DISCUSSION GROUP JANUARY MEETING AT SCHMID HOME

The West Farmington Farm Bureau discussion group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmid, of Halsted Road, at 8 p.m. on Thursday, January 13. Attendance numbered 27.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Dunckel, superintendent of Farmington schools, and Mr. Fred Gettelles of the agricultural agents' office. The meeting was called to order by President Ray Howard. Discussion was led by Mr. Schmid and Mr. Dunckel reported on the present school situation.

New business included a report on CROP activities, with Wendell Green as chairman. Mr. Gettelles showed films of war devastated Europe.

The newly undertaken membership drive was discussed and additional workers to assist were secured. Part of the business meeting was devoted to voting Mrs. Harry McCracken as chairman of the flower committee. Other reports were read and approved.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Howard on Halsted and Howard Roads. Plans to add a male member to the hostess committee were carried out with the choice of Lyman Bush to serve with Mrs. Paul Butten, Mrs. H. N. McCracken and Mrs. R. E. Dunbar.

Refreshments were served after adjournment.

Regardless of SIZE—

Why

the size of the coal you use has nothing to do with the quality and quantity of the heat it produces...

THE elaborately efficient system of mining, preparing, screening, washing and transporting coal from deep in the earth to the interior of your heating plant produces many different sizes of coal. When your coal retailer suggests a certain size for your use, keep this in mind:

From the near-microscopic slack size to the gleaming lump as big as a pumpkin, coal's unrivalled high-heat content is always present. There is no more relative heat in the stove size, for example, than in the nut size; and a preference for one size or the other is largely just that... a personal preference.

In home heating, the selection of a size to correspond with grate openings is overemphasized in importance; because once the fire is built, the firebed provides secure support for any size of coal. And even when building the fire, the kindling and paper accomplish a similar purpose, in stoker as well as in furnace.

The wide variation of coal sizes available today may be credited to the same powerful force that keeps the price of coal in America far below that in England, the Ruhr and other great coal-producing regions; namely, mechanization.

Today, more than 90% of all bituminous coal is mechanically mined. But though this and many other revolutionary improvements have brought vast changes since mining was done by broad backs and bulging muscles, in one thing there has been no change: the almost incredible amount of heat contained in the coal itself... regardless of size.

You can be guided confidently at any time by the counsel of your coal retailer as to the size usable in your furnace or stoker.

* Also call your local coal retailer for 24-hour emergency service for your furnace or stoker. If he has no facilities call the night, Sunday and holiday number: CHERRY 4331.

Here's how YOU can win the Gold Bars of an Army Officer.

TWO NEW WAYS TO JOIN THE RANKS OF AMERICA'S YOUNG LEADERS

DIRECT COMMISSION

A commission as second lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps with a 2-year initial tour of active duty is ready for you if you meet these requirements: one year of honorable service in any of the Armed Forces between 7 December 1941 and 30 June 1947; have completed two years at an accredited college or university; U. S. citizenship; AGCT score of 110 or better; not more than 32 years old; physically fit. Once commissioned, you'll be assigned to a 3-month officers' training school, and, on successful completion, you'll be free to compete for a Regular Army Commission. If you meet the competitive tour age requirements Go to your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station for complete details at once.

OCS FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

If you've graduated from high school or can pass an equivalent examination, are between 19 and 28 years old, are a U. S. citizen, and have necessary physical qualifications, apply now for enlistment for Army OCS. After your application is approved, you'll be enlisted as a Sergeant and given basic training. If you have not had it already, then sent direct to Officer Candidate School, subject to quotas, of course. Upon graduation, you'll be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Reserve, and placed on two years of active duty. Top OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army—all others may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Get all the facts about applying for OCS entrance at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station without delay!
