MARIAN AYLEN, DONALD JOHNSON EXCHANGE VOWS

Marian Emma Aylen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aylen of 13650 Marlowe, Detroit, was wed Saturday afternoon, June 24, to Donald S. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorey S. Johnson of 20200 Parkview, Detroit. The couple spoke their vows before the Rev. Roy D. Johnson, brother of the groom, in a double ring ceremony at Coronado Baptist Church in Detroit.

Miss Aylen attended the Business Institute, from which she graduated in 1946, and has been employed by the Ford Motor Company. The groom is a 1948 graduate of the Business Institute and is employed in Garden City.

White mums and peonies decorated the church for the three o'clock ceremony. Miss Marguerite Hogarth sang "I Love Thee" and "Through the Years". She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Lucille Leonard.

The bride spoke her vows in a gown of white embroidered organza fashioned with a bouffant skirt and cowl neckline. Her headpiece was a white picture hat with an open crown. White carnations were chosen for the bridal bouquet.

Miss Connie Aylen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of gray embroidered organza also with a bouffant skirt and cowl neckline. A white picture hat with an open crown and a bouquet of pink carnations completed her outfit. Norman Spontenburgh acted as best man and Milton Knight usher.

Wearing a brown and white print dress with brown accessories, the bride's mother chose a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Johnson selected a gray and white printed silk with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception at the church was held following the wedding where Mrs. R. Dryden and Mrs. M. Christensen served the guests punch, sheet cake and wedding cake.

The couple chose Saginaw Bay for their wedding trip. They plan to make their home in Garden City, Michigan.

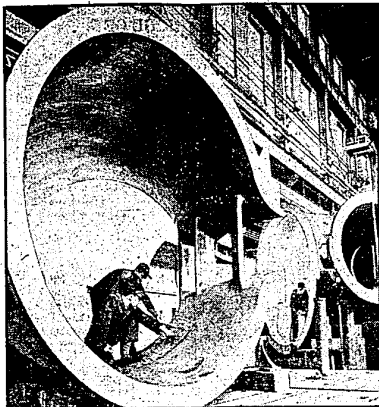

Sybil Lange and Judy Ramsey left Tuesday for Camp Wabamun, Rose Center, for a two weeks' stay.

FOR HUNGRY HORSE POWER—These large spiral casing turbines are part of one of the four 105,000-horsepower turbines being built for the Bureau of Reclamation's Hungry Horse Dam project on the Snake River, Mont. Each turbine is so large that it is being manufactured in four sections. The four turbines will harness the waters of the South Fork of the Flathead River to produce much-needed hydroelectric power for the Pacific Northwest.

There's one thing a power mower won't do. It's no good at weeding a garden. That's why it's good to know that our town's garden will be mostly lawn next year. Not that we don't appreciate the sight of neat row-on-rows of beautiful green stuff. However, the Arthur Hopkins' annual garden to our east always takes care of the eye appeal department for us, and now our picture window view to the west is more lovely than ever, for our new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Easton of Middlebelt Road, have installed a fine garden in the dark soil there.

Mrs. Easton is a former country girl so she knows her gardening well. That's why her youngsters are smart on the subject, too, and have already found themselves jobs this summer, working in a neighbor's garden. So there Mrs. Easton is left holding the bag, pardon us, the hoe, right now. But she seems to enjoy her gardening for she loves to eat about 400 quarts of fruits and vegetables last year.

With the Thomas Munns at 29225 Scott's it's a big freezer that does the job. We enjoyed a box of the Munns' frozen strawberries along about Christmas time and like everything else their garden puts out, they were beautiful, about the biggest berries we've ever seen. Mr. and Mrs. Munns recently added another lot, across the street, to their growing "ranch".

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shafter of List Street have sold their lot at the corner of List and Roosevelt to Mr. and Mrs. Don Schlack who now occupy the log cabin home just below the hill. They expect to build a ranch-type home there sometime soon. Mrs. Schlack is the former Margaret Hedley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan D. Hedley of 20895 Roosevelt Street. Little Tommy Hedley, who's just about a year old now, started walking when he was eleven months old, so he has a busy year ahead also.

"Brucie", year old son of the Ted LaFollettes, is walking now, too, and exploring the new house on Dresden Street. The new house is built in the hillside and what a view they have from their back windows.

As one mother put it, you can surely tell it's a summer morning for the kids are sleeping late. It's easier on moms now that school is over too. Or is it? There's the cookie jar to keep filled more often and there's more interference with her work.

Mrs. Vern Hawley's diet at 21125 Middlebelt is but a solo this week for ten-year-old Lorain is away at Girl Scout camp.

SUGGESTS TRIM ROLLED ROAST FOR CARVING EASE

Easy carving! This is one of the grand features of a boned and rolled roast. In addition, homemakers are pleased to find that these trim roasts fit neatly into a refrigerator and take less space than similar roasts with bone in.

Among the roasts that meet dearest bone and roll are beef rib and pork, veal and lamb shoulder. Identical cooking steps are followed for both boned and unboned roasts; however, since bone is a better conductor of heat than meat, a boned roast requires slightly longer cooking time—about 10 minutes per pound more.

According to Reba Staggs, meat cookery expert, a rolled roast is cooked at any other roast. It is placed in a rack in an open roasting pan. No water is added and the meat is left uncovered throughout the cooking time. Beef, veal and lamb roasts are cooked in a 300 degree oven; fresh pork roasts in a 350 degree oven.

Fire Destroys Steam Bath House

A two-story frame building housing a steam bath at the residence of Carl Hansen, 28115 Greening, was completely destroyed by fire Friday evening shortly after 7 p.m. Firemen said two boys had started a fire in the building so they could take steam baths after supper. However, while they were still inside the house, the bath building broke into flames.

Efforts of the firemen to save the structure were of no avail. Hat destroyed when the firemen arrived, there was little they could salvage. Damage to the two-story frame structure and interior furnishings was estimated to be between $1500 and $2000 by Leo Hendry, township fire chief.

Eight Mile Council Sees Pottery Demonstration

The Farmington Eight Mile Extension Council saw an exhibit of pottery from the Van Briggie Pottery of Colorado Springs at its meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Clifford.

Twelve members and four guests from the Grande Gardens Council heard Mrs. R. Stephen, Farmington ceramic teacher, describe the fundamentals of ceramics and pottery. Also present at the meeting was Mrs. Emma Dillard, Wayne County agent, who gave a talk and held a quiz on American precedents, their wealth, habits and hobbies.
