

BISHOP NELLIGAN WILL SPEAK AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

Members of the Our Lady of Sorrows Parish and their friends will be welcomed to a Christmas party at the Farmington High School auditorium on Sunday, December 14, at 8:15 p.m.

The speaker of the evening is to be Bishop Nelligan, a faculty member of Assumption College. Bishop Nelligan was appointed Bishop of the Canadian Armed Forces in 1939, and attained the rank of Brigadier General before his retirement in 1944.

Members of the Farmington church feel fortunate to have the beloved, sought-after churchman as guest of honor.

Another feature of the evening will be entertainment by the Detroit Catholic Central Band, which is very well known in this area. The party is being sponsored by the Sodality, Altar Society, Men's Club and the Holy Name Society. The Altar Society will provide refreshments for the evening and the Sodality and Men's Club will have charge of decorating, including the Christmas tree.

Entertainment will be provided, and community singing of Christmas carols will end the evening of fun — and everything is free of charge.

Members of the Altar Society plan a Pantry Shower for the Sisters this year and they remind everyone that the party would provide a good opportunity to put such donations under the tree.

Everyone is invited to the party and these in charge of the arrangements state that they would like to see the auditorium filled.

Oakland Democrats To Hear Mrs. Philip Hart

Mrs. Philip A. Hart of Birmingham will be guest speaker at an open meeting of the Southwest Oakland County Democrats at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, December 13, at the Union Lake School, corner of Union Lake and Commerce Roads.

Mrs. Hart, in addition to being the wife of United States District Attorney Philip Hart and the mother of five children, is also vice-chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

She will discuss "What Democrats can do to protect the gains of the past twenty years and to build the Democratic party for victory in 1954."

A social hour with refreshments will follow the discussion. All interested voters are invited to attend.

SPRINGBROOK SCENES Mrs. Howard Legg

By far the most popular man in this neighborhood last Saturday was Santa Claus when he made his visit at the Middlebelt - Ten Mile School. The children stood in long lines just to whisper their heart's desires and I doubt if one of the little angels said they had been had the whole year.

Our hats are off to the mothers and sponsors who worked so hard in making the Christmas Fair a success. Also a vote of thanks to all of those who were kind enough to donate the merchandise that was for sale.

Mrs. Vern Jean Taylor received many lovely gifts Wednesday night when her friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Esther Heath to shower her with dainty pink and blue things for the new arrival.

On Wednesday Junior Lee Hill arrived home, having earned the privilege of dressing as he likes and going and doing what he chooses instead of having an Army boss. He received his final discharge and he and his family are now looking for a house where they can settle down and make a permanent home.

Word was received by Mrs. Fred Bettridge that her cousin, Cpl. Edward Rose, had lost his life fighting with the Army in Korea. Pvt. Robert Deaven recently flew from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to visit his relatives here on Springbrook for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whitehouse arrived by train on Wednesday from their home in Eagle Rock, California. They will be spending the holiday season visiting their son and daughters here in Michigan.

Mr. Roy Whitehouse received a very pleasant surprise Friday when he and his wife called on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and found they were having a special party honoring his birthday.

Mrs. Margaret Kilner entertained her bunco club on Thursday evening that was attended by twelve of the neighborhood ladies. She served a lovely luncheon that was topped off with her delicious Christmas cookies. The next meeting will be a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Ilean Whitehouse on Rockwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson received quite a scare when they arrived home from work Thursday to find their small pup missing. Even after searching the neighborhood in the pouring rain they were unable to find him. He found his own way back, however, and was at home the next morning.

December 7 was a day that Mrs. Virginia Johnson of Tulare will not forget because on that date not so many years ago she came to live on this earth. She reports that she spent an enjoyable and full day in celebration.

Mrs. John Dedson and son Richard attended the Highland Park Baptist Church presentation of Handel's "Messiah" as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackburn on Sunday evening.

TB SEALS BACK CAMPAIGN TO COMBAT DISEASE

Even a single candle will give a lot of light in a dark basement and hundreds of candles burning together will glow stronger than the most powerful electric lamp.

