Boys' Intramural Athletic League Formed By Senior High Students

The newly formed Boys' Intramural Athletic League held its first meeting February 20 during which the members discussed the proposed program and elected officers.

The great idea decided that a board of directors would be the most effective method of governing the league. The board is composed of two members from each high school class. The two members, however, have only one vote.

The board members are B. Weber and T. Brown, sections; P. Lemon, Junior (the other is to be named); W. Wilton and B. Heley, sophomores; and P. Ludwig and J. Mathies, freshmen. E. McCracken was named chairman of the board.

Among the things decided were: 1) that basketball competition will begin today at 6:30 p.m.; 2) there will be a minimum membership of 35; 3) the board will decide upon eligibility and teams; 4) members may be dropped by the action of the board; 5) students may not join the league after a sport has started; and 6) students who have competed in varsity, junior varsity or freshman basketball will not be eligible for intramural basketball teams. They will be eligible for other sports if they do not compete in them interscholastically.

The first meeting of the board was Tuesday, February 26. At that time the board selected teams and determined further eligibility rules. Mr. Thomas Peace has been named faculty advisor.

MIND YOUR MANNERS!

Does it seem to you that vandalism and lack of manners are more prevalent today? Maybe. In most cases that we have heard about, it is apparent that many children are gradually losing all respect for elders and are getting into as much trouble as they can.

It could be that the same amount of devilry existed in Mom and Dad's time but on a different level. There were not quite so many racing cars, television sets, dope peddlers and corner hang-outs, but they too had their ups and downs. We think that though many young people are rowdy, most of them pass through the stage and become the mothers and fathers of the next generation without effects.

Most of the so-called criminal acts are due to the lack of proper guidance. When it comes right down to brass tacks, Mom and Dad are slipping. How, in all fairness, can they blame their children for wrong doing when there exists such a lack of discipline on their part? When Dad finally says, "Young man, you'll be severely punished for that." Mother will inevitably say, "Now George, let's not be so harsh with our little Jimmy. After all, it's only his first wreck. We've got insurance, and I'm sure he'll learned his lesson." This Jim gets by in a breeze and two weeks later he can be seen doing the same thing all over again.

This time, though, he's a lot more dangerous because with such "sweet" parents he's really got nothing to worry about. This is happening in thousands of families in thousands of cities all over the United States. It starts right on the old reservation where the psychological upbringing is supposed to work wonders but really develops the worst little crepe hangers imaginable. To use a little slang, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," is for the "birds." If there is nothing to demand respect, there will be no respect.

A definite step must be taken! "Experience is the best teacher," but proper guidance and the commanding of respect by parents can show the younger generation how to profit from other people's mistakes.
