

TRAINING COURSE
FOR POLIO AIDES
NOW UNDER WAY

The polio emergency training course for volunteers got under way at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac Monday, June 22.

This is the third annual course that has been offered to train volunteers to work as assistants to doctors and nurses in treating polio cases.

One of the most recent Farmington volunteers for the course is Mrs. Lily Barnum, who began the four week course on Monday evening.

Mrs. James Lillie of Farmington is Oakland County chairman of the polio organization. She was a member of the first class which completed its work at the hospital in 1951.

Mrs. Lillie has announced that the course is open to anyone interested in the polio problem and she added that male, as well as female, volunteers have applied for the course.

The course is being offered each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the hospital. Various organizations, including three from Farmington, have agreed to furnish refreshments following the evening program.

Farmington Macabees
Attend Alma Dedication

The Macabees of Liberty Tent Hive 1027 of Farmington were invited to attend the dedication of their monument at the Alma Macabees Home. Monday, June 22, two bus loads left Detroit. Attending from Farmington were Mrs. Stella Romanek, Bertha Spaller, Elizabeth Timmon, Elsie Sutton and Anna Becker.

Break Ground
For New Hospital

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $5,000,000 Oakland Hospital at Woodward, Thirteen Mile and Cowdige Highway were held recently as the basic excavation was started ten days ahead of schedule.

The new hospital is expected to be complete in 18 months and represents the last major construction project of the Greater Detroit Hospital Fund program.

Mayors, city managers and township officials were on hand from ten South Oakland County communities for the ceremony.

The first shovelful of earth was turned by E. A. Tomlinson, hospital president, and he was assisted by H. Lloyd Clawson of Royal Oak, L. B. Babcock of Bloomfield Hills and Student Nurse Colleen Cole of St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac.

Mrs. Grace Simpson of Mayfield Avenue spent last Saturday with her granddaughter, Miss Nancy Ackerson, of Gill Road. Nancy has been quite ill.

Bishop Stephen Woznicki Speaks
Before Daughters Of Isabella Meeting

The 24th annual state convention of the Daughters of Isabella was held in the Bancroft Hotel in Saginaw June 19 and 20 with members of Santa Maria Circle of Farmington as hostesses.

The convention closed Saturday evening with the Most Reverend Stephen S. Woznicki, D.D., principal speaker.

In the Crystal Ballroom of the Bancroft Hotel, followed by the business session.

The Michigan State Circle is composed of 59 circles with 12,825 members. Those attending from Our Lady of Sorrows Circle 617 of Farmington were Laura Oszark, regent delegate, Stella Strye, acting past regent, and state trustee; Helen Martin, first regent of the circle; and Lou Brown, past regent.

The convention closed Saturday evening with the Most Reverend Stephen S. Woznicki, D.D., principal speaker.

Blue Star
Mothers
L. MCINTYRE

Farmington Chapter 49 of the Blue Star Mothers of America held a regular business meeting in the Town Hall on Thursday, June 18.

An interesting report was read from the eleventh annual Detroit meeting held in Saginaw. Farmington was represented by four delegates, Josephine Hinz, Mary Morris, Irene Krueger and Margaret Kahrl.

Chapter past presidents attending were Lettie McIntyre, Elva Vanderburgh and Ethel Lint. Invitations to the chapter meetings were received from St. Clair Shores, No. 21, on June 25 and Redford, No. 97, on July 9 for anniversary dinners.

The July luncheon will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, July 8.

SUMMER FOOD CARE
REQUIRES CAREFUL
REFRIGERATION

Make sure your picnic committee knows about safe food handling practices, advises Dr. Joseph H. Mohner, Detroit commissioner of health. Since January 1, 26 cases of suspicious food poisoning were reported to and investigated by the Department of Health. Most of these were traced to food served to groups at weddings, picnics or meetings in halls. Almost invariably the food was prepared in rather large quantities by persons who did not act as food handlers ordinarily.

In most cases of food poisoning the food has not been kept properly refrigerated. Adequate refrigeration is important and meat must be refrigerated both before and after it is cooked. Some of the food poisonings came about because meat or potato salad was prepared the day before the party and kept overnight in the kitchen or basement instead of in a refrigerator.

Whenever you prepare food, use care and cleanliness. Wash your hands just before you touch the food and make sure that all the dishes, mixing forks, spoons, and pans are thoroughly clean.

