Schedule Special Parents' Course

Expectant parents in the Northwest section of Detroit will have an opportunity to attend a series of meetings entitled "Preparing for the Baby". The series will be sponsored by the Wayne County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health. In an announcement issued jointly by the Society and the Detroit Department of Health, a program has been scheduled for seven Tuesday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30, beginning April 6.

The purpose of the expectant parent meetings is to give couples a chance to discuss their plans and to learn about both physical and emotional facts concerning pregnancy, childbirth and infancy. A distinguished group of Detroit physicians and nurses address the meetings, answer questions and guide discussion.

For the past five years the Michigan Society for Mental Health has been conducting such programs in cooperation with the Detroit Chapter of the American Red Cross. So successful have these series been that it has been decided to establish neighborhood courses. Northwest Detroit has been selected as the site for the first such program.

The Northwest series will be held at the Northwest Health Center, 14585 Greenfield. The general chairman will be Benjamin Morris, M. D., a psychiatrist; Mary Burke, R.N., will be the discussion leader. Tickets may be secured by writing or phoning the Michigan Society for Mental Health, 153 E. Elizabeth Street, Detroit. The phone number is WEdward 1-1005.
