Hadassah Plans Donor Luncheon

The Metropolitan Detroit chapter of Hadassah will hold their annual donor luncheon in the Raleigh House in Southfield at noon, Tuesday, May 1.

Mrs. Albert Newman, president of the chapter, will extend greetings to guests who are eligible for this event by their contributions and work on various fund raising projects through the year, which support Hadassah installations in Israel.

The afternoon will lead off with a toast to the 25th anniversary of the state of Israel.

Entertainment for the afternoon will come from Beth Sheva Laiken who will appear in an original dramatic presentation, "Call Them Blessed."

Miss Laikin is both an actress and a director, who earned a BA degree in anthropology from the University of Michigan and a MA degree in dramatic arts from New York University.

She has had leading roles with the Ann Arbor Arts Theater, Vanguard, World Stage and Center Theaters. Most recently she directed "The Crucible" and "Fiddler on the Roof" for Center Theater.

The afternoon has been arranged by Mrs. Eugene Kahn, chapter vice president of program, and Mrs. Harold Hoffman, chairman of the day.

Library 'Tea And See' Shows Braille Class

A demonstration class in Braille transcribing is scheduled in the Carl Sandburg Library in Livonia at 10 a.m. Tuesday, May 1.

Temple Beth El of Detroit will sponsor the demonstration and serve refreshments.

Women interested in learning Braille transcribing or just seeing the work that is done are invited to attend.

The transcribing class given each year by Temple Beth El in non-denominational and the oldest in the Detroit area.

Women who enroll get the use of a transcribing machine and learn to produce books the blind can read with their fingers.

Mrs. Richard Landin of Farmington, Temple Beth El Braille chairman, said there would be transcribers on hand at the tea to answer questions about next fall's class and the entire program.

The Carl Sandburg Library is located on Seven Mile west of Middle Belt.

Co-Op Nursery Plans Meeting

The Garden City Co-op Nursery will hold a "round-up" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 2, for parents planning to enroll their children in the program for the first time next fall.

The meeting will be in the Garden City Presbyterian Church, 1845 Middle Belt, just south of Ford Rd.

The nursery has classes for three and four-year-olds. Information about the nursery will be offered at the Wednesday night meeting.

Joanne Walt Wed To Gary Sarut

Joanne Walt and Gary Sarut were united in marriage in an April 14 afternoon ceremony in St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Walt of Robinwood Avenue, Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sarut of Starnwich Avenue, Livonia, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Leonard J. Koeninger officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

She wore a floor-length ivory gown with an overlay of embroidered organza. The gown and cathedral-length veil were trimmed with lace, and she carried white gladiolus and daisy mums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Anne Haney of Houston, maid of honor, wore a spring green voile gown and matching straw hat. She carried a basket of yellow daisy mums, pussy willows and straw flowers.

Bridesmaid Linda Jean Veenneman of Coopersville, Mich., wore a similar outfit in pale blue. She is the bride's cousin.

Assisting the bridegroom were Paul Pender of Ann Arbor as best man and Steve Antonashok of Livonia and Robert Walt of Plymouth, brother of the bride, as ushers.

Ted Morrocco of Livonia, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer. Both mothers selected floral print gowns for the wedding and reception for 150 guests in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The newlyweds went to Montreal for their honeymoon and will live in Plymouth. The new Mrs. Sarut is a Schoolcraft College student and employed by the Lake Pointe Dental Clinic. Her husband graduated from Michigan State College and teaches in the Livonia School District.
