Shut-In Fathers Are Remembered

By THE SUNSHINE LADY
11311 Columbia Ave., Detroit 8
Fathers at the Glenbrook Hospital were well remembered on their special day. Mrs. Nina Baker of the Redford Township Garden Club took a gift bar of soap to each of the shut-ins, as well as ginger ale and flowers.

Mrs. Horton Treats, Concord Ave., Detroit, sent lots of home made cookies, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grinit arrived with tea, ginger ale, and egg nog. Cup cakes and ice cream were served by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kenworthy, Mrs. H. Rice, Mrs. A. King and Mrs. Roy Howison of the Third Free Methodist Church of Redford. Also on hand to bring a bit of cheer was Mrs. Clara McKinstry and Rev. Fred Fisher and a group from his church.

Miss Josephine McKlosky of Glenbrook Hospital is blind and very crippled. Her mother, also a shut-in, sits by her bed and reads to her. They are very close. But Josephine has a fear - what's going to happen when her mother is no longer with her? She has a desire to learn Braille. Anyone who may know how her learning Braille can be accomplished is asked to call or write Mrs. Elsie Grinit, 1915 E. Prevost, Detroit 19, or call YEmont 63484. Into each life some rain must fall; some days must be dark and dreary. But it must be bleak despair to folks whose dark days run into years.

Mr. Louis Ganev has been confined to the Wayne County Hospital for the past 16 years. His illness alone would get most of us down. But Mr. Ganev is also blind.

Mrs. Dora Burgess has been in a shut-in at the Maybury Sanatorium.

Softball Teams Find Sponsors

The Farmington Recreation Commission's summer softball program is rolling right along. Wednesday, June 22, the Bluecaps took both ends of a double-header from the Lookouts, winning an easy first game 17-7.

In the second game, the Bluecaps ran a big surprise when the Lookouts put up a stiff fight. An error by the Lookout catcher finally tipped the balance in favor of the Bluecaps, 12-12.

The next game scheduled is a double header between the Lookouts and the Shamrocks, June 27, at 1:30 p.m.

Two of the three teams in the softball league now boast sponsors. The Bluecaps, captained by Jim Mechem, are being sponsored by the Farmington City Cab Company. Jack Schweiter, City Cab owner, is reportedly planning on purchasing shirts, balls, and bats for the team.

Conroy's Market is now backing B. Casey's Lookouts. The team's bats, balls and shirts will be provided by Conroy's.

At present, the Bluecaps are ahead in the league with three won and one lost. Conroy's Lookouts are in the cellar (or perhaps the freezer locker) with one won and four lost.

The Idler, published in 1758, stated that "the trade of advertising is now so near to perfection that it is not easy to propose any improvement," according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Fragments of an oak-staved churn, 1,000 years old, were found last year in Northern Ireland, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

at Northville for five years. She is in room 302.
Also at Maybury, in room 717, is Della Richards, and Miss C. DeWinter.
Frequently, by their cards or calls, unknown friends have done much in ministering to the suffering, and to the afflicted.
Perhaps one of our readers can help us by giving some information that will help one of the afflicted.

Mrs. William Mulder, 26539 Plymouth Road, Detroit 28, would enjoy hearing from her old neighbors about Farmington. She is spending some shut-in hours due to a bad fall.

Aln't you got no paper?
Aln't you got no pen?
Aln't you got no envelope
To send a letter in?
Have you lost my address?
Why do you make me wait?
What's that, you'll write to me tonight?
Well, gee whiz, that's great!

And while you're writing, won't you tell me of the special dates that are coming due? Or perhaps your neighbor who needs cheering up a bit?

Were you as happy as I last week, when Forrest Hatt of Farmington was awarded one of the beautiful orchids sent by the Sunshine Express program from WKMH?

If you knew the joy these flowers are spreading you would at once send Miss Katie McCoy of the program the name, age and address of your friend and neighbor who is shut-in. And when writing, tell her a little about that person, and their best loved song. She'll be only too happy to play it for them. The program comes on each morning at 8:15.

Have you noticed the radio programs that have sent a word of cheer to shut-ins? Recently Glenbrook Hospital was sent a Sunshine Shower by Don McNeill's Breakfast Club, Chicago. The Southernaires from New York honored them on Father's Day and John Norton, WWJ, sings two or three songs a week to them and to the folks at the McWilliams home. We don't know about you, but we think it's sort of special.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Harriman, who had been talking to Acheson privately, was enthusiastic, while Truman was delighted that Acheson was getting him out of his Mississippi speaking jam.
The British press, however, played up the story big. And as a result Scotty Reston of the New York Times called on Acheson to ask whether this was a new American foreign policy.

"You had better ask the White House," Acheson replied.
So, at the next White House press conference, Reston asked a carefully worded question as to whether the Cleveland, Miss., speech represented Acheson's views or the administration's views.

Truman, still full of gratitude, and recalling that the army, navy, and air had approved the speech, replied that it represented administration policy.

A few days later, Acheson went to his chief, Secretary of State Marshall, and said in effect: "I have kicked a fairly important ball up in the air for you, but it's falling rapidly. How about catching it and scoring a touchdown?"

After the speech, Acheson picked up a suggestion by Senator Vandenberg that a committee of prominent Americans be appointed to push the idea. Truman didn't like the suggestion, but Acheson argued him into it.

"Here is a man who more than anything else wants to get the Republican nomination for President of the United States," he told Truman, in effect. "Of his other two rivals, Governor Dewey never says anything about anything, while Senator Taft never loses an opportunity to attack you on domestic issues and crash at you on foreign policy. Vandenberg has played the game very well on bipartisan policy, and you ought to agree to his idea in order to keep him sweet."

HOOPER, BARUCH OUT

The President did agree, and a meeting was held to appoint members of a committee to serve under secretary of commerce Harrison Vandenberg was present. Acheson said he didn't care who was on the committee just so long as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch were not.

Vandenberg, however, looking over the suggested names, said he had nothing against them, but that what the committee needed was an elder statesman as chairman.

Since 1830, the number of magazines and newspapers in the United States has increased almost 25 times, while the population has increased only six times.
