

When Names Are Coined

Israeli or Israelite could as well be called an Israelite, in the manner of the Brazilian, Egyptian or Babylonian. He could be an Israelite, following the form for the man from China, Japan, Spain or Portugal. Taking a leaf from the book of the New Yorker, the Asiatic, the Frenchman, or the Nazarene, he could be, respectively, an Israelite, an Israelite, Israelite, or Israelite, notes the National Geographic society.

Legume Value

Good legumes such as alfalfa or sweet clover improve soils in a number of ways. Their action in fixing atmospheric nitrogen is well known. A less publicized but equally important function of legumes is their effect on the tilth of soils. Legumes increase the granulation of soils, thereby reducing their susceptibility to erosion, increasing their moisture capacity, improving aeration, and allowing better drainage.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We Both Won This One

I knew my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

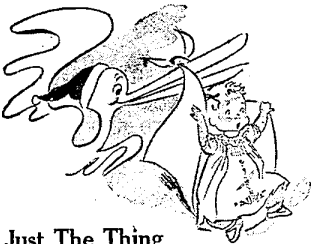

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice?" I holler. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons?" That took the wind out of me.

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

Obituary

Rue Van Every
Rue Van Every, 72, of 22055 Ten and a Half Mile Road, died January 11, 1949, at Harper Hospital in Detroit. He was born August 16, 1876, at Franklin, Michigan.

Surviving the deceased are his wife, Lillie, two daughters, Mrs. Helen Evans of Cheboygan, Michigan, and Mrs. Dorothy King of Detroit, two sons, Malcolm of Farmington and Charles of Detroit, and seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He also leaves one brother, Fred, of Franklin, and a sister, Mrs. Nathan Eisenlord, of Farmington.

Funeral services were held at the Spencer Heene Funeral Home on Saturday at 2 p.m., with the Rev. A. W. Born, of Holy Cross Lutheran Church of Detroit, officiating. Interment was held at Southfield Cemetery. Because the deceased was a World War I veteran, the American Legion furnished honorary pall bearers.

LEGION AUXILIARY INSTRUCTION MEET IS WELL ATTENDED

A school of instruction was held by the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Home, on Grand River, Saturday, January 15. There were 25 auxiliary members present, with 113 in attendance.

The instruction school was given by the District President, Thelma Kramer.

The attending members found the instruction not only interesting but of definite value. Each chairman was specifically instructed in the particular work of her division, enabling her to carry out successfully her obligations of office. Radio and newspaper publicity were especially stressed to get before the public what the American Legion Auxiliary and Post are doing for veterans in the hospitals. The public has been advised to listen to stations WEXL of Royal Oak and WCAR of Pontiac for five and fifteen minute spot announcements on keeping the public informed of the Auxiliary activities. As in the past, poppies will be stressed, since all the monies received in the sale of poppies is used for rehabilitation work among the veterans.

Mrs. Lyman Bush will entertain a group of ladies at a blind craft demonstration at her home on Hagerty Road on Thursday evening, January 20.

Eastern Star Chapter To Hold Initiation

Farmington Chapter No. 239, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting for the initiation ceremony to be held on Tuesday evening of January 25, at 8 p.m. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the meeting.

Don't forget the bake sale to be held Saturday, January 22 at 9:30 a.m. at the Hutton Hardware store in Farmington and a social hour will follow the meeting.

Everyone's patronage will be appreciated.

Eva Lawason is chairman of the Clarencville sale and Marion Nelson chairman of the Farmington sale.
