Harmony Speaks Forth

EDITOR:

As a parent of a bandsman at Plymouth - Salem High School and a member of the elementary music staff of the Plymouth Community School District, I resent your statements about the selfish Salem band parents in your editorial of March 23.

If you knew the facts and what it takes to build a music performing group (not for provided provid

If you knew the facts and what it takes to build a music performing group (not for exploitation), you would not have made such accusations. The bands of Salem High School would not be hurt by the development of Canton bands. You do not seem to realize the concern was over tirring, instrumentation and facilities available to the two schools. The concern was over tirring, instrumentation and facilities available to the two schools. The concern was over the first tirring times the state of the concern was over the state of the state of the concern was over the state of th board members (with the ex-ception of the president who refused an audience with them). All these young men are students at Salem -showing their concern for their friends of Canton.

The band parents, band smen, Mr. Griffith, and the music staff are not against an eventual development of new bands for the additional high schools. They are against premature actions.
