Ending Nuisances Is Good Business

By forming a company to do away with "litter" little annoyances, two Mid-Western chemical engineers have demonstrated that under individual enterprise, an idea, a little money, and courage to risk it may start a profitable business, creating new jobs and supplying new products.

Helped by a banker friend Engineers Clarence Backer and John Sutherland formed a company to eliminate nuisances that nobody had been doing anything about. They determined that when they saw a market for a nuisance-remover, they would supply it.

GLASS-POGGING PROBLEM
Their first project was to find something to keep their windows from fogging. On their 14th try, the engineers found it. They said 150,000 tubes of their product last year for use on automobile windshields, house windows, and eyeglasses. They made enough profit to justify staying in business.

Next the partners set to work to find hair dressing that wouldn't stain bathbaths, pillows, and chairs. They found what they considered a suitable formula, and intend to market it soon.

AUTOMOBILE CLEANER
Their next project is something to remove the bodies of insects that get crushed under automobile bodies. Ordinary methods don't do the job readily. If a new cleaner can be manufactured with enough profit to justify it, then they'll hunt for still another nuisance remedy.

The so-called "Mio" district — Alcona, Isosco, Ogemaw, Crawford, Oscoda and Roscommon counties — attracted approximately 24,000 deer hunters during the 1947 season, or nearly as many as ordinarily hunt in the whole of the upper peninsula.

Veneered furniture may be good or bad. Veneers applied under great pressure may be stronger than solid wood. Cheap veneers cut to give flashy, showy patterns often chip, warp and crack.

Rural Tele-news

SPARE THAT TREE!—Graduate foresters at Michigan Bell are in charge of trained crews that trim trees and control brush which might menace telephone lines. They work with utmost care to preserve the beauty of trees and landscape. Thus far this year, tree trimming and brush control have involved 450,000 man-hours.

"BLIFFY SNIFFER"—That's the nickname for a sort of "electrical bloodhound" used by telephone men. When work needs to be done on a certain pair of wires in a cable, an electric tone is placed on those wires at the central office. Out on the cable, the "Bliffy Sniffer," a pencil-like instrument, quickly picks out the wires by detecting the tone they carry.

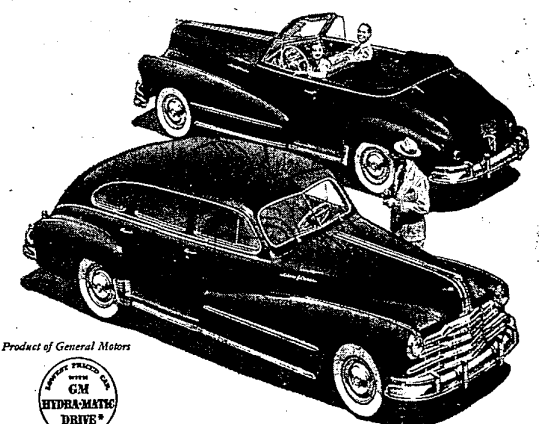

GOOD NEIGHBORS—Everyone has good rural-line service when everyone helps make it so. This means spacing out calls, not interrupting when others are talking, giving up the line when a rural-line neighbor has an emergency call to make, and always making sure the receiver is in place when not being used.

Our $13,000,000 postwar rural construction program means more and better rural telephone service.

PONTIAC

Even Better than it Looks!

When we tell you that a Pontiac is even better than it looks, we realize that we are making a strong statement about Pontiac quality.

But here is an automobile so thoroughly good that there is no practical limit to its usefulness, if it is given the proper kind of care.

Here is a car so good that even its second and third owners pay it the highest compliments.

Here is a car so good that its dependability lasts on and on while the miles and months roll by.

Here is a car so good that owners say they prefer its performance to that of any car they have ever driven.

And here is a car so good that its price on a used car lot is often far higher than the price of cars which cost far more when new.

In short, here is a car so good that it would make you very, very happy—on every count!

Please remember this when you order your next car—and order a Pontiac... the car that is always good, and always getting better.
