THE BLUE AND WHITE

Senior Class Preparing For Prom April 26

The Senior Class is making headway for their prom, "Prelude to Paradise", scheduled for April 26.

The decoration committee, headed by Carolyn Gardner, has been planning elaborate decorations. This committee has been split into groups and each group is working on either walls, stage, ceilings, tables or floor decorations.

The advertisement committee has also been planning original stunts for publicity. Margaret Godfrey is chairman of this group. Bill Galt's orchestra will provide the music.

STUDENT COUNCIL FORMS COMMITTEE TO MAKE REVISIONS

The Student Council has selected a committee of eight students to make revisions in the Student Court.

The group consists of two Student Council representatives, Wendell Smotherman, chairman, and Marlene Robison.

Six members of the student body were selected, one from each grade. They are: Eugene McCracken, senior; Dorothy Cant, junior; Carol Abbe, sophomore; Victor Auger, freshman; and Don Robinson and Brian Rogers from the seventh and eighth grades respectively.

Bob Brown, Student Council president, chose the committee.

The Freshman class is going to hold a dance March 21 in the Farmington gym.

Committees have been chosen. The advisors are: decorations, Mr. Mantala; tickets and advertising, Miss Burtch; refreshments, Miss Brandenberg; entertainment, Mr. Geliger; and clean-up, Miss Carley. The dance starts at 8:00 and ends at 11:30.

Farmington High Teacher Has Articles Published

Lee S. Peel, Farmington High instructor, recently had two articles published in national educational magazines.

One article, "Publishing News in The Town Paper", appeared in the December - January issue of "Quill and Scroll", a national magazine for high school journalists.

The other article "Creative Writing Calls for a Classroom Magazine", concerned the magazines published by Mr. Peel's freshmen classes last year. It appeared in the February issue of "The Clearing House", an educational magazine for junior and senior high students.

Mr. Peel is also the "Blue and White" advisor.

Intramural Athletics Opens With Basketball

The Farmington High Boys' Intramural Athletic Association has opened its basketball season.

Due to the large number of boys participating, two leagues, A and B, were formed. The "A" league, composed of juniors and seniors, contains four teams while the larger "B" league, composed of freshmen and sophomores, is made up of eight teams.

Each team in the "A" league will play three games while each one in the "B" group will compete in seven contests. The two teams with the highest percentages will be declared the champions of their respective league.

After the basketball season is completed softball and golf leagues will be formed.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

As a student interested in the activities of the school, I am thoroughly disgusted because some of the very important news in the school is omitted from the Blue and White issue in The Enterprise.

The Journalism class certainly does not neglect the significant news stories in the Blue and White are the only ones they write. The stories that appear every Thursday in The Enterprise are certainly not the most important ones. I, for one, would like to see all the happenings of the week in this section of the paper.

A Student

Editor's Note:

Attempts to cover all of the important news in Farmington High. We send to The Enterprise approximately 20 stories weekly.

We must publish news which is interesting not only to the students but to the parents and other people of the community. Because of this requirement, we consider most important those stories which will enlighten the community or which are of general interest. Due to space limitations in The Enterprise, some of our articles are not used.

Seniors Chosen For Honor Society

Eleven members of the Senior Class were admitted into the National Honor Society at the assembly held March 6 in the Farmington High auditorium.

The honorary members were: Robert Beaver, Nancy Davis, Carolyn Gardner, Donald Stephen, Margaret Godfrey, Bill Weber, Eugene McCracken, Fred Raupp, Noreen Hamilton, Jane Hamilton and Norman Raupp.

The assembly was formally opened when Mr. Byron Oliver, assistant principal, gave these facts: The National Honor Society, established in Farmington High in 1945, recognizes those students in the upper one-third of the Senior class who possess qualities of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Fifteen percent of the class is the maximum number who can qualify. Mr. Oliver then presented the Falconaires who sang "Trust in the Lord" and next Sylvia Bates, who played "Prelude in G Minor" by Rachmaninoff.

Mr. Oliver then introduced Miss Ruth Bailey, who named the 1952 initiates and listed their achievements. Mr. C. V. Harrison, principal, then led the group in repeating the society pledge. After the pledge, the eleven members signed their names to the National Honor Society enrollment, received their certificate, and were congratulated by Miss Carley and Miss Lingo.

The program was concluded by the Falconaires singing "The Lord's Prayer".

POLAROID STUDY

A polaroid land camera was demonstrated in Mr. Mantala's physics class by D. Whitehead, one of the students.

Whitehead climaxed the demonstration by taking pictures of the class.

The demonstration was in connection with the study of polarized light.

Senior Reunion Group Chooses Two Officers

The Senior Class Reunion committee elected officers at its first meeting, held March 4.

Norman Raupp was named chairman and Nancy Davis secretary of the group.

The purpose of the committee is to reunite the class of '52 at certain intervals after graduation. The date for each get-together was set for the Christmas season of every leap year. The first meeting will be in December, 1956.

YOUR AUTO

YOUR HEALTH

How careful we are of our automobiles! If it emits the slightest unusual noise, we drive to the nearest auto doctor—a garage man. And we take it to him regularly for lubrication, oil change and other servicing.

We are inclined to be much less careful of our bodies, even though we can never turn our body in for a new model.

It's a healthy, commonsense practice to go to a physician regularly for a physical check-up.

ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

Now this other day a lady drives her Studebaker into the service department, gives the manager some instructions, then comes zipping into the sales room. We can see that she has blood in her eye, and starts figuring how we can hide under the desk, because for all we know, maybe she's mad at the management. "do you go about shooting a husband real dead?"

Well, we're greatly relieved that it's her husband because for all we know maybe she's got a license, but we tell her that we haven't much information on the subject, and we practice whatsoever. Besides we want to know how come such a blood-thirsty idea on the first sun-shiny day we've had since we don't know when.

"That's just it," she says, "it's a beautiful day so I buy a beautiful new hat, which I wear home for my husband to admire. The sales lady puts the old hat in a hat box to make it easier to carry. When I get home my husband opens the door, takes a look at the hat box and says, 'a new hat.' Then he opens the box, takes out my old felt, puts the doggone relic on my head in place of the new one I'm wearing, steps back and says, 'It's lovely, dear, lovely.'"

Well, life is like that and had she traded the '50 Studebaker she drives for a sparkling new '52 model, we know for certain her husband wouldn't have been confused, but would be filled with honest admiration. It's a wonderful car and we hope you drop around for a bit of demonstration. The zesty V-8 engine, superbly styled body lines, the comfort and in-built economy just can't be beat anywhere. We've a beautiful new hard-top "convertible" too in both the Commander and Champion lines.

We overheard a couple of girls talking the other day and one of them finally says, "he loves me, I know, but I can't pin him to anything I can put my finger on, or on my finger."

We feel the same way about a couple of your characters. It's time you had the oil changed and a complete spring lubrication, but we know doggone well you'll put it off a while longer and in the meantime your car suffers. Why not get rid of that winter sludge and give the car something healthy to chew on... the extra performance will make it well worth while.

That's that, but someone asked us to write the numeral eleven thousand, eleven hundred and eleven. We bet you won't get it right the first time either.

Yours,
BOB KETTLER
