CHECK MATERIAL WHEN BUYING RAINCOATS

Though raincoats are a good year-around investment, shower-weather makes them almost a necessity, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer, county home demonstration agent, observed.

To help select the kind of rainwear you want, Lola Belle Green, Michigan State College, in a recent specialist, has explained the terms of "water proof" and "water repellent."

Fabric of a water proof garment is coated and sheds water completely, even in a driving rain. Plastic coats and "slickers" come in this class. The drawback of a water proof raincoat, however, is that it does not breathe. . . . no air penetrates the garment so it is sometimes hot and uncomfortable.

A water repellent coat, on the other hand, remains comfortable because it has a porous quality, Mrs. Green explained. It will shed water satisfactorily except in a prolonged, hard rain.

Mrs. Green urges the buyer to look for a close, firm weave in a water repellent raincoat whether it is made of cotton, rayon, silk, nylon, or a blend of those fibers. Look, too, for a tag that indicates whether the water repellent finish is durable or non-durable. A non-durable water repellent finish would mean you must have the finish restored with each dry cleaning or laundering.

WANT USED ITEMS TO EMPLOY HANDICAPPED

Household Discards can be turned into Time Cards at Goodwill Industries of Detroit. The 31 year old organization which provides training, rehabilitation and employment for physically handicapped men and women now has the greatest payroll in its history. To keep employment at high level and to provide training and produce jobs for an even greater number of disabled adults, Goodwill Industries is appealing for household discards in general quantities ever before.

Goodwill Industries trucks will be in Novi on Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, to pick up household discards such as clothing, shoes, hats, books, dishes, toys and small appliances. These items are taken to the Goodwill workshops where handicapped employees repair and renovate them for sale. Receipts from store sales paid the wages of over 540 men and women during 1951.

Housewives who support the Goodwill program of rehabilitation and employment will also be helping themselves by disposing of articles which might otherwise remain unused for years, creating confusion and fire hazards.

A post card addressed to Goodwill Industries, 6522 Brush, Detroit 2, Michigan, all that is necessary to arrange for a pickup by a Goodwill truck and start turning discards into time cards.
