Trojan Reserves Win First Game

The Trojan Reserves claimed their first win of the season by defeating South Lyon 43 to 24 on the local court last Friday night.

Starting for the Reserves were Jim Galloway and Richard Robenault at forward positions, Bob Grose and Doug Savala as guards, and Bob Peace as center.

Starting in the first quarter the Trojan five led by a score of 11 to 5 on points by Galloway, Robenault, Peace and Grose.

In the second period the Trojan defense held the Lions to four points while adding 13 points to their own score. At the half the score was 24 to 9 in favor of Clarenceville.

The third period was the slowest quarter of the game with Clarenceville scoring six points and South Lyon three points to make the score 30 to 12 in favor of Clarenceville.

In the last period South Lyon started to hit on their long shots and made 12 points, but the Trojan, hitting from all over the court, scored 13 points to outscore South Lyon in every period and win the game by 43 to 24. The final score was Clarenceville 43, South Lyon 24.

High point man for the game was Galloway with 14 points. He was closely followed by Peace and Robenault with 11 and 9 points respectively.

Expert Advises Decoration Safety

"Redeck the Christmas tree in lighted splendor, but make sure it's safe." This timely advice is offered by Joseph H. Ward, president of the world's largest manufacturer of Christmas tree lights and illuminated decorations.

Mr. Ward further suggests, "You can save yourself a load of Christmas Eve grief by checking your strings of lights a week or so in advance of placing them on the tree. This will allow ample time for replacement in the event they are not in safe working order."

"You're asking for trouble if you use damaged strings of lights. Worn or frayed insulation, cracked sockets and loose or taped connections can turn an otherwise joyous occasion into a holocaust."

"When buying any type of illuminated decoration always tag of approval. This signifies that the product has been tested and is considered safe for use in your home."

"Use a tree holder that is designed to hold water. There are many inexpensive types available. An average size tree will absorb as much as a pint of water a day. The water will help keep the tree fresh and green and lessens its inflammability. A moist tree sheds away from radiators and heating ducts. An extension cord makes it possible to place the tree anywhere you want it."

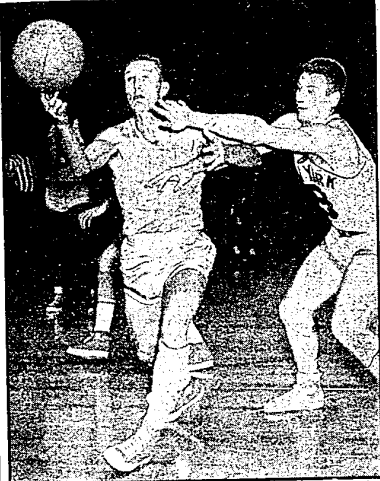

"When trimming the tree start at the top and work downwards. A good trick, if you are short of lights, is to weave the lights back and forth on the front part of the tree. Fill in the bare spots with non-illuminated decorations. It creates the illusion that there are more lights than there actually are."

"Stand on a firm base, especially when trimming the top of the tree. It is best not to connect the strings to the electrical outlet until they have all been arranged on the tree. So advises Mr. Ward. This year, for the first time, there are many new and unusual illuminated decorations available at moderate cost. Large illuminated plastic snowmen, carol singers and Santa Claus figures are sure to delight children and grown-ups alike. They can be used indoors and outdoors."

The time honored warning for children to be good because Santa is watching now takes on an added touch of realism. A new Santa face plaque has eyes that follow you wherever you go. It is aptly named "Santa Follows You." The illusion of being followed by Santa is caused by the Santa's face camera design. It is available illuminated and non-illuminated.

Mr. Ward said, "Approximately $85 million worth of Christmas lights and illuminated decorations will be sold this year. One out of every four incandescent lamps used in the American home is a Christmas tree lamp."

B eighth Grade Cagers Open Slate With Keego

The eighth grade basketball team of Farmington High will open its 1952-53 season Friday afternoon, December 12, with Keego Harbor.

The eighth graders have been practicing three mornings weekly since 7:30 a.m. and on Saturdays. A new practice schedule must be found for the eighth grade team because of the new time schedule.

Coach Harold Hamble, who has been trying to give all his boys a chance to play, has not disclosed any tentative starting line-up for the Keego game.

The following is Farmington's eighth grade schedule in the Inter-lakes League.

December 12 — Keego Harbor, home.

December 19 — Southfield, home.

