EDITORIALS: It's Our Opinion

The Ban On Hunting . . .

in Farmington Township is just another example of the changes taking place in our community. It serves to point up a significant lesson for all of us.

A ban on the use of firearms in the township was inevitable for two basic reasons. One was because of the density of population, the other was because of poor sportsmanship. If the ban had not been approved last Monday, it would have been in the immediate future.

A great many people fail to realize what has happened in the township in the past few years and what is going to happen in the next few. Actually only a comparatively small portion of the township is safe for hunting at the present time and this is confined mostly to the northwestern section of the area. Because this is the only remaining open country, it is the center for present and future building expansion.

In a recent meeting of the Township Board, three major subdivision plats were tentatively approved, and as this editorial is being written work is going ahead on the developments. This was just one meeting of the Township Board. Similar action is being taken almost every month. As the density of population increases, the hazards of hunting increase, not only for the property owner but for the hunter himself.

Poor sportsmanship on the part of many hunters has also had a major part in the ban. Every season we get new reports of carelessness and abuses on the part of hunters. In a number of cases lives have been endangered and in many more property has been virtually destroyed. We realize that good sportsmen denounce this type of behavior and we know, too, that Sportsmen's Clubs are doing everything possible to eliminate this condition. But, where so many people are involved, the problem requires immediate action.

A number of residents have questioned the feasibility of enforcing the law, now that it exists. It will require greater police protection and more vigilance during certain seasons of the year. But, more important, it gives residents as well as the police a more direct and easier method of handling the problem. Other communities around us, with the same conditions, have made the ban successful.

New Words . . .

are hard to find sometimes, especially when they concern such a vital subject as human life.

Millions and probably billions of words have been written and spoken about the importance of giving blood. What can we add that will be new and different? What can we say that will make you want to give, and give gladly?

Your blood will save a life! We're well aware of this fact, but somehow it's impersonal and distant. Whose life . . . the victim of a traffic accident, a patient suffering from polio, a person injured in a fire or explosion? Yes, any one of these and many more. But still it's all very vague and far away. We all want to save lives, but there are so many demands on our time.

Yet, we wouldn't hesitate a minute if one of our family or one of our neighbors needed blood. Why? Because it's personal and close to home. Did you know that during the past year, scores of your friends and neighbors have received life-giving blood through the Farmington credit bank? All they had to do was call the local chairman, state the case, and the blood was released without any expense to them. There is nothing vague or distant about that . . . it is happening right here. But the continuance of this vital service is directly dependent on all of us. Unless we keep the credit bank filled, someone may not get the blood they so urgently need.

Take a few minutes this week and register . . . then give a pint of blood on Monday, October 19, at the Farmington Town Hall. You may help save a life right here at home.

The Old Grad . . .

from Missouri is having lots of fun these days sending off from his seat in the bleachers. As he sees it the whole bench and coaching staff down in Washington are a bunch of "pinchpennies who have neither faith nor vision." Wonder why the American people hired a new coach and put a new team on the field? Wonder why they are voicing approval of the way things are going? Look at the scoreboard, Harvey . . . maybe that's the answer!

When the Frost Is on the Pumpkin . . .

Will a party boss system return to Michigan if proposed changes in methods of nominating state officials take effect?

That is one fear of those who oppose the pre-primary plan now under study by the Republican State Central Committee. And the fear is without foundation according to Harold O. Love, Detroit tax attorney.

Mr. Love advocates a program where responsible party members study qualifications of candidates and either approve or disapprove. Names of approved candidates would appear on the ballot as endorsed by the party; unapproved candidates could still run as Republicans, but without party endorsement.

LOOKING AHEAD

by GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Michigan College State, Alhambra

Our nation is rapidly approaching a cross-roads in its economic life. We must either reaffirm our faith in the private enterprise system, and take the measures necessary to preserve it, or decide one-and-for-all that it has lost its usefulness and let it slide further under the control of tax-hungry, highly centralized bureaucratic government. The decision to be made is just that clear. At stake is your prosperity and your freedom.

