

Around the Block

IT LOOKED AS IF... someone had sneaked in and pulled a fast one on the wall of the municipal building Monday when Russell Ellis and his outfit went to work on the old place. They really raised the dust and debris, too. Harry Moore, the Farmington city clerk, made a fast exit. He had to; they tore down his office. Then evicted, he didn't come back until several days later. But when the dust settles and the plaster sets, the old Farmington City Hall will more closely resemble a municipal building instead of the Peoples State Bank. It might not be a foul idea to remove that old lettering at the top, too.

THERE WE WERE... not flat on our backs at 30,000 feet, but sitting on an aerial window not about a thousand feet up to bring you a picture of what the town looks like from the air. Saturday afternoon, with the first clear day all week, we loaded the venerable old Graphic into a plane piloted by Joe Frank of Krist-Port. He flew us around town, and we made a series of pictures, all of which will put in Mattson's window for you to see. The folks at Krist-Port were mighty cooperative; they even removed the door of a plane for us, provided a safety cord for the camera, flexible gloves for the photographer, and flew us wherever we wanted to go. We liked the way Joe flew the plane, too. He appreciated doorway as we were in a chilly position at 110 m.p.h. we appreciated Joe's keeping the plane directly beneath where we were sitting.

OF ALL THINGS NEW... in town, probably nothing is quite so outstanding as the new fountain in the Oak Pharmacy. Rather a radical departure from the old one, it makes the whole store lighter. It went in overnight, too. Understand it was five years before the proprietor left the place. The new apparatus is a genuine improvement — it looks as if the old corner drugstore may be a new place after all.

REMEMBER... the war to end war? And then the war to end war? Better stop and think it over tomorrow. It's Armistice Day again. We expect the flags will be out — but hope there'll be more than flags on the streets of Farmingtonites that day. We may repeat that vicious cycle again — if we allow ourselves to. Think it over; think over the war to end war, and think over what you can do about it. You might be surprised at your conclusions.

THAT ISN'T... the Harvest moon you see shining so brightly overhead these nights. It's a similar phenomena monitored by the "Hunter's Moon." Regardless of the title, which is very difficult to remember (that distance) the moon is a bright one. This is the type of atmospheric condition desired especially at the holiday. To be truthful, we haven't heard of a holiday yet this fall, although there's no doubt there'll be plenty of them before spring comes again. We'll be frank and admit they seem to have lost a little luster for us since we left high school.

RIGHT NOW... there are plenty of bazaars, fairs, and more bazaars going on — seems the paper contains announcements of them. However, is the fair at the Salem Church today, and the Fall Festival at the new school on 10 Mile Road and Middlebelt Saturday. Other bazaars are coming up every day, though. One thing you can generally count on at a church bazaar — good food, at least.

DON'T THINK... for a minute that we were miffed at the letters we got in just a little bit before Halloween. Most of them complaining about the treatment we seemed to give to us, to be a good and sufficient reason. We figured there was little to gain in describing unique methods of vandalism not previously considered by the pranksters. Maybe that'll take some of the insult out of our failure to publish your letters. We're glad to hear you're glad to hear from our readers. We're glad to hear from you more often and hear from more of you.

WE STILL CAN'T... get over the terrific expanse of residential area we saw in those aerial pictures. You'll notice it too if you take a look at the pictures when we display them. Even so, that's only the beginning. The Floral Park section is expanding rapidly, so is the area near the intersection of Grand River and the Cut-Off. It would seem that the area is expanding. We're glad to hear from our readers. We're glad to hear from you more often and hear from more of you.

Falcon Basketball Practice Begins

A total of 80 candidates reported Monday afternoon for the first practice session of the Farmington High School varsity and reserve basketball teams, according to Robert Hutton, Farmington coach.

This is a record number of candidates for any Farmington basketball team. Hutton stated that the players will work out nightly in the Farmington High School gym in preparation for their first game against Plymouth on Friday, December 2 at Farmington.

In addition to Hutton, who will coach the varsity team, Bob Butch will coach the reserves. The Falcons will play a 15 game schedule during the 1948-49 season. Hutton also announced that a special Christmas holiday tournament will be held December 29 and 30. The teams participating in the tournament will be Waterloo, Lake, Clawson, Berkley and Farmington.

