

Fishing Without License Proves Unpopular Sport

Fishing without a license became a highly unpopular sport with 177 anglers after they were apprehended performing their misdeeds, during June, the conservation department reports.

The fines they paid added heavily to the month's total of nearly $3,500 paid by a total of 335 persons convicted of conservation law violations during the month. Also, the violators absorbed 193 days in jail sentences.

More than 250 of the violators were anglers; the remainder were convicted of game and other law violations.

Taking bass while the season was closed caused trouble for 44 violators; 15 were apprehended taking undersized game fish and 12 were convicted of taking frogs during the closed season.

ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

Here we are the other morning, minding our own business when in strides a gent to remark he had been reading this column and from every indication perhaps we were a candidate for Alcoholics Anonymous.

"Matter of fact, said he, 'I've been thinking of joining myself. I've always wanted to find a place I would do my drinking in the Q.T.'"

Man, oh man, is he in for a surprise, but then again, you'll be too when you first get behind the wheel of the Studabaker for '55. Nothing quite so stimulating, to our way of thinking as the thrill of a fine motor car and you'll find everything you've hoped for in the Studabaker. Abundant power, ease of handling, perfect vision, amazing comfort and more economy than you ever believe possible. You owe it to yourself to try the Studabaker now!

We know a fellow who employs a very good stenographer — can spell and everything — but she's always late for work in the morning. Flustered that he could get three or four extra letters per day if the girl arrived at nine instead of being half an hour late, he asked if she wouldn't be on time the next morning. "But," said she, "I tried that once and it made the day too long!"

Perhaps the longest day you'll ever put in is the day the car fails you because of neglected service, and you spend several hours along some highway awaiting succor. Of course, we wouldn't rush up and say we told you so, but we would like to remind you to go take a check that that service card on the door frame and find out the last time you took advantage of this fine grease and oil service in our shop to say nothing of the motor tune-up your car undoubtedly needs.

"That's that, but we overheard a fellow remark about his boss the other day. 'The bigger a man's head gets, the easier it is to fill his shoes.'"

AS HARDY PLANTS PROVIDE SOLID TURF

Many homeowners are getting enthusiastic about the new lawn grass, Merion. They've observed the new strain of grass in test plots at Michigan State College.

During two years of testing at MSC, the new grass has shown that it has many advantages over ordinary Kentucky blue. That's the word from James Tyson, MSC researcher in charge of the plots.

The Merion patch, for example, has stood closer mowing and has retained a better color and denser turf than the ordinary bluegrass plots growing near it. Merion is resistant to leaf spot in the spring — that's one of the reasons it has a more lush green color. Leaf spot is one of the worst enemies of ordinary bluegrass.

Because Merion maintains a dense turf, there is little chance for crabgrass or weeds to grow in it. Crabgrass peeks its ugly head out of the turf when there is a break in the bluegrass in the lawn.