This is one way to describe the secret of the success of the voluntary tuberculosis movement in this country. The TB and Health Society does not ask a few to do a lot. It does ask everyone to do a little. The philosophy of the Christmas Seal Sale holds that the individual purchase of one or two or three dollars, or whatever we can afford, is important.

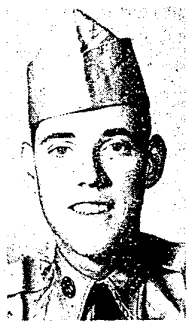

There is more than money at stake. When the crusade against tuberculosis was launched 45 years ago, the founders relied upon the seal sale as a way to arouse interest in wiping out the disease. The double-barred cross Christmas Seal Sale tells us that we can not relax personal and community measures to protect ourselves from this disease, measures like the annual chest x-ray.

These things are often called education. They are essential to waging war on tuberculosis.

A value if we fail to heed the call to go to the x-ray unit; a sanatorium cannot cure a patient if he is not persuaded that he should go to the sanatorium to get well.

This year's Christmas Seal carries an appropriate design — a double-barred cross and a glowing candle. Every purchase of these colorful Christmas stamps will strike a light of hope for eventual tuberculosis control.

Pvt. John Brunk Completes Training

PRIVATE JOHN BRUNK

Private John C. Brunk has completed basic combat training at the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center at Camp Gordon, Georgia.

A native of Farmington, he is the son of Mrs. George Brunk of 21630 Parker Avenue.

He is a graduate of Farmington High School and prior to his entering the service was employed by the Suburban Manufacturing Company in New Hudson.

In his basic combat training, Pvt. Brunk received instruction in infantry tactics and weapons, and other Army subjects designed to prepare the individual for his military duties. Signal Corps basic embodies all phases of training common to the Army program.

The Signal Corps Training Center, of which the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center is a part, is the key source of our Army's communications specialists. In four years, this center has mushroomed from a handful of buildings and founding cadre to the largest signal center in the world.

GRANDPARENTS

Police Chief and Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt are the proud grandparents of Faith Ann DeVriendt, who was born on November 26 at Ford Hospital.

Sgt. Richard DeVriendt will be returning this week to Bermuda, where he is stationed. His wife and daughter will be following in February.

OPS Investigates State Milk Prices

The Michigan Office of Price Stabilization this week launched a full scale investigation of all dairies in the state after OPS investigators discovered wide-spread violations of ceiling price regulations in the sale of retail milk at overpricing prices.

Sidney H. Woolner, Michigan OPS director, stated that virtually the entire staff of investigators has been assigned to look into evidence of non-compliance to existing regulations on the part of dairies throughout Michigan.

"Milk has been and is being sold at overpricing prices," Woolner stated, "and I have instructed the enforcement director to crack down immediately on all violators."

Enforcement director Horace W. Gilmore said that dairies in the Grand Rapids, Alpena and Traverse City areas have been found to be the most flagrant violators and OPS investigators are presently conducting full scale investigations in these regions.

Gilmore explained that while milk dealers are permitted to pass on increased costs, price raises greater than the cost increases have been reflected in the price of milk to the consumer.

Gilmore further pointed out that evidence of possible collusion between milk producers and retailers in order to obtain a higher retail price was also being investigated.

"Some instances have been found," Gilmore said, "in which retailers have been paying the farmer, with or without his knowledge and consent, a higher price for bulk milk than the then current market price called for, in order to become eligible for higher retail ceilings." It was explained that since the retailer is permitted to pass on his added costs, and since bulk milk is priced fractionally, the deliberate paying of higher prices by the retailer may make him eligible to charge higher retail prices when his cost reaches a certain marginal level.

Michigan State OPS director Woolner explained that the practices referred to by Gilmore and himself applied to outside dairies and were not prevalent in the Detroit area.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Wadsworth presented Mrs. Frank Steele with a beautiful African violet when they visited her on Eleven Mile Road the other day. Mrs. Steele recently returned from the St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac.
