

Falcons To Meet Bentley In Opener

The Farmington Falcon basketball team will take the floor tomorrow night to engage the Bentley Bulldogs in the opening of the cage season. The game will start at 7:00 p.m. and will be played on the Falcon floor.

The J. V.'s will play the first game, followed by the Varsity game which will be played about 9:00.

Both Farmington teams have been practicing for three weeks in preparation for this game and will take the floor with only one thing in mind: to beat Bentley, the team that beat the Varsity three times last year, twice in regular season play and once in tournament play. The J. V.'s did better, however, beating the Bulldogs both times they tangled.

The Falcons will go into this season trying to improve their last year's record of five victories and 11 defeats.

The boys who likely will see action tomorrow night are: Wayne Dryden, senior, captain; Jim Brewbaker, senior; Chuck Maki, senior; John McCaffrey, senior; Alan Alexander, senior; Phil Warriner, senior; Jerry Rice, junior; Ron Donoghue, junior; and John Fawcett, junior.

There will be a time dance following the game sponsored by the Student Council.

Falcon, Trojan Basketball Teams Open Court Season Tomorrow Night

The curtains will be raised on the 1953-54 basketball season this Friday night as both Farmington and Clarendonville move out onto their home courts to do battle with Bentley and South Lyon, respectively.

The Falcons, under coach Robert Butch, will meet a tough Bentley aggregation which has always provided stiff competition. Farmington play will be spearheaded by Captain Wayne Dryden, Jim Brewbaker, Chuck Maki, Alan Alexander and John McCaffrey, who saw limited service on the varsity last year but who compiled 212 points in junior varsity play.

Other players who will see action include Phil Warriner, Jerry Rice, Ron Donoghue and John Fawcett.

The Friday night game will be the first step by the Falcons in trying to improve their 1952-53 record of five wins and eleven losses.

The Clarendonville Trojans, under coach Arthur Orloske, are looking forward to a good season and are all set to meet tomorrow night's contest at a starter.

Returning letterman Tom Rutilla, who made all-league last year, Bill Myers, Clay Robbins, Pat Killean, Jim Galloway, Jim Merriams and Mel Koch will probably see the most action during the evening.

Game time for both contests is 7:00 p.m. with the junior varsities going first.

The Falcons face a 16-game schedule, with eight home games and the Trojans will play 15 tilts, with seven home games.

HUNTERS ADVISED TO USE CAUTION WITH RABBITS

See to it that the days you spend in hunting contribute to your good health. Dr. Joseph G. Moher, Detroit commissioner of health, advises. Both the exercise of tramping through the woods and the tranquility you find there should help relieve the tension caused by work and strain of city life.

Small game hunters should take precautions on two counts — safe practices with fire arms and precautions against accidents with guns should be thought through before the prospective hunter takes down his gun. These safety precautions should be adhered to religiously until he puts it away for the season.

Dr. Moher reminds hunters that many wild rabbits have tularemia and the disease is sometimes found in squirrels, beavers, muskrats and other rodents.

Don't shoot a rabbit that is obviously sick or one that is slow or indicates in any way that it is not a normal, wild rabbit.

Do not handle any rabbit that is found dead. Wear rubber gloves when you dress or handle wild rabbits and be sure they are not pierced by a bone or knife.

Make certain that wild rabbit is cooked thoroughly so that no red meat or red blood remains. Avoid testing the game while it is in the process of cooking.

Thorough cooking will destroy the germ that causes tularemia.

Any rabbit which has white spots on the liver should be destroyed.

Rabbits which are offered for sale in regular markets are safe to eat.

Irish - SMU Clash On TV Saturday

The Irish of Notre Dame — one of college football's great teams — will close the 1953 season in Notre Dame stadium Saturday afternoon, December 5, against the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University in a game to be seen by millions across the nation as the TV Football Game of the Week.

The 30-station, nationwide NBC network will carry the telecast starting at 1:15 p.m. (CST). Game time will be 2:00 p.m.

The Notre Dame - SMU clash will bring to a close the 1953 TV Game of the Week series.