Farmington will play eight league games during the season, and a total of seven home games out of the 15 scheduled. The season will open December 2 and close February 24. The state tournaments will begin early in March.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE TO ADDRESS P. T. A. TUESDAY

Mrs. G. Muegan Williams will speak informally before the Farmington PTA on Tuesday, November 15. Her subject will be "Youth Problems."

Mrs. J. W. Henderson, high school music teacher, has arranged a program of vocal music to entertain the members of the P.T.A. and to introduce Mrs. Williams.

Soloists on the program will be Rosamond LeMieux at the piano, Kenneth Siller with his trumpet, Sally Lutz at the piano, and Shirley Gibbs, vocalist.

The Falcons, a group of 14 senior high school students, will appear and the Junior Falcons, an 8th grade vocal group, will make its first public appearance. The group began rehearsals on October 25 so that they would be ready with two selections: "In the Gloaming" and "Villains." The entire musical program will be about a half hour in length. A short business meeting under the chairmanship of Dr. H. E. Vierzgut, PTA president, will begin the program.

Mrs. Charles Layton, Mrs. Roll and Boyd, and Mrs. Leo Hendry, second grade room mothers, will be hostesses for the evening and will serve refreshments following Mrs. Williams' talk.

New Building Goes Up On Grand River Avenue

A new store, located between the Grace house and the Farmington Bakery, is due to be occupied sometime in December, according to Mrs. John W. Evans.

Remodeling Work Started On City Hall Building

Job Expected To Be Completed In A Month

Work was started Monday on the remodeling of offices in the Farmington Municipal Building. The city employees were all evicted as workmen broke a hole in the east side of the building, tore down the office partition, and readied the building for remodeling.

Because of the dust, holes, fly-rubble, the city's offices were closed the early part of the week. The offices will be open during the remainder of the remodeling, however.

According to Russell Ellis, contractor, the entire job of renovating the structure will require a month. This includes the final painting.

OFFICES OPEN Tuesday, work at building in the partitions and placing the doors began. Although offices were closed then, it is expected they will resume normal operation by the end of the week.

When finished, the City Hall will have a new asphalt tile floor, modern linoleum-topped counters, several offices, and a new booth for the police radio transmitter. The remodeling will furnish more work space for the police, city clerk and treasurer. Counters will be installed in the section housing the clerk's and treasurer's space and in the police department. The remodeling will also be of added convenience to customers.

The Falcons, a group of 14 senior high school students, will appear and the Junior Falcons, an 8th grade vocal group, will make its first public appearance. The group began rehearsals on October 25 so that they would be ready with two selections: "In the Gloaming" and "Villains." The entire musical program will be about a half hour in length. A short business meeting under the chairmanship of Dr. H. E. Vierzgut, PTA president, will begin the program.

Mrs. Charles Layton, Mrs. Roll and Boyd, and Mrs. Leo Hendry, second grade room mothers, will be hostesses for the evening and will serve refreshments following Mrs. Williams' talk.

Mrs. John W. Evans will use the building as a retail outlet for his home-made candies, now being sold at the Farmington Bakery. The candy will continue to be made at the bakery, and sold through the smaller store.

Falcon Gridders Lose To Berkley 28-0 In Final Game Of Season

Farmington High School's football team closed their 1949 grid season last Friday afternoon by bowing to a strong Berkley eleven 28 to 0 on the Farmington field. The first play from scrimmage Yankee kicked to receive. Nevlin of Berkley kicked off to the twenty, where it was picked up by Tata and moved back to the twenty-five. On the first play from scrimmage Yankee went wide around his own left end and punted his way up to the 46-yard line, giving Farmington their first first down. Plum then intercepted the right tackle and was thrown for a yard loss. Yankee given the ball again and was stopped for no gain. Tata moved the ball down to the midfield stripe but was short of a first down. Yankee's kick went out of bounds on the Berkley forty-six. Heiser of Berkley was given the ball but was stopped at the line of scrimmage. There was an offensive holding on Berkley's part; they were penalized 15 yards, moving them back to their 31-yard line. Again Heiser got nowhere. On the next play they pulled a quick kick with the ball going down to the Farmington twenty. Farmington failed to pick up a first down, being forced to punt from their twenty-six. The kick again was short, going only to the thirty-five, where Taylor took the ball and was dropped. Two pass completions moved the ball to the eight and set up the first touchdown. An offside on the part of the Falcons moved the ball to the one. Heiser went wide around his left end and over stood Berkley 7 to Farmington 6.

