Floral Park Civic Association News

W. L. BURKE
Phone Farm, 1030-J

If you have not already been contacted by the Civic Association canvassers regarding the spraying of trees and the donating of blood, you will be. Between the time you read this and the 24th of March we will be seeing you about these two important matters.

Maybe it is the influence television's lurid descriptions of the bawdy squads, gun men and private eyes, but perhaps I'd better identify for you the persons who will be your door sometime this week. Wouldn't I do to have some "sharp" character using the association's name to gain entrance to your home. So, the following are the canvassers who are unselfishly making the rounds: M. Stitt, D. Bates, H. Blinn, J. Dodd, J. Cavanaugh, W. Burke, D. McElroy, M. McKelvey, H. Schupp, J. Nichols, J. Courville, R. Larson, J. Shaughnessy. Please receive these people graciously—their efforts are in your behalf. Hear what they have to say.

Read The Enterprise regularly and keep up with the "goings on" in the whole community as well as in Floral Park. In the next few weeks you'll be reading more about the details of the Farmington Blood Bank, which we are hoping you'll support generously. No one is asking you for cash which you can't set back— you are being asked for blood, which mother nature has provided a means of replacing— you lose nothing but twenty minutes of your leisure time. Guys in Korea have lost a lot more leisure time than you will in these difficult times.

By the time the next edition of this column is in your hands, we hope to have an answer from the City Council in regard to the early surfacing of the subdivision's streets. Let's hope we can report to you that it will be accomplished considerably earlier than in previous years. So here we will be able to tell you that footbridges will be constructed over the impassable drainage ditches in the subdivision. Judging by the amount of rain and snow we have experienced in the last few months, this spring's thaw is going to be terrific. Some form of temporary (least) crossover will be necessary. I had difficulty getting around the area last spring, and I'm a relatively young man and can navigate a lot better than elderly persons, rack-and-roll women and carriage-pushing mothers. We'll let you know more about this matter.

In The Enterprise several weeks ago, I named the chairman of the Association's restrictions committee. I named the wrong man. Marshall McKelvey is an active member of this committee, but the chairman is John Courville of 23125 Lilac Avenue. My humble apologies, gentlemen.

The Association has appointed a planning committee in order that a constructive future course can be charted for this organization. In addition to being concerned with the welfare of the subdivision and its residents, we want to contribute directly to the welfare of the entire city. Other officers of the Association, as well as myself, have offered our cooperation to City Manager Jim Tennant and to the City Council.

Incidentally, if you find you are able to contribute blood April 14 or 15, after having refused the canvassers, or if you change your mind about the time spraying after committing yourself, please advise Frank Nicholls at 0619-M, Joe Dodd at 3019-J, Jim Cavanaugh at 2618-M or Bill Burke at 1030-J.

Town Club To Establish Medical Loan Closet

The free rental of medical and surgical supplies soon will be available to all Farmington City and Township residents. A medical loan closet, sponsored by the Town Club of Farmington, is being established in the town's sheriff's room in the municipal building.

Mrs. Clarence Grubbs, closet chairman, states that donations of money, medical or surgical supplies, wheel chairs, crutches, beds, cribs, heating pads and hot water bottles, etc., will be welcomed by the club. Donors may phone Mrs. Grubbs at 2760-J or the Town Club president, Mrs. Nate Mikay, at 0015.

City Manager Jim Tennant has turned in the city's first donation, a medical and surgical kit from the civil defense program. Members of the club feel there is a need in the community for the kit, particularly in the event of emergencies.
