SCHOOL BANDS ATTRACT CROWD FOR SPRING CONCERT

A large crowd attended the annual band concert at the Farmington High auditorium Friday, March 27.

The Flute, Intermediate and Senior Bands participated.

The Intermediate Band opened the program with three numbers: "America", "Melody" and "Lightly Row". Their best rendition was "Lightly Row".

"Twinkle Twinkle" was the best tune of three played by the Flute band.

The Senior Band was requested to play "Jam Session" by Mrs. Herini. P. T. A. President. They also played "March - E Pluribus Unum", "Symphony No. 5 in E Minor" and "Little Rhapsody in Blue".

Four soloists also participated: Robert Esterline, trombonist; Herbert Bruggman, cornetist; Alice Annette, flutist; and John Clark, trombonist. They were accompanied respectively by Linda Esterline, Bonnie Sovereign, Lois Ayres and Lenore Gildemeister.

Two trophies were presented at the concert by Mr. Lloyd Smith, band director. Dennis Cannath received the section trophy for the flutes. Jack Phibbs was voted by the band as the most outstanding member of the year and was presented a trophy for this honor.

There was no admission charged for the concert. However, a free will offering was taken to help purchase new band uniforms.

IS IT UP TO US?

Now that the Athletic Association's Carnival is over and the smoke of battle has subsided, we hope school life will once again return to normal.

We would like to extend special recognition to Miss Margaret Ling and Mr. Warren Piche, the faculty co-chairmen of this project, to the P.T.A. mothers, and to our students who contributed so much of their time and energy toward the success of the carnival.

We know of no recent project that has taken up so much of the average student's or teacher's day. School life has literally been hectic for the past three months. To make the carnival the success it was, individuals were compelled to work either after school, during study halls, and in some cases week ends - several forfeited all of these free moments.

Granted, teenagers should be presented challenges but when they must devote all their extra time to projects such as the carnival, the main aim of education is defeated.

Therefore, though we have supported this year's carnival - we have published some dozen articles, nearly 2000 words - we hope that this will not become an annual affair.

We feel that the students and faculty should not have to contribute a carnival or any fundraising project to the operation of the Athletic Association's program.

We hope that in the future the taxpayers of the community will feel it their responsibility to provide the necessary money so that students and teachers may make school a place of learning and not an institution to make money.