Nevlin again kicked off, this time to Plum on the fifteen, who fought his way back to the 29 yard line. On two successive plays through the middle Yankee netted two yards. Plum, going off his right tackle, picked up four more, but Yankee was again forced on to kick. Although the kick was blocked, a Berkley offside gave Farmington a first down on the 41-yard line. Yankee let go again for the second end to the Berkley forty-five. After failing to gain ten yards in the series, Farmington kicked. The kick was taken on the twenty by Accord. The downed up to the twenty-four. Berkley, too, was forced to kick as the Farmington defense.

Board Seeks Bids For Water System

No bids were received by the Farmington Township Board last Wednesday evening for the sale of bonds and construction of a water system in the Woodbine Subdivision.

Bids for the sale of $25,000 worth of bonds has been read and a special meeting called for next Monday, November 14, for the receipt of sealed bids on the sale of the bonds has been set for 8:00 p.m. November 14, the opening time for the special meeting.

The original meeting was called for last Wednesday, but because no bids were received, the advertising had to be re-run. The bonds are payable solely from and in anticipation of the collections of the water system. The bonds are being sold in denominations of $1,000 and to bear interest at a rate of 4 percent. The faith and credit of the Township will not be pledged.

The purpose of the Special Assessment District is to establish the mechanism for the construction of a well, pumping station and water mains and a system of financing the project in the Woodbine Subdivision. The program is being financed entirely by the home owners in the subdivision.

As soon as contracts for the purchase of the bonds and the construction of the water system can be awarded, the work is expected to begin.

Sgt. Barker Killed In Air Crash

Staff Sgt. Harry L. Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Barker, Farmington, was reported killed in the crash of a B-28 weather observation plane, the U. S. Air Force announced today.

United Fund Drive Extended To Run Through Nov. 19

Only Firemen Burn In Fire

Only the firemen were a little bit burned Sunday afternoon when they dashed to the wrong address to examine a faulty furnace.

In the excitement of the fire, the homeowners on the wrong house address when he called. Residents at the wrong house were surprised when the engine wheeled up and firemen climbed off in a hurry.

A call back to headquarters didn't help either. But the man whose house was burning appeared and guided the firemen to the fire.

The oil burner had puffed, filling the basement with smoke and causing a short-circuit in the automatic control.

Fire Ordinance To Take Effect Nov. 12

Kenneth Loomis, police and fire commissioner for the City of Farmington, announced this week that enforcement of the new fire ordinance would begin November 12.

The new ordinance was passed by the City Commission at its regular meeting October 12. Loomis stated that the ordinance was designed primarily for the benefit of the district of the City. The purpose of the ordinance is to help eliminate the fire hazards now existent in the business district.

Loomis added that the intent of the ordinance is to make the property owner as well as the tenant responsible for safety precautions. The ordinance calls for the erection of fire escapes for the business district only during the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Open fires are permissible on public property provided they are built at least ten feet from any structure or combustible material.

The fire commissioner stated that violators after November 12 will first be given warning tickets, but will be issued a regular business day, but the post office will close only from noon on.

Postmaster Norman Lee announced Wednesday that the Farmington Post Office will be open until noon on Friday because of the November 11 observance of Armistice Day.

The bank will be closed the entire day, but the post office will close only from noon on.

It is expected that the remainder of the stores in Farmington will remain open.

Bank, Post Office To Close Friday

Farmington's Post Office and the Farmington State Bank will be closed Friday because of the November 11 observance of Armistice Day.

The bank will be closed the entire day, but the post office will close only from noon on.

It is expected that the remainder of the stores in Farmington will remain open.

An Open Letter To Farmington

FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF FARMINGTON'S UNITED FUND

The United Fund campaign is nearing its close, and we feel that a statement of progress is in order. The campaign so far has raised 33% of its quota for the township, and everyone is urged to make an effort to participate in this fine undertaking. To the fact that our group was organized rather late, some areas may not have had house-to-house solicitation. Anyone, therefore, who has not been solicited is urged to send his contribution to Mr. John W. Hunt, 33709 Oakland Avenue. Mr. Hunt is secretary and treasurer for the fund, and will see that the proper receipt is forwarded to you.

Many people have been visiting Township work in other areas and have been asked to contribute there. We feel, however, that everyone has an obligation toward the community in which he lives, and all should at least make a small contribution toward our Township Fund. Remember, the money we are collecting will be sent to Farmington, Michigan.