January 16 — Waterford, home.

January 23 — Walled Lake, away.

January 30 — Keego Harbor, away.

February 6 — Southfield, away.

February 20 — Waterford, away.

February 27 — Walled Lake, home.

CYO ANNOUNCES BOXING TOURNAMENT ENTRY DEADLINE

Entries are now open for the 14th annual Catholic Youth Organization boxing tournament which will get under way early in January.

Application forms are now available at all amateur fight centers in the area and at the CYO office, 205 Michigan Avenue, phone WO. 3-3871. All entries must be turned in to the CYO office not later than Saturday, December 20.

The tournament will start Monday, January 5. Elimination shows will be staged January 8, 12 and 15. The championship finals will be held at the University of Detroit Memorial Field House Thursday, January 22.

Every boy, regardless of experience, will have an equal chance in the CYO tourney. The CYO will separate entrants into three classifications — junior novice, for boys who have never fought before in sanctioned competition; novice, for boys with previous ring experience who have never advanced to the novice finals in a major tournament; and open, for boys who have gone to the novice finals in a major tournament or who have comparable service experience.

The minimum age for all classes is 15 years. The maximum is 19 (as of January 5) for the junior novice class and 24 for the novice and open classes.

Excellent amateur boxing classes, conducted by competent instructors, are now in operation at amateur fight centers in Detroit, Dearborn, Highland Park, Inkster and Centerline. Any boy who wants to learn how to box is welcome to join the class at the center which he chooses. There is no charge of any kind for these lessons.

Boys who wish to learn the rudiments of the sport can make arrangements to do so by phoning the CYO office. Officials will direct him to the center nearest his home for free lessons.

"Anyone who intends to box in the CYO tournament should begin training immediately," adds the director, Frank Connolly. "They'll need all the training they can get in the next month."

Area High Schools To Compete In State Contest

Farmington and Clarenceville High Schools are among some 138 state high schools that are participating in the 36th annual debate contest sponsored by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services.

December and January are the months for the four rounds of preliminary debates. Then will come the spring eliminations which will journey to Ann Arbor April 24 for the final contest.

Each school has four students to make up an affirmative or negative team. Debate subject is "Resolved: That the Atlantic Pact Nations Should Form a Federal Union."

The individual high games are: P. Meyers, 135; J. Puckett, 135; M. S. Wilkinson, 131.

Individual high averages are: M. L. Brown, 120; R. Rickrode, 111; and M. E. Weber, 110.

There will be no bowling on December 18.

"CATS" SECURE HOLD IN FIRST POSITION WITH 6 POINT LEAD

The "Alley Cats" of Farmington High School's Boys' Bowling League have a firm and probably lasting hold on first place if they keep up the pace which they have maintained since the start of the season.

Last week the honors of the entire series were split among the various teams fairly evenly. The team high three games last week are: "Pin Crackers", 213; "Rolling Timbers", 211; "Hot Rods", 195. The three high single games of the week were rolled by Snyder, 153; Bowers, 155; and Williams, 157.

Team	Won	Lost

CONSERVATION CAMP HAS BEEN OPENED TO 4-H CLUB GIRLS

Instruction and experience in conserving Michigan's natural resources will come to 150 4-H girls and girls through a new conservation program announced this week at Michigan State College by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader.

Boys and girls who have completed at least a year-long program in the 4-H conservation project will be eligible to participate in local competition and earn a trip to a state conservation camp, Kettunen said.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company and Michigan Independent Telephone Association are sponsoring the camp, including transportation to and from, and living expenses while there. In addition, medals will be presented to conservation project winners in each county and a boy and girl in the state will earn an expense-paid trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The new program will be entirely supervised by the state 4-H club office, Kettunen said. Michigan Bell plans to spend more than $3,000 annually on the program. Definite plans have not been set for the annual conservation camp. At present about 75 boys attend a week of conservation camp at Chatham in the Upper Peninsula. An equal number of girls may earn a trip to the camp when the new program gets under way in 1953.

"State 4-H Club officials believe the conservation project to be one of the most important," Kettunen said. "The program brings economic benefits to the entire state."

CONSERVATION DEPT. GETS TOUGH WITH HUNTING VIOLATOR

Cooperation of conservation enforcement officers in Indiana and Michigan and an end to one violator's activity recently, the conservation department reports.

