GET FABRIC, PRINT TO MATCH SELF. EXPERT ADVISES

The clothes you wear should be a background to your personality. This bit of advice is especially true in selection of spring and unmer prints, as you can see from advice given by Josephine Martin, ctrilles, clothing and related arts prolessor at Michigan State Col-

Though a fabric print is very much a matter of personal taste, Miss Martin urges women to observe a few basics of design. For heavy same a few basics of design.

Miss Martin urges women to our serve a few basics of design. For instance, equally spaced atripes become monotonous, so look for an interesting variation. Or if the few basics are seven, a variation can be achieved if the stripe direction is varied.

Watch out for prints that look too much like real life, warms Miss Martin. Figures or patterns from nature should not have depth but just two dimensions or you will find people looking at the photograph in your dress and not at you. Spacing of the pattern should be interesting but make sure the designs are not too far apart.

DON'T THREATEN CHILD TO OBTAIN BETTER BEHAVOIR

It is a short-sighted mother who will "buy" temporary good shavior from her child at the expense of something that may one day save the child's life.

Virginia Guthrie, the Michigan State College child development specialist, who made that statement, went on te explain. "Recently I overheard a mother who was shopping threaten her tired, whitning daughter by saying." "Brown of the recent with the statement, went on to explain the method she cautioned was shopping threaten her tired, whitning daughter by saying. "Brown of the recent was supposed to the recent whitning daughter by saying." "Brown of the recent was shopping threaten her tired, whitning daughter by saying.
