CHRISTMAS STORY GIVEN BY BAPTIST SCHOOL

The annual Christmas program put on by the Sunday School at Farmington's First Baptist Church was enjoyed by all. The first part of the program was filled by the younger departments giving their songs and recitations. Miss Betty Gill beautifully played Addams' "Theme from Warsaw Concerto". The main feature of the evening was the pantomime of Alden's "Why the Chimes Rang" by David Seitz as Pedro and David Farmer as Little Brother. A stone church was constructed on the platform of the church with trailing ivy on the tower and stained glass windows with special lighting for an attractive background to the story. Other members of the Sunday School played the other parts in which all were endeavoring to outdo one another in giving costly gifts in order to make the chimes ring. But even the gift of a king's crown could not do what Little Brother's gift of a small coin did... given in love and in wonder at the beauties of the church, the coin made the Chimes ring.

As a fitting close to the program, those present brought their White Gifts and laid them at the front, gifts brought every year for the Baptist Children's Home in Detroit.