Food poisonings are caused by the growth of germs in food and these multiply very rapidly when certain foods are kept at room temperatures. In even an hour or two the food may become unfit to eat without changing its appearance or taste or smell. Special care should be given to meats — raw, precooked or cooked — fish, milk, salad dressing, cream filling, custards, puddings and gelatin preparations. All of them should be kept at 50 degrees or below.

Food in the picnic basket should be kept clean and cold while it is being prepared and kept refrigerated until transferred to an insulated container or one packed in ice for transportation. Baked beans, sandwich fillings and potato salad can be put into clean, closed jars and then packed in a box filled with bracked ice and thoroughly insulated by wrapping the entire box in newspaper. Keep the refrigerated picnic foods covered and put them in the shade until they are eaten.

CHURCH SCHOOL
STUDENTS DISPLAY
WEEK'S WORK

The closing program of the Orchard Methodist Church was held on Friday, June 19, with approximately 75 persons on hand as the young students displayed some of the work they had accomplished during the five-day school.

Church officials report that an average of 54 pupils attended the school.

The 7:30 p.m. program on June 19 was highlighted when the beginners presented a religious picture to the Sunday School. The preliminary studies then presented a poem and group reading and the junior boys' and girls' group read several songs.

Following that part of the program, the intermediate group dedicated a reproduction of the stained glass window.

An open house followed the regular program and refreshments were furnished those present by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson.

Farmington BPW
Install Officers

The Farmington Business and Professional Women's Club held installation of officers and committee chairman at ceremonies on Monday evening, June 15, at Hark's Redford Inn. The following were installed: president, Gladys White; vice-president, Margery Morris; recording secretary, Audre Mahoney; corresponding secretary, Shirley Hatfield; treasurer, Inez Edgar; program coordinator, Jean Ross; membership, Phyllis Iltis; health and safety, Lillian Willis; finance, Laura Young; news service and national security, Margaret Ward; radio and television, Iva Hutton; international relations, Irene Breen; public affairs, Sylvia Anderson; education and localities, Bernice Tugg; legislation, Julia Nedetz; reservations, Roberta Hoffman.

Miss Elizabeth Eitz, past president of the Northville B.P.W., presided at the candlelight ceremony. Each officer received a card from a large center paper, then recited the duties of their respective offices. The committee chairmen lighted their candles from those of the officers, and returned to their tables to light the small candles at each place. Club members and guests stood holding the lighted candles while Miss Eitz read the benediction.

Other speakers were Mrs. May Young, of Ann Arbor, past extension chairman; Miss Verna Dunlap of Detroit, state membership chairman; Miss Marcella Douglas of Northville, outgoing district chairman; Miss Evelyn Burke of Ann Arbor, incoming vice-chairman of District 2; Mrs. Burke and Miss Dunlap attended the first meeting and were very helpful along with the Northville Club, who aided in getting the Farmington club organized.

The club started a year ago with 30 charter members and now has a total of 53. Any business or professional woman is eligible to join the club. Further information may be obtained by contacting any of the members or Mrs. Phyllis Iltis, membership chairman, at Farmington 2094.

Last Wednesday evening, in the church parlors, the collection of the Livonia Methodist Church tendered a farewell party to Rev. Cadmon Prout, who has been transferred to the pastorate of another church.

'Aquatic Meet'
Set For Scouts

By popular demand, a repeat performance of last year's very popular "Aquatic Meet" has been scheduled for Scouts of this area by George A. Small, the local Council's director of summer activities, according to an announcement by Scout Executive Amos R. Shields.

The program is open to all registered Scouts and Explorers of the Council, and as some of the events are "for fun only" — not requiring any special swimming skill or ability — most Troops and Posts should enter teams in all events. Each District will conduct its own preliminaries.

Events included in each meet and the finals are the 25-yard free style, 25-yard back stroke, 25-yard breast stroke, 200 yard free, 25-yard back stroke tow, and five fun numbers such as apple balance relay, trouser emergency relay, and a quick change relay.

Winners of the district meets will compete in the Council finals at Patton Pool, 2391 Woodward, 7:00 to 9:00 Wednesday evening, July 23. Outstanding sports celebrities will attend the finals, according to Director Small.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ault, with their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Virginia Oman and Ruth Ann, were last Saturday night guests at a housewarming party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Pershing in Redford.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Armstrong of Fredericksburg, Virginia, were guests part of last week of the former's brother, Charles A. Armstrong, and Mrs. Armstrong, of Mayfield Avenue. On Sunday the two families met at the home of another brother in East Detroit and all enjoyed a family dinner.
