

Club Will Entertain 400 Kids

Some 400 children in the Plymouth State Home and Training School will be entertained from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 14, at a program presented by the Western Suburban Junior Women's Club.

Members of the club will appear in "Raggedy Ann and Andy Go to the Fair." Crafts made by the children will be used as props in the play.

Terry Kiernan of Nankin Mills High School will entertain with magic tricks and Tim Hazel and Brush Creek have donated their time to present folk songs for the children.

Mrs. Paul King and Mrs. Benton Lindamood are authors of the play, which has the message, "Anyone can fall flat on his face and still come up a winner."

MRS. FRANK ELLIOT MOORE JR.
(Anita Lynn Camron)

Baptist Church Scene Of Rites

First Baptist Church of Plymouth was the setting for the Feb. 16 wedding of Anita Lynn Camron and Frank Elliot Moore Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Camron and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Moore Sr., both of Knollon Avenue in Livonia.

The Rev. Paul S. Thompson officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

She wore a white satin gown with mandarin neckline, bishop sleeves and re-embroidered alencon lace trim. Lace also trimmed her headpiece and cathedral veil, and she carried white roses with baby's breath and ivy.

Anne Shaffer of Livonia, maid of honor, wore a ruby red velvet dress and carried ruby roses, pink carnations and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids, Sandy Miller of Romulus and Mrs. William Pryor of Port Wayne, sister of the bridegroom, also wore red velvet dresses. Their flowers were pink carnations and baby's breath.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Mark Lutz of St. Johns, Mich., as best man, and Robert Camron and Robert Moore, brothers of the bridegroom, as ushers.

Mrs. Camron wore a long blue velvet gown of her own design, and Mrs. Moore wore a floor-length gown of pink satin with chiffon sleeves.