The story began to unfold when an alert Indiana officer found a deer in a locker plant in his area, bearing a Michigan resident tag. The deer belonged to an Indiana resident.

He notified Michigan authorities, who began a routine check. They found the man had purchased a resident hunting license. Checking further, they found he also had a Michigan license and a Michigan operator's license to make the whole story of his Michigan residence look real.

Finally, Indiana reported the violator was back in Michigan, trying for another deer — having used his wife's license for the first one. Apprehended, he was charged with hunting illegally on a Michigan resident license and with removing a deer from the state illegally.

The violator paid fines and costs totaling $115, had hunting privileges revoked for three years and was given seven days in jail to null the whole affair.

Indiana and Michigan cooperated on the case as acting members of the Association of Midwestern Fish and Game Law Enforcement Officers.

A little given seasonably excuses a great gift.

TROJAN QUINTET LOSES OPENER TO BENTLEY, 42 - 27

The Clarenceville Trojan basketball team dropped its season opener to the Bentley Bulldogs 42 to 27 on Tuesday, December 2.

Bentley racked up an early ten point lead at the end of the first quarter as they outscored the Trojans 16 to 6. Rutla scored three points for Clarenceville in the first quarter with Townsley accounting for another two and Merriam rounded out the scoring by sinking a foul shot.

The Bulldogs increased their lead in the second quarter as they outscored the Trojans 13 points to 6 to make the score 29 to 12 at the half. Townsley scored five points for the Trojans and Rutla added the other on a foul shot.

The Trojan defense clicked in the third quarter as the lads held Bentley to a mere six points. The Trojans scored eight points with Merriam sinking four of them. Evans two and Townsley and Rutla rounding out the scoring with one each. The score stood at 35 to 30 at the end of the third quarter.

Bentley scored seven points in the remaining quarter while holding Clarenceville to a like number. Merriam scored three and the Trojans with Rutla, Zavitz, Townsley and Koch picking up the balance with one each. The final score was 42 to 27.

Townsley was high point man for the Trojans with nine points. Merriam was a close second with eight and Rutla next with six.

EARLY CHICKS

Early chicks will pay off better in 1953 than they did in 1952. Most folks appear to have been formed many billions of years ago by the biochemical decomposition of vegetable matter.

Today, bluefins are commercially extinct fish in Lake Superior.

Intramural Teams Begin League Basketball Play

Intramural basketball is now going full blast at Farmington High School.

League play began Monday, December 8, with all teams swinging into action. Teams have been divided into two sections, A and B. In section A there are four teams led by acting captains J. Dellling, L. Clifford, J. Neal and D. Greco. Acting captains in section B are N. Anderson, D. Yordy, G. Plick, G. Hamlin, D. Pressley and C. Beam. Each team has eight members.

There will be four eight-minute quarters in each game. One minute rest periods between quarters and five minute periods between halves will be the only time-outs allowed.

Try these different sandwich filler combinations: bacon and turkey liver, cheese and carrot, raisin and nut, cheese and walnut, bacon and peanut butter, slice ham and raisin. A "surprise" in the lunch pail these winter days will be a treat for your family.

Engineering surveys are recommended for communities with air pollution problems.

SMART HOUSEWIVES SHOULD CHECK BUYING HABITS FOR ECONOMY

Holiday food costs may go zooming in your family if you don't check your food buying habits carefully, warns Faye Kinder of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department.

For instance, do you use reconstituted dry milk solids for some or all of the milk consumption in your family? If not, you are missing an opportunity to save money while providing your family with inexpensive milk. Do you take care to buy inexpensive fats such as lard for cooking?

When you are pondering in front of the meat counter, do a little mental calculating and figure how many servings a pound or piece of meat will make. Figure up monthly how much the meat or fish will cost per person.

Miss Kinder points out that buying in-season foods is wise. When fresh oranges are in abundant supply, buy them fresh and when not, buy canned or frozen orange juice. Following this suggestion will mean keeping track of plentiful and less expensive foods in your market at all times of the year.

Be cautious about buying "ready-made" foods. The price paid for them includes a lot of service and packaging which lifts the price all out of proportion to the cost of the food itself.

Finally, be alert to save even a few cents, stresses Miss Kinder. A few cents each time you go to market will amount to a pretty big sum by the end of the year.

Many commercial fishermen are opposed to chub fishing because the chub is believed to be the main food of the lake trout.

Sometimes that which is given with a kindly hand is more acceptable than what is given with a full hand.
