Franklinite To Address Organic Gardeners

John C. Hartmann, landscape gardener, of Franklin, will lead a discussion on "Planting and Care of the Garden" at the Thursday, April 8, meeting of the Organic Farm and Garden Club at Royal Oak High School.

Mr. Hartmann has long professed organic methods in growing ornamental plants as well as vegetables and fruits, making him well qualified to speak on the subject. He will be assisted by a colored sound film.

There will also be a brief report on the recent annual meeting of the Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan, at which the local club's treasurer, Mrs. Hildene Robinson, was elected re-ordinating secretary. The business meeting starts at 7:45 p.m.

The club meets regularly on the second Thursday of the month and welcomes all persons interested in the organic method of growing food.

Automobile manufacturers have discovered that nearly 50% of the persons who think they want to buy the less expensive models wind up buying the best car in the line.

After several days' illness, Miss Ann-Marie Wallman of Mayfield Avenue has returned to school.

Mrs. Russell Ault of Shady-side Avenue, who has been ill with a serious attack of flu, is somewhat improved.

Dear Sir: Saturday I had the pleasure of enjoying what I feel was the show of the year. I'm referring to the Scout-O-Iama. What a thrill to see the portrayal of the life of a Scout from a Cub at the age of eight through to Scoutmaster.

How interesting, enlightening, inspiring, refreshing! How nice to know there are adults who really are interested and give of their time.

I went for the opening and found it so interesting that I stayed for the closing.

May God bless the Scouting program and further it, its good for America. Fits in with God's plan.

Florence Shancor P. S. I noticed one had helped car his badge by air spotting. I believe he had served 100 hours.

Dr. Adams To Conclude Vesper Series Sunday

At a Vesper Service beginning at 4:30 p.m. on Palm Sunday at the Farmington Universalist Church, Dr. Frank D. Adams will present the third and last in a series of dramatic readings being sponsored by the Association of Universalist Women. As his final offering in the current series, Dr. Adams has chosen "The Green Pastures," the Pulitzer Prize play by Marc Connelly.

Based on the book, "Of Man Adam an' His Children" by Bradford, the play presents the story of the Bible as related simply and dramatically to Negroes, and is especially appropriate to the Easter season.

The program will include an organ recital by Evelyn Adams Costello, and will be followed by a tea in Adams Hall. The public is most cordially invited.

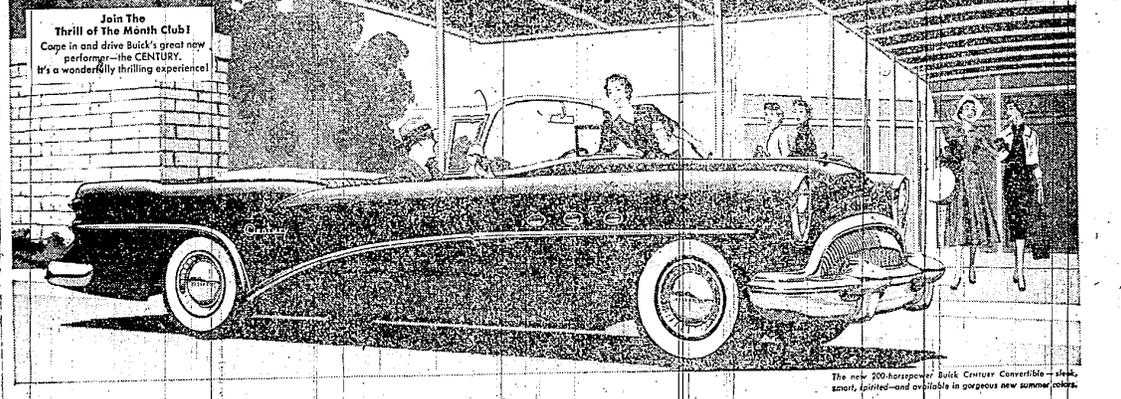

John Clappison Sells Insurance

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Easy Does It—Again!

Ladies Aid Society had their rummage sale the other night—and as soon as the doors opened, "Easy" Roberts was inside. Without a word, he headed straight for the coat counter, picked out a shabby old tweed jacket, and paid for it. "Easy" told me a little later that buying his jacket back was getting to be a regular habit. "That's been my favorite endgame jacket for years," he said. "And my wife talks me into giving it away regularly. Then I get to thinking how much I like it and hurry down to buy that jacket back. This is the third time I've done it!" From where I sit, everyone is entitled to his own like—whether it's a sports jacket, a baseball team, or the beverage he likes for dinner. For example, the wife I like coffee along with Saturday night spaghetti while I like a glass of beer. We never try to "sell" each other on our personal preferences. Joe Marsh
