Open Letter To The Board of Education:

The American Association of University Women highly commend the Board of Education for trying to bring to Farmington adequate educational program. We continue to support you in your effort to obtain the best education for our children under the existing conditions.

We believe that the residents of Farmington are also interested in the welfare of the child. Therefore, they will want to provide more classrooms to alleviate the crowded conditions. They will want a school program that will provide ample art, music and physical education. They will not put economy above the education of their children.

Very truly yours,
Stella Koski, Ida Neal and Irma Benson, for AAUW.

Robby Jude of, Grosse Pointe was the Friday night and Saturday guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stange on Myfield Avenue.

Mr. Arthur Goss was called to his former home in Kentucky on Sunday by the serious illness of his mother.

Beverly Hamilton, Robert Benjamin
Wed December 27 In Coleman

Miss Beverly Jean Hamilton and Mr. Robert E. Benjamin were married at Coleman, Michigan, on Sunday, December 27, in a 3:00 p.m. ceremony. The Rev. Loyd Thornton read the double ring rites. Miss Hamilton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton of Coleman and Mr. Benjamin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. North Benjamin of Mackinac Island. High the bride and groom are teachers in the Farmington School District.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of chintilly patterned tulle. The strapless lace bodice of the gown was topped by a high collar and long fitted sleeves which fell in points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle was fastened with wide lace banding which ended in deep points in the front and back.

The bridal veil, of fingertip length, was created of French illusion and was held in place by satin headband and trimmed in deep pearls. The bride carried an arm bouquet of red roses. A maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Benjamin, sister of the groom, wore a ballerina length gown of grey-tulle over matching tulle. The bodice and skirt of her costume, which also featured a sweetheart neckline. Miss Benjamin carried a bouquet of white mums accented with red roses.

Gordon Hamilton, a brother of the bride, served as best man and Ronald Jackson of Farmington and Dennis McCarthy of Mt. Pleasant were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hamilton wore a grey dress and accessories, all of which were presented by her red carnation corsage. Mrs. Benjamin chose a brown costume and wore a yellow mum and rose corsage.

Miss Virginia Curley of Farmington served the wedding cake at a reception held in the church prior immediately after the ceremony.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to New York City, the new Mrs. Benjamin wore a beige suit and coat with brown accessories and bronze mum corsage.

Both graduates of Michigan State College, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin will reside in Farmington following their trip.

BAPTIST PASTOR
ON TWO-WEEK
LEAVE IN HAITI

Dr. Gordon Northrop of the First Baptist Church, Farmington, is spending two weeks on a missionary tour of the Republic of Haiti under the sponsorship of the local congregation. Mr. Northrop, an anthropology specialist and member of the Ebenezer Mission Council, is studying not only the mission methods now in practice but also the possibility of changing the area of work in Haiti to the east and north of Port-au-Prince. He is taking a series of stereograms giving a comprehensive view of the culture and physical background of the people. These 3-D pictures he plans to present to his people late in January. The pastor expects to return to the city this Friday and serve the Lord's Supper Sunday, January 17. Meeting new members in the church fellowship.

During the pastor's absence, Mr. Albert McDonald and Mr. Glenn Jones will be presiding at the Wednesday evening prayer services. Mr. Fred Moore, teacher of science in the Owosso High School, was guest speaker at all services Sunday, choosing as his theme for the day, "A Wise Man".

The New Year's Eve services Mr. Charles Murphy, Mr. Herschel Childress, and Mr. Glenn Jones had charge of the program with Mrs. Albert Moore planning the family night dinner.

Mrs. Donald Schachburg presented her annual church service on Sunday evening, December 27, using antiphonal music from the Bible, as well as English chorales and modern seasonal sacred selections. Wallace Seger, David Lund, and Mrs. Marjorie Sturman Gull were the featured soloists for the evening, while both the boys' and girls' choruses and the senior choir assisted in the program. The Misses Sue Andrews and Nancy Mitchell presented a piano duet; the girl's trio, Misses Janet Andrews, Nancy Mitchell and Joanne Mitchell, also took part in the program.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
SPEAKER SLATED
FOR JANUARY 8

Mrs. Doris Jones, president, opened the meeting and Mrs. Ray Shaw led in the singing of "The White Ribbon Rally Song". The United States, Christian and Temperance flags were saluted by the members, and Mrs. E. T. Hawley read, "Reasons for Belonging to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union".

Delicious refreshments were served following the meeting in which the hostesses were assisted by Mesdames Cromley, Tabb and Lancaster, Jr.

Despite the rise in popularity of the Diesel locomotive, more than 43% of all locomotives in use on U. S. Class 1 railroads at the end of 1952 were fired by coal.

Mrs. Grant Howard, who has been very sick, is getting along nicely.