While Coach Frank Leahy's Irish are favored to win Saturday's game, the wide spread style of play, changes and Coach Leahy's eagerness to win by the Mustangs from Dallas holds the possibility of an upset. An SMU victory would be one of 1953's greatest football achievements and Coach Chalmers Woodard is sure to have his charges fired up for a peak effort in this, their last game of the season.

Because most college teams have completed their regular schedules, all eyes of the football world will be on the Notre Dame - Southern Methodist game. The television audience for the game is expected to be the biggest ever to watch a regularly scheduled college football contest.

Mel Allen and Lindsey Nelson, NBC sportscasters, will do the play-by-play and color commentary for the game.

The Irish - Mustang game will complete a 12-week Game of the Week schedule during which all or parts of 35 college games in all sections of the nation have been televised since September 19.

Boot Hill Claims Rose Lake Rosie

Rosie been done in!

The aged matriarch bunny was toying along a trailway near one of her favorite haunts at Rose Lake wildlife station early last week when a hunter flattened her with a .22-caliber pistol slug.

'Twas a sad, sad afternoon at the station when word of the old girl's demise flashed from worker to worker.

They had known and chuckled over the old rabbit's antics for more than three years, during which time she attained national prominence with her wildlife carryings-on.

Maybe it was fate that in this 33rd year of the century Rosie should be sacked, or maybe she was just tired of it all and quite willing to give up the ghost. In any case, a check of the records indicated she had been live-trapped exactly 53 times since first caught and tagged in June, 1950.

In the interim, the old girl had given birth to so many youngsters that station workers can no longer be sure just exactly how large her family really was.

She outlived the entire global conflict of Korea and — more important to her — several hunting seasons.

She overcame numerous ailments during her years and mixed up the wildlife schedules, which said emphatically that she should have died of old age years ago.

She provided more information about herself and her mates and gave wildlife researchers more clues to cover, habitat and range than any other bunny in history. Had she been able, she probably would have echoed the words of one writer who, before death, noted that in life there's a time for living, a time for working, and a time for going.

Rosie had seen the pageant. She went.

Drummond Island Reports '53 Hunting Activity

Hunters brought 239 sharpshills during the grouse season on Drummond Island, a final report shows, the second best season in the past nine years.

Hunters took 261 of the birds in 1947.

Also, the archery deer kill on the island this year tied the record of 27 taken by archers in 1950. However, 148 archers hunted deer on the island this year, and only 128 hunted in 1950.

Giambra - Herring Bout Set Friday

Joey Giambra and Jimmy Herring, two rough, tough brawlers, clash in Madison Square Garden Friday night, December 4, in a ten round middleweight fight to be nationally telecast and broadcast on the Cavalcade of Sports.

Air time for the bout is 10:00 p.m. over the NBC television network and the ABS radio network.

Herring and Giambra are both 22 years old and are capable of ending a fight with a single blow.

Giambra, who holds a decision over the up and coming Joey Giambra, has had 36 fights, winning 34 with two losses. He has knocked out 19 of his opponents.

Herring has had twice as many professional fights as Giambra. In 72 bouts he has won 61 times, dropped nine and drawn twice. His kayo record stands at 23. Among his victims are Jimmy Flood and Sonny Horne.

The fight will have Jimmy Powers at the television microphone with Don Dunphy doing the radio blow-by-blow.

Weather Aids Hunting In Upper Peninsula

Rain, snow and colder weather has given new emphasis to deer hunting activity in the upper peninsula, conservation field officers report.

Workers at the Straits of Mackinac also note that, to date, more than 8,100 deer, 224 bear, five coyotes, three wolves, eight bobcats, and two foxes have been taken south out of the peninsula on hunters' cars. Last year at this date, hunters had returned with only 6200 deer, but with more of the other game and predator species.

The illegal kill in the peninsula is reported light and 334 arrests have been made to date, about on a par with last year.

From the northern lower peninsula, workers report recovering 184 deer and five elk, all killed illegally — a lighter than average total for this date. About 550 arrests have been made in the region to date, 20 per cent above last year.
