School Candidates Hearings On Two Township Cases Set For May 25 In Circuit Court

Action against two alleged violators of the Farmington Town-ship Zoning Ordinance was started this week in Oakland County Circuit Court by A. G. Leonard, attorney for the Board, in the first legal step to establish more strict enforcement of the township ordinances. Leonard reported to the Board that a show cause hearing has been set for Moaday, May 25, in Circuit Court in Chaneery. The numes of the individual involved were not disclosed but they are property owners, in the Farmington Yiew subdivision. According to the charges, the individuals are using garages as resildences, they have secured no certificate of occupancy and are using outdo occupancy and are using étoilets. All three are v of the Zoning Ordinance. ing to Leonard, the prope ers were advised of the and were asked to com the ordinance but failed
