — Harrison at the grinder — and Bill and Ruth peddling groceries — and His Nibs, Trace — to pay the bills and keep everybody happy — and what's your name?
