

Sharon Tuthill Places Sixth In Spelling Bee

Miss Sharon Tuthill and Janet Pridemore went to the Union Lake School April 17 to participate in the annual Oakland County District No. 4 spelling contest.

The chairman was Mr. Joseph Whetmore, principal of the Union Lake School. Twenty-two students from the fifth grade to the eighth participated. Sharon Tuthill, a seventh grader, went down on the word unformidable. She took sixth place.

John Clappison Sells Insurance

Used TRACTOR Values

USED FORD TRACTORS
From $425 up
JOHN DEERE "A" TRACTOR
with Front End Manure Loader
Only $775.00

INTERNATIONAL "H" TRACTOR with Double Flow, new paint.

$975.00
INTERNATIONAL "47" MODEL
"A" with vacuum controls, mounted mower.

$450
ALLIS CHALMERS "WC", new paint, very good condition.
Only $925.00

EVERY TRACTOR with mounted 2-row Cultivators, good tires.

Only $465.00

HUGH ARMS & SON
(38 Years Ford Products)
SOUTH LEXON
Phone GENEVA 8-4241

The Trojan Banner

THE TROJAN BANNER

Published weekly by the Clareville High School Journalism Class through the courtesy of The Farmington Enterprise.

Editor - Pat Storti

Assistant Editor - Pat Storti

Business Manager - Pat Storti

Feature Editor - Pat Storti

Copy Editor - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

Reporter - Pat Storti

C.H.S. Student Actors Await Curtain Time Tomorrow Night

Don't forget to come to the Junior play "Our Miss Brooks" which will be presented tomorrow evening, Friday, April 24, at 8:15 in the Clareville gymnasium. The cast and director, Mrs. Mary Lavers, have been rehearsing often to make the presentation a success.

Practically in Room 204 and in the gymnasium have been going on for the last month and a half. All of the three acts are memorized now and there isn't much left to do except to work on the scenery which will require a blackboard, desks, and other classroom fixtures, as the play takes place in Miss Brooks' classroom.

This play is a three act comedy by Perry Clark, and it was adapted from the original material by R. J. Mann. There are quotations from "Lost Horizon" also in the play. The royalty of $35 was paid earlier last month, because the arrangements had to be made in advance of the performance. To help pay the royalty, each member of the junior class donated fifty cents.

This comedy has an exceptional large cast of five boys and twelve girls. Miss Brooks is portrayed by Cynthia Riddle, who does a very good job. Miss Finch, the librarian, is played by Yvonne Jacob. Dorothy Riddell does well in the part of Miss Audubon, the high strung music teacher. Lynn Seaton is the athletic coach, Hugo Longacre. Ellis Grace plays Mr. Wadsworth, the troubled principal.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

STUDENT SPEAKERS VIE FOR HONORS IN ANNUAL MEET

On April 14, the annual Forensic Contest was held at the Northville Lutheran Church. Those attending from Clareville were: Annie Allan, Donna Dorman, Ellis Grace, Sally Hall, Betty McCloskey, Nancy Moore and Jane Reetz.

In the declamation contest, held in the morning, were Sally Hall with "The Tragic Addition" and Betty McCloskey with "But I Am One". In the interpretation of dramatic reading was Jane Reetz.

In the extemporaneous contest was Annie Allan and Ellis Grace. Ellis came in third while Annie came in fourth.

In the declamation there were seven entries, original orations, for which we had no entry, had five. Entries in humorous number five and there were ten in extemporaneous.

The contest started at 9:30 and lasted until 4:00 p.m. Also attending from Clareville was Sharon Moreland. The schools participating in the contests were Drighthon, Clareville, Clarkston, Holly, Milford and Northville. The contests were judged by the coaches from the schools. Luncheon was served in the church.

The final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an uproar. She has two girls feuding over the main part, basketball players coming into the English room, bouncing balls because the play cast is using the gym, the principal just can't understand why there are so many problems about producing a play, and the president of the school board is trying to get her fired because her daughter didn't get the main part in the play. You will be sure to get your money's worth of laughs when you see the final conclusion of the play. Don't forget to come and share the troubles of "Our Miss Brooks" tomorrow night.

Pat Storti is Rhonda Allen, the conceited and envious daughter of the president of the school board. Mrs. Allen, who is portrayed by Miss Glendora, the theater basketball player on the school team, is Jim Galloway. One of his girl friends, Jane, is Gerry Estep. The other students in the play are: Sylvia, Ellen Grace; Elaine, Winnifred Layman; Doris, Dolores Koenig; Marge, Betty Gourlay; Faith, Dorothy Robertson; Stanley, Bob Whiffeld; Elsie, Phil Phillips; and Martin, Larry Ashmore.

The story of the play is when Miss Brooks is trying to direct a play without troubles or difficulties and she has the whole student body confused and the members of the faculty in an upro