CONVENIENCES, FOOD WASTE BOOST BUDGET

Having trouble with your food budget these days? Here are sev-eral suggestions from Mary Morr of the foods and nutrition depart-ment at Michigan State College ment at Michigan State College to help ease the situation.

Watch how much edible food your dollar buys. Do a little arithmetic to see how much you plan. For instance, does your family eat the fat of med, or do you discard most of the fat? and for the fat of med, or do you then you must be fat of med, or do you then you must be fat of the fat? The fat of the fat of the fat? The fat of the fa

It represents money but cannot be eaten.

Miss Morr recommends watching closely how much you pay for services which you_might do ro yourself. Is the conrenience of buying some food ready to bake and serve worth more to you than the time it might take you to prepare these items for yourself? Some of these ready-to-bake-and serve items are expensive from the viewpoint of the amounts of certain types of food they contain. viewpoint of the amounts of cer-tain types of food they contain, she explains. When you try a product for the first time, it is worth your while in dollars and cents to check how much you get for your money.

The three top-ranking bituminous coal producing counties in Pennsylvania are Washington Cambridge and Greene.
