Word was received by the Board that the Woodbine Improvement Association, which had been asked to sell water to the school district for use in the Middlebelt School, would hold a discussion of the proposal at a meeting Wednesday night.

School Board Secretary Samuel Turner and Trustee Fayley Thomson were named to accompany Assistant Superintendent James Read in representing the school district before the Woodbine Association.

POLICE OFFICIALS ATTEND ROYAL OAK DEFENSE EXERCISE

Chief Joseph DeVriendt and Lt. Al Van Dell of the Farmington Police Department witnessed the evacuation of 200 Royal Oak school children during special civil defense exercises on Wednesday morning.

The evacuation of the children to Rochester was the first such test held in the State of Michigan. The second, fourth and fifth grades, representing a cross-section of students, were incorporated into the exercises. Brigadier General Lester M. Smith, State Director of Civil Defense, stated that the test not only trains the children on what to do in case of disaster, but provides a check on the efficiency of evacuation plans.

The Grayhound Bus Lines, Royal Oak, Clawson and Rochester police, as well as the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, escorted the children from Royal Oak to Rochester. The results of the test will form the basis for a county-wide evacuation system.

Members of the Livonia Health Guild visited the Northville State Hospital on West Seven Mile Road Thursday afternoon. In one of the dining rooms, previous to the program, a hearty luncheon was served. Dr. Philip Brown, superintendent, gave an interesting enlightening talk explaining aims and purposes of the institution. Later, the visitors were escorted on a tour through the building. Among our local women in attendance at this meeting were Mrs. Homer Coolman, Mrs. Geard Roberts, Mrs. Cecil Willet, Mrs. Stanley Chovey, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Opal Imeson, Mrs. O. R. Ault and Miss Freda Ault.

Mrs. Mayme Muir of Dearborn is spending the week end with her son, Arthur Muir, and his family on Shadydale Avenue.

WORK PROGRESSES ON ORCHARD LAKE ROAD PROJECT

Work on the widening and resurfacing of Orchard Lake Road is progressing rapidly with completion centered in the area between 10 and 11 Mile Roads this week.

A new concrete strip is being laid on the east side of the present pavement in preparation for the resurfacing operations. Also, section from Ten Mile Road to Grand River has been made ready for the widening. The entire project is to be completed by October 31. Max Frisling is the contractor of the portion of the project from Eleven Mile Road to Grand River.

The section from Eleven Mile to Fourteen Mile Roads was completed October 1.

STATE REPORTS LESS ARRESTS DURING AUGUST

Conservation law violations tapered off to 310 arrests during August, the lowest monthly total since April, the conservation department reports.

As during the last several months, fishing without a license proved the most common offense, and officers apprehended 129 persons fishing illegally. Also, 24 anglers were arrested for taking undersized game fish, 11 for fishing with more than two lines and 10 for making false statements in buying licensed fishing licenses. A total of 198 persons were on the increase during August, lowest in several months.

Hunting problems, however, were on the increase during August. Ninety persons were found violating hunting laws.

A public hearing will be held to hear any objections before the Zoning Board files its recommendations with the Township Board for final action.

The Board agreed to allow Mrs. H. R. Hanson to continue her dancing classes in the Town Hall for two months with the provision that she discontinue the Saturday morning class and consolidate into one Monday afternoon session. The action was taken as a result of objections from township employees concerning the noise. Mrs. Hanson stated that she had signed for the Hall and secured fees from parents for the classes with the understanding that she could use the Hall until May. She added that considerable time would be required to locate another place and to notify parents. A number of residents spoke of the important service Mrs. Hanson was performing for the children of Farmington through the dancing classes.

Annual Small Business Clinic Planned For Michigan State College Oct. 24, 25

Michigan men and women who are interested in starting their own business or who have problems with their existing businesses, will get help at the fourth annual Small Business Clinic to be held at Kellogg Center, Michigan State College, October 24 and 25.

The clinic, which will include talks by experts, general and workshop sessions, and exhibits of Michigan small businesses, is sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, the Continuing Education Service of the college and the Michigan Department of Economic Development.

Quality, marketability, laws, taxes, financing and advertising are among the many areas to be discussed.

Among the small business topics presented will be arts and crafts, agricultural and home-made and manufactured products, eating establishments, tourist and resort accommodations, secretarial services, insurance, investments, sewing and tailoring, convalescent homes, entertainment and letter, apparel, book, flower, food, confectionery and hobby shops.

Keynote addresses starting at 10:00 a.m. October 24 will be: "Know Yourself," by Carl Frost, industrial psychologist at the college; "Know Your Product," by Ken Fruth, the J. W. Rapp Co., Lansing; and "Know Your Market," by Oles Cook, managing director of the Michigan Retailers Association.

Workshop topics Saturday afternoon will include "A Business Through a Product," "A Business Through a Service," and "A Business Through a Shop."

Speakers at the general session Saturday afternoon will be Dr. Weeks, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Development; George Parfitt, of the U. S. Department of Commerce, Detroit; and William Head, of the University of Michigan.

Main addresses will be by Dr. Paul Bagwell, head of the department of communication skills at the college, who will talk at the Saturday banquet, and by Dr. Lyndon T. Jordan, past president of the Iowa Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who will be the Sunday luncheon speaker.

