WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

The target and guides the missile to it. A proximity fuse sets off the bomb. The Lark weighs 1,200 pounds and is 15 feet long. It has two pairs of wings at right angles. It is a healthy fact that the air force was so impressed with a navy development which may put big bombers out of business, is giving 100 per cent cooperation to the navy. In fact, the air force was so impressed with the Lark it purchased 82 from the navy. It also went to bat with Secretary Johnson in demanding that funds be allocated for further developments.

Note — Another weapon in the navy's bag of scientific tricks is a pilotless ram jet plane. It operates on a radical principle—the more air it gains into the faster it goes.

BASING-POINT LOBBY

A general backslapping lobbyist named Frank McCarthy is one reason administration ranks have been split wide open over the Basing-Point bill.

No relation to the Wisconsin senator, McCarthy is a graduate of Paul McNutt's old Indiana machine, and is now Washington lobbyist for some of the railroads which would profit more by cross-hauls under the Basing-Point bill.

McCarthy's infectious good humor helped to line up such Democratic allies as Sen. Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, and spurred on elder-statesman Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

Note — Lobbying against the bill on the Republican side during the senate debate was done by William Simon, former counsel for the Caphart subcommittee on trade practices, now an $1,500-a-month lobbyist. At the time Simon was working for Senator Caphart, he also lobbied with the federal trade commission on behalf of alleged violators of the trade practices he was supposed to be investigating. And Senator Caphart let him get away with it.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Ex-Sen. John Sherman Cooper, the state department's Republican adviser, has his eye on the governor's mansion in Kentucky. The popular and liberal Cooper may run in 1951. A win would put him in the spotlight at the 1952 GOP national convention. The Republican primary in Tennessee's first district is a bitter scrap between right and left wings of the party. Congressman Dayton E. Phillips, a GOP progressive, is opposed by Missouri ex-Congressman Carroll Reece.

Lake Trout Trolling Season Reaches Height

The sport trolling season for lake trout in Lake Superior is at its height.

July is the best month. The season gets underway in June, continues good through August, and extends into September and October although rough seas usually limit the number of fishing days in the latter months.

To date, the conservation department has licensed 42 sport trolling crafts in 1953, approximately the number licensed at this time last year. A total of 61 licenses was issued in 1949, a decline from the peak of 93 in 1947.

Decline of the sport in Lake Michigan, where sea lamprey attacks on lake trout have seriously lowered the catch of both commercial fishermen and sport trollers, has resulted in a shift of some trolling craft to the upper lake. Some commercial craft have made the shift for the same reason.

Operating from ports stretching across the breadth of the upper peninsula, the boats fish close to shore in the first weeks of the season, move out into the lake as the trout follow herring to deeper water in July.

Ontonagon and Grand Marais are principal home ports of the sport trolling craft.

A questionnaire circulated by a conservation department fisheries worker turned up replies that indicate the average catch of lake trout from a sport trolling craft in a season runs from 2,000 to 3,500 pounds, average weight of fish caught about nine pounds although some range upwards to 40 pounds or more.

Lightning kills about 500 people in this country every year. About five percent of the nation's fires are caused by lightning.

Tree, Shrub Plantings Reach 2 1/4 Million Mark

Special tree and shrub plantings on southern Michigan farms to provide food and shelter for wildlife exceed 2,500,000 in the first three years of the conservation department's farm-game habitat improvement program.

As of June 30 the department had furnished planting stock for 1,183 farms located in good pheasant country.

Enough multiflora rose seedlings — 829,000 — were supplied to plant a "living fence" 235 miles long.

Bulk of the planting stock was obtained from the department's nurseries near Wolverine and at Higgins Lake. Some was purchased from private nurseries.

Twenty Soil Conservation districts are cooperating with the department in the program whose cost to date has been slightly under $50,000, financed in large part with federal funds obtained from an exclusive on sporting arms and ammunition.