The following people are heading solicitation groups. We are grateful for their fine effort and cooperation. Anyone of them will be glad to receive a call from you.

Spotty, Incomplete Reports Show $1500 Already In, More To Come

Nearly one-third of the total quota set for Farmington's United Fund and Community Chest drive was reported already in Tuesday night when chairman George V. McLaughlin and secretary-treasurer John W. Hunt announced the drive would continue into next week.

Decision to lengthen the drive came after reports from solicitors indicated another week would be needed to canvass the area thoroughly. By Tuesday, only spotty and incomplete reports of progress were available, but the fund held a total of $1500. Largest among individual contributors was the Farmington Kiwanis Club, who gave $300.

The United Fund is finding great approval among Farmington business men, Trace Conner, United Fund representative in the business section, declared Tuesday. Conner said that business people, traditionally the heaviest contributors to charity drives in Farmington, approved wholeheartedly of the single campaign idea. However, Conner also reported that drives not connected with the unified campaign may not meet with entire success as in the past.

The current United Fund and Community Chest drive is the first one of its kind ever attempted in this area. It was organized October 24 when representatives of a score of Farmington area's civic groups gathered to hear Ed Frazer, a representative of the Oakland County United Fund. A meeting of the following Tuesday and Saturday of that week crystallized plans for the drive, which started the next week. This was a lag of nearly three weeks behind Detroit's Torch Drive. It is this delay that is being made up by continuation of the local drive into next week.

NO PREDICTIONS Because of the scant returns in Wednesday's officers of the fund declined to make any predictions relative to the fund's final outcome. The quota of $4800 is less than $500 for each resident of the local area, far less than Detroit's figure. Successful completion of this year's drive, in view of the late start and hasty organization, would indicate favor in a unified campaign.

TO HEAD KIWANIS

WENDELL BROWN

Wendell Brown was elected president of the Farmington Kiwanis Club at the annual election of officers held last Wednesday evening.

Brown, who lives at 23921 Ardmore, served as second vice-president of the Farmington Kiwanis Club last year. He is a past president of the Detroit Bar Association. Brown served as legal advisor to Homer Ferguson on the grand jury and was a member of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office on civil assignments.

Harley Walters was elected first vice-president of the club and Nate Mihay, second vice-president. Other officers include Bill Aulpien, treasurer; Franklin Sullivan, secretary; Gus Tarr, C. O. Applegate, Leo Fendt and O. E. Dunkel, directors for a two year term, and Rev. Carl Schultz, director for a one year term.

The new officers will take over their duties January 1.

SENIOR PLAY TO BE PRESENTED NOVEMBER 19

"Our Hearts Were Young And Gay," a play from the book by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, will be presented by the Senior Class at Farmington High School on November 19.

Miss Virginia Carley, director of the play, announced that the ticket will rise at $15 in the auditorium.

The cast, chosen by audition, is as follows: The Steward, Frank Conner; Mr. Skinner, Barbara Jones; Cornelia Skinner, Ruth Hamilton; Otis Skinner, George Barrons; Emily Kimbrough, Ann Plutonium; The Purser, Thomas Seehler; The Steward, Emily Kelly; Dick Winters, Richard Lutz; The Admiral, Homer Majors; Harriet St. John, Anne Marie Ruck; Winifred Blough, Norma Smith; Leo McEvoy, Lee Carley; The Inspector, Jacqueline Rudberg; Theresa, Suzanne Labadie; Madame Elise, Rosamond Oliver; Monsieur De La Croix, Richard Schreiber; and the window cleaner, Bruce Treweek.

FUNDS USED LOCALLY Because canvassers report reluctance on the part of local residents who have contributed to Detroit's Torch Drive, the Farmington drive will probably start earlier next year. Farmington agencies do not receive funds from the Detroit Community Chest. However, money raised in Farmington through the local United Fund will be used here. Farmington's share of the Oakland County United Fund drive is $4000 for this year. The percentage of the entire quota of $4800 in the Fund has already contributed more than that amount to police patients from the area, so the $1500 will not be used out of the area. It will merely pay the due bills already incurred.

The Shaw family on Fleming has moved to their new home recently, and has been holding their grocery in Farmington Road.

Even This Couldn't Help

Berkley tacklers were never far behind Bruce Yankee, Farmington star fullback, during Friday's game. The Berkley team walked over the Falcons to a 28-0 score. Gains made by Farmington were made on the ground with Yankee bearing the ball in a series of short runs.
