Farmington High Takes UN Trip

FARMINGTON If the 307 delegates to the Great Lakes Invitational Model United Nations (GLIMUN) had their way, Monaco and East and West Germany would belong to the United Nations.

That's the way high school and college students from around the area voted at a GLIMUN convention in Ann Arbor.

Nine Farmington High School students attended as the India delegation. They were Sue Finkbinder, Kathy Butt, Jan Peugh, Kim Davis, Diane Sidor, Sue Sloan, Gena Pierce, Barb Miller and Diane Starr. Claireanne Schwere served as delegation advisor.

Also participating from FHS as pages were Claudia Cook, Sue Lord, Pam Harris, Julie Jacobson and Cindy Dix. Purpose of GLIMUN is to let young people involved in the United Nations and to help them understand more about it, according to Bill Bierwirth, 1971 FHS graduate and now a student at Eastern Michigan University. He served as undersecretary general.

Other secretariat members were Dave Arley, secretary general; Barb Arderente, president of the general assembly; Michelle Durfee, director of public relations; Shelly Meisel, operations manager; and Catalina Coloma, executive secretary.

All delegates participated in the general assembly, security council or international court of justice. The Farmington High delegation was rated 10th among 63 schools by judges at the assembly.
