It's very very sad - but very very true There isn't much we can say to you.

The does and the bucks are here by the score We'll scream we know if we see one more.

Next week we hope we'll have 'em froze tight So we can write an ad that will sound right.

We've worked steady both night and day Trying to get those deer put away.

But we're open for business at the same old stand If you're not busy, come on, give us a hand.

We got meat and groceries, pop and such Stop in, look around, you don't have to buy much.

We'll have some specials that'll be good we know But we can't think right now - we're pooped - soooo GOODBYE

LINK

The medical chain which supports the health of our nation is long, its many links include research scientists, medical speakints and your tarmity dector. The pharmacist who compounds your dector's prescriptions is another withal link in this chain, Without his skill and ethical practice, the work and knowledge of those who come before him in the chain swated.

Our constant efforts are devoted to preservation of our STRONG link in this important chain.
