Spring Concert Proves Successful

The Junior and elementary bands, combined, played "America" for the opening number of the Spring Concert last Thursday, April 30, at 8:00 p.m. Following this they played "Easy Step March," "Shadowland" and "The Junior Band March."

The senior band then made its appearance and began with "Manhattan Beach March," "Night Beat," "Hungarian Dances" and "El Capitán." Ralph Gault played a drum solo, "Jazzmaster," "Southern Fantasy" featured Arla Haight, Donald Melton and Garrett Van Camp is a saxophone trio, Catherine Barnes, Thomas Wilson, Christine Groves and Allan Young played "Musical Echoes." "Sleepy Baby Sleep" and "Make Believe" respectively were sung by the chorus. "This Is My Country" starred the girls' triple trio which consisted of three sopranos, Joyce Paul, Marlene Robitaille and Nancy Williamson; three second sopranos, Barbara Berberich, Sharon Jewett and Marjorie Godette; and three altos, Joy Gault, Mary Lou Shuffert. The chorus then sang "Summertime" in which Joyce Paul was the soloist.

The boys' quartet sang "Sleepy Time Gal." These in the boys' quartet were Fred Gault, Ralph Gault, Ellis Grace and Charles Meyer.

The last selection of the chorus was "Country Gardens".

Mr. Joseph Markell played three saxophone solos, "Deep Purple," "Oodles of Noodles" and "Nola".

A medley of "All the Things You Are" and "Where or When" was played by the dance band and also Mr. Markell's own arrangement of the "Johnston Fling".

The majorettes, Sally Albers, Sally Swartzfield and Evelyn Wered, twirled to the music of "Blue Tango" which was played by the dance band. The band's last selection was "Time Out for Jam Session".

The chorus and the bands then joined together to play and sing "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Are teen-agers of today worse than teen-agers of yesterday? I don't think so, every day I hear complaints about the teen-agers of today but if it really would be 20 years into their own youth I think they'd find we are no worse and maybe a little better.

For the past few weeks we have been hearing news of the prisoner exchange in Korea. What are the age limits of these returning prisoners and men still fighting? They range, mostly, from 18 - 24. We can volunteer to serve our country and are eligible for the draft.

Are the people back home being fair when they judge these boys by the behavior of a few and voice disfavor of the teen-agers of today? I think it deserves a little credit. The youth of today is independent and willing and capable to stand on its own feet and do a man's job. Many are working after school and week ends to complete their education or help out at home. Don't you think this deserves a little credit?

Most teen-agers of today have many interests and can converse intelligently on any subject from the happenings in the Far East. They are not content with just accepting knowledge or going along with the improvements of today. They question and investigate, seeing a tell-tale down a transmission or worry their mother by fooling with the television set is not uncommon. When you want something done and no one else is in sight you're mighty glad to have a Junior around. I think if credit is given for these things the youth of today would appreciate it and try even harder to be good Americans and citizens.

TWO SENIOR GIRLS PLAN TO ATTEND MSNC THIS FALL

Two seniors from Clarencville High School have been accepted to Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti. They are Patricia Jones and Phoebe Stollaker.

These girls will leave for the school this fall, September 11.

They will try to make arrangements for rooming together.

Patricia has been active in G. A. A., chorus, Student Council, of the year work and co-editor of the yearbook. She is planning to be an early elementary teacher and will attend four years.

Phoebe will be taking a general course the first year, and then if she continues, she will study education. She has been active in the library, office work and girls athletics.

Both girls filled out applications and sent them in in April. Mr. Max Miller, principal, sent in their credits. Phoebe and Patricia will leave in time for "Freshman Week" at the school.

P. S.

Tonight's night of the Junior - Senior banquet. The time is set for 6:30 p.m. The place is the Clarencville High School gym.

There will be food consisting of baked ham, fried chicken, Jello salad, fruit cup, hot rolls, butter, assorted relishes, apple pie, coffee, tea or milk. Black's Catering Service from Northville will cater the meal and ten sophomore girls will serve.

Soft music by the recordio will be played during the meal for entertainment. The decorations will consist of streamers of silver and lilac drawn up to the ceiling, the class mottoes for the '53 and '54 classes will be put on opposite walls.

Corages will be given to each senior as a souvenir of the evening. Twenty-seven girls and twenty-two boys, 100 juniors and 50 board members and teachers comprise the number attending the banquet.

Frosh Favorite

This week's Frosh Favorite is a girl that you are very likely to see roaming about the hall with her pals, Carol Bennett, Marjorie Ferris, Gwen Delwright, Dolores Campbell and Gale Long.

This young Miss is just naturally Marjorie Godette, who has brown eyes, dark hair and stands five feet eight inches tall. She loves the color blue, and likes to sit and eat ice cream or potato chips while watching her favorite TV show, Red Button.

Marjorie's favorite song is "Till I Waltz Again With You", sung by Tressa Brewer, and when she attends a movie she likes to watch Martin and Lewis or Claudette Colbert.

Her achievements are singing, playing the piano, being artistic. Her main ambition in life, she says, is getting married.

Marjorie's favorite subject is Math. Her pastime is dancing and playing the piano. Her hobby is drawing.

Students Look Forward To League Council Meet

The Student Council of Clarencville High School held a meeting Wednesday, April 29. The chief discussion was based upon the League Council meeting in May. Since the meeting will be held at Clarencville High School, they will have to prepare the lunch. Sloppy Joe's (hamburgers) and white and chocolate milk and coffee will be served to the members, as it was voted upon.

The last thing to be discussed at the meeting was the Council sending flowers to Robert Selke, who is in the St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, Michigan.

Girls Hold Playday; Three Schools Join In

A playday was held at Farmington Wednesday, April 22. Three schools participated in the day's activities. They were Redford Union, Clarencville and Farmington.

Each girl was given a yellow, red, blue or green tag. Then all the girls went into a group with the rest of the girls of the same color. The Reds played the Blues and Yellows played Greens in softball. The Reds and Greens won.
