BAR-B-QUE DINNER

A western style barbecue dinner will be held Saturday, August 19, at the Commerce Masonic Temple, at Commerce. Serving will start at 4 p.m. and last until dark. Spokesman says, "Wear your plaid and jeans and have some fun."

No matter what the vegetable, it will taste better the sooner it is cooked after being harvested. Half an hour may be sufficient to dull the flavor of those that are rich in sugar, which quickly begins to change to starch.

Florence Tamm, Jack Lasich Wed

Decorated with palms and white gladioli, Salem Church was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Florence Marie Tamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tamm of 13 Mile Road, and Jack Lasich, son of Mr. George Lasich of 12 Mile Road and Mrs. B. Marsh of Munising, Michigan.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in floor length satin. She wore a three-quarter length veil held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white gladioli and lace flowers.

The bride was attended by her sisters. Hele Tamm, dressed in light blue and carrying pink gladioli, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids Wilma and Viola Tamm wore rose and pink satin, respectively, and carried orange gladioli.

The groom's brothers, Edward, George, and Jim, were respectively best man and ushers. Rev. Carl Schutte performed the double-ring ceremony.

The mother of the bride wore light gray with black accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli. The groom's mother chose black and also wore a pink gladioli corsage. Albert Bolitto provided organ music for the wedding, and Patricia Kelly of Redford rendered several vocal selections.

Following the wedding, the bride was honored at a reception in the home of her parents, 3339 13 Mile Road. Guests were present from Alaska, Marquette, Munising, Florida, Mt. Clemens, and local communities. The bride's cousin, Betty Esch, made the five tier wedding cake.

The bride's traveling dress was a gray suit with white accessories and a pull-out corsage from her wedding bouquet. After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will return to their employment. Jack works at Franklin Products Company, and Florence is employed by Blakeslee Chevrolet Sales. They are building a new home on Orchard Lake Road.

She Who Stoops, Can't Conquer

A forward and backward swing, as far as the arms will reach each way, helps her achieve an upright but easy and relaxed posture.

"THERE is nothing like a dame. . . . Particularly one who has poor posture. Chic clothes and a trim figure may bedazzle a man but not for long if you're one of those women whose droop has become a stoup.

One of the best ways to find out if you're keeping up a good back—and not merely a good front—is to consult your mirror. Does your posture radiate alertness? Do you appear vibrant, bouncy and animated? Or do you have that sagging jellyfish stance that's sure to dismay beau or hubby?

If your mirror reveals curves in the wrong places, try these exercises, designed to help you achieve an erect but natural posture.

Begin by holding your arms straight at your sides. Lift them to shoulder level and swing them forward until your hands meet; then reverse the motion and swing your arms backward as far as they will go. Do this several times each day to relax and loosen your shoulder muscles.

A second set of muscles can be put into play by swinging your arms to an overhead position. This movement, which should be smooth and well-coordinated, is made up of three steps.

First lift your arms from a dangling, hands-at-thigh position to a vertical reach above your head. Stretch them as high as they will go. Then slowly raise your elbows, allowing your hands to bounce lightly upon the top of your head. The final step is to fling them outward, and then downward again to their original position.

After a few weeks with these exercises, your carriage will express a determination to conquer all and your new attractiveness will cop a host of compliments.

This young woman, whose carriage expresses the nerve and vigor she feels, bounces her hands lightly upon her head as one step in a stretching exercise.

Mildew Can Be Easily Prevented

Muggy, warm, summer weather is the ideal time for the molds to grow that cause mildew. They thrive in cloth, paper, wood and leather, warns Olivia Meyer, Michigan State College extension specialist. Mildew discolors, leaves a musty odor and causes decay.

First step in preventing mildew is to remove moisture. Windows and doors should be opened for airing only when the air outside is cooler and drier than the air inside. A cool night is a good time to freshen the air in the entire house and a little heat in a stove will speed up the drying process.

Electric fans are helpful in circulating the warm damp air out. A small electric light burning in a closet is sufficient to dry the air and a fan may be used for circulation.

One of the chemicals available to absorb moisture is calcium chloride. If a musty odor persists it may be removed by sprinkling chloride of lime in the areas, as on a basement floor.

A few simple rules will help you to prevent mildew from growing on clothing and other household articles. Never allow damp or wet articles to lie around. Stretch out to dry all moist or wet soiled clothing and unironed dampened garments. Sprinkle only enough lime for one day's ironing. Give leather articles a coat of wax before storing. Remember to wax the soles of shoes, too.

If your cakes fall perhaps you are not using the right sized pan. When pans are too small the cake batter will run over the edges and burn. When the pans are too large the cake tends to be thin and over-baked.