About twenty ladies of the Livonia Methodist W. C. S. met in the church at 1:00 p.m. Thursday. Following a business session, there was a social hour, during which Mrs. Marian Barrett and Mrs. Carol Conner, acting as hostesses, served tea and cake.

Freda Ault of Norfolk Avenue was calling on Mrs. Charles Haas near Redford Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunnam of Farmington Road returned home Friday from a visit of several days with the latter's brother, Seger Miller, in Traverse City. Mrs. Miller, who resides with her daughter, accompanied them on the trip and remained for a two week stay with her son.

Const. Guardsman Wayne Ault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ault of Mayfield Avenue, writes of his experiences on the Pacific island of Guam, where he expects to be on duty this winter. The population is of Spanish mixture. He has been privileged to attend some of their fiestas, and finds them good folks, even though so "old-fashioned" that chambermaids are considered a necessity at every date or social function.

HUNTERS EMPLOYED TO USE CAUTION — PREVENT FIRES

These fall days in Michigan woodlands that look so picturesque and so easily capture the fancy of birds and bird-hunters alike are also loaded with the potential wallop of a chunk of dynamite.

Old foresters know that spring and autumn are the two times when woodlands come out in most colorful glory, but they also know these two seasons are the most critical periods for fire.

Each fall, hunters are the most notorious foul balls as concerns fire, and in tinder dry woodlands single careless or thoughtless moments with campfires, tobacco or matches have often spelled long hours of choking, lung-searing labor for full crews of fire fighters.

Anyone who has ever fought a blaze in a forest knows from bitter experience that such a little thing as a cigarette butt can quickly become a flaming giant.

FINAL ACTION is also expected on five proposed ordinances which were introduced at the regular September Council meeting. The ordinances cover preservation of health, prevention of health regulations, nuisances, and regulations against possession of knives with mechanical opening devices.

The complete text of the proposed ordinance is published in this week's issue of The Farmington Enterprise. The other four proposed ordinances were published in the September 24 issue.

State Completes New Inmate Camp

Construction of a new 50-man inmate labor camp about 10 miles west of Traverse City is nearly complete, and work crews will be kept operating within a few weeks, the conservation department reports.

The camp is the ninth such unit to be set up in Michigan under the camp works program.

Conservation officials say inmates from the camp, officially known as Camp LeVetore, will work both at Traverse City and Interlochen state parks, in state forests nearby and in developing the state's fisheries program.

The campsite is located in a backwoods, wilderness area, miles removed from resort and summer homes in the region.

Buildings are being constructed of timber salvaged from a former CCC camp that had been located near Alpena.

Inmates will be carefully chosen for ability and past record from the southern Michigan Prison population. They will be under joint supervision of the state departments of correction and conservation.

Cage Hopefuls Report At U-D

University of Detroit basketball coach Bob Callahan welcomed 28 varsity candidates at the opening of cage drills last Monday.

Among the group were six lettermen and six prospects from last year's junior varsity squad. Returning veterans include forwards Guy Sparrow from Pontiac, Ken Fruth from Detroit, and Roger Duddleston of Chicago. At center Bob Decker and Ken Bizzard, both 6' 6", are back to share the pivot duties.

Digest problem for Callahan is the star guard where only Captain George Fettes returns this year. The big losses were Walter Poff, the highest scoring guard in the school's history, and Jerry Olaso, who signed a professional baseball contract last summer.

Among the leading sophomore prospects are guards Dan Halling from Chicago and Ralph Goldstein from Central High Detroit. These two were the leading scorers on the junior varsity last year. Assisting Callahan is former Titan Captain Jim Gieseler, who will also take over the freshman coaching duties when the junior varsity candidates report November 1.

The Titans open their home schedule December 1 against Kalamazoo College. The schedule includes such powers as St. Louis, Oklahoma A & M, Notre Dame, Tulsa, Bowling Green, Marquette and St. Bonaventure. Fifteen of the 28 games are on the road.

SEEMS KINDDA SILLY---

But there's this week; then next week; then Hallowe'en and right now we have a fair assortment of treats just in case you wanna gather somethin' in. For yer own small fry we got a hundering — 3 dozen oranges for a $1.00. That'd make a lotta orange juice — or wouldcha like 4 grapefruit fer just 35c? We got 'em at that figger. If yuh gotta pack a lunch wouldcha like to git 3 cans of Breast of Chicken green label tuna for a $1.00? Or does yer family like salmon salad better? We have some 1 lb. cans of red salmon fer 69c. Yuh know a little grated onion goes pretty good in those and when yuh git a 10 lb. bag fer 39c yuh can do a lot of onion gratin. Might grate some in some drrsin' and have a roasted chicken. We got some frozen ones we put away ourselves fer 59c a lb. What would go gooder with that than some Hubbard squash? We'll break 'em and you can have as much as yuh need fer 6c a lb. Or wouldcha like some corn puddin'? That's scalloped corn and 2 cans of Quaker cream style corn is 35c. Guess that's about all unless yer needin' some Crisco and that's 3 lbs. fer 39c and of course Vaseline butter fer 69c a lb. Hill's Brothers coffee is 89c a can this week end.

'Tis sed that good resolutions are like a screaming child — they should be carried out.
