WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

hard at his job.

Over in the export-import bank, also, far more loans have been advanced in Latin America than most people realize.

But a successful good-neighbor policy isn't built up merely by dumping money into Latin America, or giving routing welcomes to visiting Pan-American potentates.

Today we have a lot of well-meaning cops in our diplomatic machinery, but sometimes they seem to be turning separately and in different directions. In brief, the gears do not mesh.

JESSE JONES' RIVAL

It looks like Jesse Jones, long considered the financial czar and once an aspiring political czar of Texas, now has a real rival. He is Texas oil tycoon Glenn McCarthy of Houston, who recently helped mastermind "Sam Rayburn Day". McCarthy already has built a 15-story hotel in Houston, the Shamrock, and now aspires to build a new business center on the outskirts of Houston. To finance it, McCarthy is reported in the market for an RFC loan, and it was considered significant that he sent his push-strut private airplane to Washington to fly some RFC officials to Houston for "Sam Rayburn Day".

Taking the free ride to Texas for the big Democratic jamboree were James Considine, RFC comtroller, and Allan Freeze, his assistant, with their two wives. Neither is a Texan.

Another RFC official, Narvin Weaver, assistant loan manager, declined an invitation because, he admitted afterward, "It might not look right." It is seldom that an official has such scruples and refuses a free ride for this reason. Of course, Jesse Jones, when head of the powerful RFC, did not hesitate to accept trips in a private car on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at a time when he was lending RFC money to that road. And it will be interesting to see whether Jesse's rival now will get a loan from the RFC.

Note — Democratic political factions in Houston were split over the Sam Rayburn celebration. While Sam is personally popular with all ranks of Democrats, the Old Guard did not cooperate.
