A 6 lb. 11 oz. baby girl, Sharon Susan, was born Tuesday, February 22, to Mrs. Marjette Williams, 226 Shadyale Avenue. Mother and daughter are expected home from Sessions Hospital, Northville, about Wednesday of this week.

Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. M. E. Ault accompanied her sister, Mrs. John Ackerman, of Dearborn, to Veterans' Hospital, where they visited with Mr. Ackerman, who was a patient for the week at the institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hardy and their youngest son, from Wayne, were the Friday evening guests of Mr. Hardy's mother, Mrs. Walter Rehahn. Mrs. Rehahn, who has been seriously ill for two weeks, is now somewhat improved.

Barbara, second daughter of Mrs. Viola Williamson, Mayfield Avenue, is ill with rheumatic fever. Austin Ault, who was ill in bed most of the week, is feeling somewhat better.

Mrs. Norman Doss, who for a long time has been bedfast with arthritis at her home on Farmington Road, is undergoing a new form of treatment, which, it is hoped, will relieve her condition considerably. Visitors can do much to vary the monotony of things for her. Mrs. Ralph Bidwell spent last Wednesday afternoon there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aittama were visitors in Detroit Thursday.

Mrs. Marvin Addis and Mrs. Herman Schult were visiting in Sessions Hospital in Northville on last Thursday evening.

Mrs. M. E. Ault, Mrs. Clinton Ault, Mrs. Forrest Ault, Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. George Miner were all over on Clarita Avenue Thursday evening attending a very pleasant plastic demonstration party, held at the home of Mrs. Edwin L. Johnson. A delightful lunch was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Lewis came home with an attractive prize won in one of the contests.

Mrs. Ernest Taiman was hostess to a most enjoyable "Blind-Craft" demonstration party at her home on Mayfield Avenue last Thursday afternoon. About twelve ladies met for the occasion. Several amusing contests broke the ice at the beginning and interesting little prizes were awarded Mrs. Taiman, Fred Ault and Mrs. Robertson. A large line of beautiful articles, hand-made by blind persons, was on display. After the demonstrator had finished her work, light refreshments were served the guests.

Rudy Aittama, from Detroit, was special caller at the home of his brother, John Aittama.

Mrs. Robert Diehle was calling in Northville Tuesday afternoon. Richard, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kauranen, was ill all last week.

Mrs. Charles Funk has returned home from Providence Hospital, where she underwent a serious operation last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and son, Arthur, of Eight Mile Road, are said to be just now spending some time in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kellogg gave a little dinner party last Monday evening. Guests were, for the most part, friends in educational circles. Mr. Kellogg is principal of Pierson School.

Weather conditions interfered somewhat with the attendance, but those who listened to Miss Esther Middleton's talk on "The Health of Children", given at the Pierson School P.T.A. Thursday night, say her address was truly wonderful. Miss Middleton is a West Point Park girl who has made good in her chosen career and may climb the ladder of success still higher.

There was no school Friday and, with skating and sledding ruled out from the lack of ice and snow, boys and girls enjoyed a long week end that was really an early spring vacation.

The twelve ladies of the Tuesday night Tailoring class report many thrills of achievement as they study and work together.

The Women's Sewing Group, which met at the home of Mrs. Stewart, on Hubbard Avenue, Wednesday the 16th, is meeting at the Dale Tallman residence on Mayfield Avenue this week, March 2.

Miss Ellen Lewis, Hubbard Avenue, is convalescing from tonsillitis. Tom and Lora Anne Roberts, with their daughter, Beth Anne, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. Emerson Ault.

The community is saddened by the arrival home of the body of Lt. Don Coolman, who was killed in a crash over Italy during the war. It has been decided to hold services in the Farmington Methodist Church Thursday.

Mrs. Louis Graham, Mayfield Avenue, entertained Saturday night, having a happy get-together of friends from in and around Detroit who had once been her neighbors when she lived near Rose City, Michigan. A good-sized group was in attendance. There was much reminiscing and visiting and all sat down together to a hearty potluck luncheon. All determined to "do it again" before too long.

Mrs. William Greene, of Sunny-side Avenue, is reported ill. Honoring the birthday of her second daughter, Barbara, Mrs.

last Wednesday evening and it is hoped much can be accomplished during the coming spring months. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diehle had their sons from Detroit as dinner guests Sunday.

Cut flowers sent out by Kacey's brightened churches of the community Sunday. Afterward, sick folks were remembered. "Glads" thus spread cheer to a number of homes.

Sponsored by the Sunshine Sisters, a stork shower honoring Mrs. Phyllis Harmon of Mayfield Avenue was held in the Neighborhood Church Monday afternoon, the 21st. A group consisting of Mrs. Cecil Willet, Mrs. Imogene, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Stewart made arrangements and acted as hostesses.

Thirty-two ladies were present. All, upon arrival, were asked to busy themselves making up paper baby bonnets. Mrs. Clyde Buckingham was awarded a handsome handmade handkerchief for contriving the most clever creation. Tea and cake were then served, after which the honored guest was called forward and a great heap of well-wishes and congratulations were placed before her for inspection.

Almost a complete layette was soon assembled. Mrs. Harmon received the gifts most graciously.

Sunshine Sisters held their last regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. W. Stange, on Mayfield Avenue, last Wednesday afternoon. Fourteen ladies were present. The feature of the devotional program was a study of "Abraham, Father of the Hebrew Race." Several fine readings were given during the Sunbeam session. Reports were made regarding the sick of the community. No new business was taken up at this time.

Out of respect to Washington's Birthday, which was the day previous, the hostess served delicious cherry pie, with buttered home-made buns, tea and coffee.

The next Sunshine meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Diehle, on Shadyale Avenue, Wednesday, March 9. "Keeping Lent" will be the topic. Mrs. Ira Magner will bake the cake for the occasion.

Margaret Block, from Detroit, was calling at the M. E. Ault home.
