Soroptimists Honor Tucker, Miss Aaron

Gordon Tucker, president of Clarenceville High School's National Honor Society, has been given a youth citizenship award by the Soroptimist Club of Livonia.

Tucker, a senior, was selected from nominees recommended by Livonia high school counselors. Jody Lynn Aaron, 19614 St. Francis, was runnerup. Miss Aaron and Tucker, of 1441 Yale, are co-editors of Clarenceville's yearbook.

Tucker will receive $100 and is eligible for the Michigan district award. Miss Aaron received $25. High scorers from other high schools were David Anderson of Franklin, Cathy Gervac of Bentley, Peggy King of Stevenson, Melvin of Churchill and Cheryl Wyborny of Ladywood.

Judges for the award were Stanley Bieri, director of the Livonia Public Library; George Bagoris, supervisor of instructional materials services of the Livonia School District; and Norbert J. Topolewski, director of Livonia Youth Employment Service.

He has received scholastic and Boy Scout awards and has been active in clean-up drives, church projects, school sport activities. He also wrote several sports articles for Observer Newspapers.

Tucker plans to attend the University of Michigan. Miss Aaron is president of the Clarenceville Student Congress and is active in the National Honor Society and girls' vocal ensemble. She has volunteered at Plymouth State Home for two years and plans to study medicine at U-M.

"All of the young people who submitted applications are concerned, responsible individuals who know how to get things done," Mrs. Jessie Sanderson of the Soroptimist Club said. "They see the world as it is, but they have hope and faith that they can help to make this a better place to live."
