Knitted Look Is a Must for Spring Finery

BY EDNA MILES

ONE fashion idea that's taking an important hold for spring is the knitted look. This means that dresses, basic suits, even cravats, are knitted, crocheted, or hand-woven.

Designer Ann Fleischer has done a whole group of these fashions on a knitted theme, even combining them with classic cashmere sweaters, cuffs and belts on cashmere sweaters and matched this trim to wavy-ribbed skirts and jackets.

A skirt of hand-woven ribbon in a red, white, and blue check was shown with three versions of the navy cashmere top. One black cashmere with three-quarter-length sleeves and scoop neckline kept company with a black, hand-knitted silk skirt dotted with large, hand-knitted poppies.

For the first time linen yarn is crocheted in an Irish lace pattern and set into a dress-top worn with a matching hand-knitted linen skirt. For a hand-knitted sweater-dress, the designer uses dusty pink, flame, and wine for a triangular top and pairs it with a skirt in solid wine.

The hand-woven ribbon material has been adapted to men's cravats. Women like to buy ties that match their own dresses and give them to their husbands. These have banded details or solid stripes.

Ann Fleischer designs an elegant hand-woven ribbon tie, in white, with a contrasting band worked on a skirt. This is one of the cravats she shows with her tailored knits for husband and wife style harmony. The dress combines a cashmere pullover and hand-woven black and white ribbon-skirt collar and cuffs.

The lecture will be presented by Frank F. Ford, C. S. of Washington, D. C. Mr. Ford is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Massachusetts.

Everyone in the Farmington community is invited to attend the lecture.

SEW AT HOME FOR ECONOMIC AND TRAINING

Why sew at home? Why bother making your own clothes in this day of mass-produced clothes? To these pointed questions Marlon Hillhouse of the Michigan State College textile, clothing and related art department has some logical answers.

The first justification for sewing at home, points out Miss Hillhouse, is an economic one. How is it possible for the mother of an average family to avoid making some clothing or at the very least doing the alterations on the clothes she buys? How can she afford to throw out clothing that is still good because she lacks the skill and designing ability to see how to bring the old clothing up to date?

For girls learning to sew should help develop critical judgment of ready-to-wear and it helps them to select with greater wisdom. It helps them in sewing and training helps develop taste and ability to select clothes with individuality and style rather than clothes that are just the latest fashion.

Perhaps the most important reason of all for sewing at home, Miss Hillhouse believes, is that everyone has latent creative ability and imagination that should be brought out. "What more natural way than to practice both designing and making clothing? It can be a fruitful and satisfying outlet for the creative urge. Purely from the sewing can be of inestimable value both as a necessary vocation and a possible hobby for leisure hours.

Womans Club Hears Paper About Florida

The Farmington Womans Club held its last meeting on Wednesday, April 1, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Lindland, at 34157 Nine Mile Road.

The 2:00 p.m. meeting was highlighted by the reading of a paper which had been written by Mrs. Ralph Auten on Florida. Mrs. Auten is program chairman for the organization.

Following the reading of the paper, tea was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Edwin L. Johnson and her son Don of Clarita Avenue, Mrs. Forrest Autt and her son Forrest of Hubbard Avenue and Mrs. M. E. Ault of Mayfield Avenue were calling in Plymouth Friday.