Most Americans will contend they have made the decision time and time again—in favor of keeping the private enterprise system and resisting socialization of our economy. That's true. But the governmental action necessary to make the decision effective for the future has not been taken. Our private enterprise economic system is being robbed of its vitality and the opportunity for adequate expansion by a taxation system harshly penalizing success and crippling the incentive for private investment.

The U. S. News, weekly news magazine devoted to national and world affairs, has just completed an intensive staff study of our nation's economy and the effects of various rates of taxation upon its progress. The researchers noted that in recent years the federal government has dominated the U. S. economy, taking about 25 per cent of the national income in taxes, buying vast quantities of goods and services, and enlarging its own industrial and business enterprises which compete with private business.

Conclusions drawn from the study are of vital importance to every citizen. Here is the key conclusion:

"It is going to take drastic changes in taxes if private capitalism again is to work freely and on its own in the United States. A form of state capitalism, with government doing the investing, will have to emerge unless private enterprise can increase."

"State capitalism," as used in this conclusion, means socialism. The "cross-roads" in our economic life is just ahead. We will not see the expansion in the production of peace-time consumer goods that will be needed to offset the reduction in the wartime government spending of the last 12 years unless taxes are reduced drastically to restore the incentive for private investment.

"If private capitalism is to take over as Government withdraws," observes the U. S. News, "there will need to be incentives to take risks, rewards promised that will encourage investment. Yet you find that present tax policy, based upon punitive rates, has precisely the opposite effect." It discourages investment. Thus, as government begins gradually to cut the multi-billion spending budget and to open a production gap into which private enterprise should expand, the private funds to finance the needed expansion may not be available. Contingency taxes on profits have been drying up the source.

With atomic energy awailing development, with the science of chemistry opening vast industrial horizons, and with our population growing, our nation stands today at the threshold of its most prosperous era. The development cannot be healthy, lasting, however, unless it comes through the normal progress of our private enterprise system.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

NO HUNTING
Warning is issued by officials of Farmington that no hunting is permitted within the city limits. Although the season opens October 25 and hunters are permitted to shoot pheasants for one week, this permission does not apply within the city limits. Officials are taking unusual precautions to assure observance of the law and declare that its provisions will be strictly enforced.

Letter Head
Myron Carrier of Farmington, who last week was elected commander of the Oakland County Council, American Legion, served during the war in France. While overseas he served as a private in the 531st Field Artillery.

Accept Park
The offer made to Farmington Township of a five-acre park, to be located on Thirteen Mile Road, was accepted by the Farmington Township Board Tuesday evening. The tract is to be deeded to the township and will be partly maintained by the Playground and Recreation Association of America. It is probable that the park will be named Harmon Field, in honor of the Harmon Foundation.

TEN YEARS AGO (October 21, 1943)
Hunt Accident
The first casualty among hunters in this area in a long while was reported last Friday. Leo Fendt of 21825 Gill Road was hunting with his young son. A bird was scared up, and in the excitement of releasing the ruffed catch on his gun the boy accidentally pulled the trigger and hit his father through the thigh.

Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Orion H. Everett of Lake Orion celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 17. About 150 guests, including many friends and relatives from Farmington, attended the reception. The Everetts have fourteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Next Day
Plans are nearing completion for the observance of Navy Day in Farmington on Wednesday, October 27. A parade will form at the high school for a trip through town and a program will be held later in the gymnasium. The public relations department of the Navy is sending 120 feet of moving pictures, a speaker and a number of Waves to help present the Farmington program.

FIVE YEARS AGO (October 21, 1938)
Falcons Win
Farmington High's football team won its third straight game of the season Friday afternoon when they blanked Clarenceville 14 - 0 in a contest at Clarenceville. The Trojans threatened several times during the first half but it was in the second half that the Falcons made their two scores. Farmington made 12 first downs to Clarenceville's eight.

Jaycees Hear MSC Man
Harold Spohnzer, assistant dean of men at Michigan State College, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce on Monday.

Speed Limit
The Farmington City Commission has recommended to the State Highway Department that a 25 mile an hour speed zone be established on the Farmington Cut-Off within the city limits. It was announced this week. The city has recommended that the highway department make a survey of the cut-off and make recommendations.
