If you see an aerial balloon floating over the northwest section of Livonia with a few passengers aboard on Wednesday, don't be alarmed.

It will just be a few Schoolcraft College students out for a ride during their spring activities week sponsored by the Student Activities Board.

If all goes as planned, rides on an aerial balloon will be offered students between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The balloon ride is just one of a busy log of events scheduled from Monday through Saturday.

A free coffee house is planned each day along with various speakers, exhibits and a pool tournament. The coffee house will be in the college's courtyard when the weather permits and in upper Waterman Center when it doesn't. Most activities will be in Waterman Center.

The women's continuum will present a seminar on "The Silenced Majority" on Monday at 1 p.m. in lower Waterman Center.

Jihad Racy will perform traditional and folk songs from the Middle East on Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Theater at no charge. A celebrity in the Middle East, Racy performs on original instruments. His songs range from shepherd tunes to improvisations.

Information about diamonds and how to buy a diamond will be available at 12 noon on Monday.

"Old Tyme" movies with Charlie Chaplin and others will be shown at 11 a.m. Tuesday in lower Waterman.

Also on Tuesday is a debate between the Collegiate Patriots and the Peoples Organization for Democratic Principles on "Socialism versus Capitalism" at 1 p.m.

Astrologer John Anderson will talk at 11 a.m. Wednesday in lower Waterman followed by a ping pong demonstration from Janice Martin and Bill Lesner at 12 noon.

Wednesday is organic garden day or "Can You Dig It?" when students will be able to plant a garden behind the Newman House, 17300 Haggerty, provided they bring their own shovel and hoe.

A dance demonstration at 10 a.m., a fencing demonstration at 10:30 a.m. and a mineral exhibit all day.

All students are invited to an "all-you-can-eat" spaghetti dinner Saturday beginning at 8:15 p.m. in upper Waterman. The dinner features spaghetti, salad, garlic bread and beverage for $1.50 in advance or $2 at the door. Advance tickets are available at the student activities office.

Entertainment after the dinner will be by Tom Flapp with "Pears Before Swine" and Ron Coden. The day care center will be open from 5:45 p.m. until 12 midnight at no charge for patrons of the dinner.

Students wearing nametags can get free beverages in the cafeteria all week. Balloons and 100 frisbees will be given away each day to kick off the spring term.

Garden Display Aids Shaw House

A "turn of the century" garden set up by the Livonia Historical Society and Scepticist Club of Livonia at the Livonia Mall will be used to benefit the society's campaign to save Shaw House.

Donations to save the historic structure, the first dwelling constructed of material other than logs in the Livonia area, will be accepted at the garden through Sunday, April 1.

The early American garden is featured in the mall's landscape garden show.
