Agenda Provokes School Squabble

By DAN McCOSH

FARMINGTON

An effort to add questions from the audience to the Farmington school board agenda was squelched by the gavel of Board President Kenneth Perrin Monday.

The action led Trustee Aldo Vagnozzi to charge Perrin with "dictatorial tactics", and Perrin to counter by calling Vagnozzi's move "a unilateral attempt to abrogate the compromise reached by this board."

The complex parliamentary maneuvering took up nearly the first hour of the board meeting.

It actually began the week before, when Vagnozzi attempted to place a "questions and comments from the audience" section on the standard board agenda.

He maintained the items should be included as part of a board policy adopted earlier.

Perrin disagreed. "If he (Vagnozzi) had wanted to bring the question of changing the regular agenda up at a board meeting for discussion and a vote, I would have allowed it," Perrin said after Monday's meeting.

Perrin removed the section from the agenda mailed out to board members, and added a memo explaining his position.

Monday, when the "approval of the agenda" came up as part of the routine business, Vagnozzi again attempted to add "questions from the audience."

Perrin ruled his motion out of order, and Vagnozzi then challenged the chair's ruling, which meant each board member could speak to the issue once.

The board voted 4-3 to uphold Perrin, with Dr. Mervyn Ross, and William Corliss siding with Vagnozzi.

"By itself, this is not an issue," Vagnozzi said.

"At issue is the unilateral, dictatorial..." He was cut off by Perrin's gavel.

"The issue on the floor is the correctness of the chair's decision; stick to the issue," Perrin said.

Vagnozzi called the incident "another example of the failure of (Perrin) to carry out some of the board's policies," referring to "powers the president has abrogated onto himself."

He listed several of the issues which the board minority has lost on during the past year: "Stacking of committees, reading letters from citizens, and adoption of policy of open meetings."

Perrin said after the meeting this was the first time he had refused to add an item to the agenda.

"I must enforce agreements on operating procedures made by the board," he said.

"That is one way to describe how a president must act. I couldn't allow one individual to go against the wishes of the total board."

Arguing that Vagnozzi was wrong about the board's policy, he said the recommended agenda format was adopted in 1972, nearly a year after the policy that required "public questions" at least once a month.

IN APPRECIATION -- The Farmington YMCA's fund drive went over the top by achieving 118 per cent of its goal. Board President Robert Hall (at right) demonstrated his pleasure by presenting plaques to some whose work helped bring about the campaign's success: (from left) Sister Margaret Weber of the Sisters of Mercy; James Hafke, YMCA gymnastics instructor and team coach; Frank Clappison and Roger Bisschop, co-chairmen of the drive. Keeney-Sundquist
FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

One of the penalties life exacts for love's fulfillment is the anguish of grief. It is a mixture of anxiety, anger and despair over the loss of a loved one, and the greater the love, the deeper the grief. Feelings of anger and guilt, as well as sorrow, must be confronted and surmounted by the bereaved if he is to regain normal emotional health.

Respectfully,
Walter C. Sundquist

YMCA Fund Drive Raises $17,000

FARMINGTON

The Farmington YMCA's annual Invest-in-Youth campaign went over the top this year, collecting 118 per cent of its goal.

Final tabulations showed total contributions of $17,000 from concerned individuals, service clubs and business and industrial firms. The goal was $14,500.

Board President Robert Hall, in thanking workers and contributors, called it a "must" year for the YMCA.

"We had to make this goal," Hall said, "in order to expand the program and serve this rapidly growing area."

He also expressed appreciation to local service clubs for making possible scholarships for camp and programs.

Frank Clappison and Roger Bisschop, co-chairmen of the 1973 drive, were presented with plaques in appreciation of their efforts.

Plaques also were presented at a board of management meeting to the Sisters of Mercy who have opened their facilities to the YMCA and to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hafke who have contributed more than 1,500 hours of volunteer help in the YMCA gymnastic program.

The gymnastic program recently placed first in a district meet.

"Using the beautiful facilities provided by the Sisters of Mercy has enabled the YMCA to conduct a variety of programs for the betterment of the community," Hall said.

"Our Farmington YMCA is doing a tremendous job with our sons and daughters, so it is fitting that we thank the organization, its staff and its unselfish volunteers for this successful campaign," he said.
