ARMISTICE DAY

The United States and many other nations in the world celebrated Armistice Day last Tuesday, November 11. It was on this date in the year 1918 that the German representatives signed a truce between the Allies and Germany. The signing took place in a railroad dining car in the Forest of Compiègne, France. Now, on each November 11, most of the Allied countries commemorate this event. These nations celebrate this day which marks the end of actual fighting in World War I in many different ways. In many places throughout the world, a period of silence is observed at 11:00 a.m., the hour at which the fighting stopped. The British Armistice Day services are held in front of the Cenotaph in London, and the French services at the Arch of Triumph in Paris. The celebration in the United States is centered at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Congress of the United States made Armistice Day a legal holiday for the District of Columbia in 1938. All the states of the Union also have made it a holiday.

Last Tuesday we paid tribute to the brave men who died in World War I. But what about the men who gave their lives in the Second World War and all those who are dying for America in Korea? Surely, when the Allied ambassadors signed the peace treaty of 1918, they hoped for eternal world peace. Sometimes in this world of confusion today, we wonder if they all died in vain.

EDUCATION WEEK

November 11 through the 18th has been set aside by the government as National Education Week. This is just one of the many things the government does to make us think about our education and realize the need and importance of obtaining and using it. Each year the government appropriates an amount of money to be used in aiding and helping establishing schools for our benefit. Such an example is the Federal Aid Program that is being offered to the school districts who have had an increased enrollment due to parents moving into these districts to participate in the defense effort. The government also contributes supplies and surplus goods to the school lunch and cafeterias. They set aside this week to remind us of something we should know and understand — that our education is the most important tool we have in building our government. Our country is young compared to the countries of France, England and Spain, which have been established and growing for hundreds of years.

Homemaking Groups Work On Projects

Miss Rhea's homemaking classes are working on various projects.

Her junior girls are sewing on garments according to their own choice, wool peg skirts, full taffeta dance skirts, and a few are making wool flannel shirts.

Her sophomore girls are studying family entertainment which includes parlor games, family parties and group readings. Different individuals are showing the class various methods of entertaining their families.

Mrs. Mummary's senior girls are also sewing in divided groups. Some of the girls will soon be learning crafts.

Student Council Names New Committee Members

The Student Council meeting of October 29 was held in Clarencville High School's lower hall. Business of the mock elections was discussed and the council decided upon having the civics classes of the school take charge of the voting.

A committee for the ice cream sales was then selected and it is composed of Robert Gross, chairman; Chuck Edmonds, Betty Edwards, Melvin Koch, and Veronica Knight. This committee will take care of the ice cream sales and inventories.

The meeting of November 5 was based largely on the topic of preparing for the Monday assemblies.

DEBATE AT HOLLY

The debate club of Clarencville High School held the school at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, November 5, for a debate discussion at Holly High School. There were five schools participating, including Clarkston, Holly, Milford, Northville and Clarencville. The group returned at 6:30 p.m.

Senior Highlights

"Beautiful, Beautiful Brown Eyes": the 5' 5" blonde who was walking down the hall in her size 6½ shoes, indeed has sparkling brown eyes. Beverly Shaw, or "Bev" as she prefers, sat down for our interview humming her favorite song, "Wish You Were Here".

Bev has a very unusual pastime, that of collecting stamps. You may ask, "What is unusual about that?" Bev collects stamps that are glued on letters from a certain soldier. She receives them on stamps a week; two on Monday, none on Tuesday, and one every other day of the week. Bev's hobby is her car, and her favorite sport is softball.

About her favorite subject, Bev says, "There is such a thing?" Don't tell, but she replied with the same answer when I asked her about her favorite teacher. When eating, pizza pie rates high; when listening to music, Guy Lombardo sounds smooth and Don Cornell sends her. About Mr. Cornell she says, "There's something about him. I've only seen him four times in person."

Bev admits that maroon is her favorite color and that her ambition is to be a registered nurse. Bev's pet peeve is people who honk their horns at her, whether it is her fault or not. On that note our interview with Miss Beverly Shaw, vice-president of G. A. A., manager of the hall patrol, treasurer of the senior class, and drummer in the school band, ended.

Thomas Mulcar was born on November 29, 1934, in New York. During his almost 18 years of life, Tom has developed hobbies of hunting, fishing and camping. He tells me his favorite pastime is trapping (hum - sounds interesting). Tom likes the color blue and to match that, his favorite current hit of the day is "Blue Tango".

Tom works ten hours a day in a lumber yard and after all this hard manual labor he likes to have roast beef for dinner. Your Show of Shows is his TV favorite.

This 6' 1", 180 pound blue-eyed, brown haired senior likes physics class better than any of his others. Tom has a very dangerous pet peeve, it's teachers who talk unusually loud.
