OHIO'S TRICKS

Ohio has still another gimmick which plays into the hands of the bosses. In Ohio, delegates must remain pledged to a certain delegate only, as well as to his judgment and ability," so dictate.

Though it's never happened, this conceivably could mean that delegates could decide the day before balloting started that their man didn't have a chance, and switch to someone the bosses liked better.

Best Primary

The state generally conceded to have the best primary system is Oregon, where presidential aspirants are unable to keep their name off the ballot if they feel they can't make a good showing.

For instance, in the Wisconsin primary on the belief that he wouldn't make a good showing there, but in Oregon, any candidate's name can be entered without his permission, which makes for a genuine popular test.

Nebraska has the same "filing" privilege until 1954, when a rectangular legislature abolished it.

New Hampshire, in connection with which President Truman used his eyewash term, happens to have one of the nation's fairer primaries.

FLYNN'S BAILIWICK

In New York, which controls the largest bloc of delegates in the country, the rules in nominating our presidential candidates, the delegates do not have to reveal which candidates they favor. Thus, when New Yorkers vote in a primary, they are forced to vote for pledged party stooges. They do not know whether those delegates will favor Truman, Kefauver or Stevenson.

Each delegate will vote the way Boss Flynn of the Bronx and State Chairman Paul Fitzpatrick tell

Ticklers By George

"Has anyone seen my sun glasses?"

WEEKLY CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Here's the Answer

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It Isn't the Heat
It's the Hide!

Big discussion after the Grange meeting Friday night. Tik Anderson was arguing that hogs were lots more affected by the hot weather than cattle. Skeeter Morgan declared that it wasn't—that he never saw any hogs bothered by the hot sun like his cows were.

I was glad when Rusty Robin son stepped in.

"Boys" he says, "don't get so riled up. It all depends on what color the livestock are. Hogs or cattle, the ones with light-colored coats absorb less heat from the sun's rays than animals with dark coats. So you're both right!"

From where I sit, so many useless arguments could be avoided if a person would remember he doesn't have all the right on his side. Reminds me of folks who insist that coffee, for instance, is the only drink, forgetting that other people have a right to a glass of beer now and then. If we wouldn't get so "het up" about our prejudices—we'd all be better off!
