Students Plan Xmas Assembly

Since Thursday, December 22, is the last school day before Christmas, the speech and vocal music departments are planning a special assembly for that day.

The speech class will present a play, "One Christmas Heritage," directed by Miss Alice Montes. The glee club will take part in this play as caroleers and soloists.

A monologue by Homer Majors, based on a letter a small girl wrote to the editor of the New York Sun asking if "there really is a Santa Claus," is also included in the program.

In conclusion, Mr. J. W. Henderson will direct the students in community singing.

There will be no sixth hour as the assembly will begin at 2:15 p.m. School will be dismissed at 3 p.m. and buses will leave one-half hour earlier than usual.

EDITORIAL

IT'S BEEN FUN
Today marks the end of an adventure for the Quill and Scroll members of F. H. S. Our job is finished.

No more last minute dashes for an extra story. No more frantic punching on the typewriter and racing up to The Enterprise office to meet the deadline.

In a way it takes a load from our shoulders; but then again, it will leave a blank space in our school routine.

We hope you have had as much enjoyment reading our section as we have had bringing it to you.

Hereafter, the regular journalism class will edit the Blue and White. After a lapse of two weeks this class will bring you the news of Farmington High School until the close of the school year. The absence of this page for the next two weeks will be due to Christmas vacation.

We place our confidence in these new journalism students, knowing they will bring you the quality of news you want.

Students Learn Home Nursing

Third year home economics students recently completed a four weeks training course in home nursing, trained by Mrs. Opal Inonen, Farmington Township School Nurse.

The thirteen girls who compose the class received practical instruction in care of the sick at home.

They were taught to administer bed baths, take temperatures, change beds without moving the patient, use proper sick room psychology, and care for the patient's room.

Demonstrations were staged with students practicing their nursing techniques on each other.

The class members also learned how to make bath resins, bed tables, bathrobes and slippers from materials commonly found in homes.

Here And There With The Alumni

Greetings —

The old mailbag is really spilling at the season these days. The Thanks — heaps — for your interest.

Through the registrar of the University of Southern California we learn that Bernice Cullins and Carl Light are enrolled there. Bernice is listed as a special student and Carl as a senior.

Doris Ratcliffe (Colebank) was browsing through a pile of old Enterprise recently and responded to the urge to "contact her old classmates" by writing a really long letter. I think you'll enjoy parts, so I'll quote: "We are living very happily in our drafty barracks apartment. To add to Pete's career, he studies with a baby on his knees and a bottle in his hand. We have identical twin girls, born four months ago — and are they adorable! ... While I was in the hospital, I was surprised to see Elsa Nystrom bringing in one of the babies. She was surprised, too, to see me." Pete finishes at NISC this year. Doris concluded news of Henry's and Norma's (Tresler) little boy, now seven months old "Act-just like Henry." Henry is in his last lap, also, in college, where he's majoring in German and minoring in journalism. Doris's address is 416 C. Hawthorn Lane, East Lansing.

We hear James Godfrey and Janet Regan will be married January 7. Best wishes from all of us.

Bob Augur spent sixth hour with us last Tuesday. He isn't at all unhappy to be back in civies for good. He has been stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas, you know. Bob plans to lounge around for a few weeks, then go to Wayne part time (winter session) and to work with Ludington News.

May your Christmas be merry and your New Year bright.
